Harriman Says 'No' to Tax Help

Governor-Elect Believes Such Aid Would Be Like 'Creeping Socialism'

Hudson, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman says he is opposed to any plan for granting tax concessions in order to lure new industry to job-hungry communities.

Such a practice "would be creeping socialism," Harriman declared here last night. "I am opposed to it."

Harriman made his views known in response to questions at a meeting of about 60 local businessmen and civic leaders. He came here on the last stop of his day-long swing through five upstate cities plagued by unemployment.

Earlier, Harriman and three economic advisors visited Schenectady, Amsterdam, and Gloversville, where he discussed the job situation also with representatives of neighboring Johnstown.

The governor-elect, who on Jan. 1 will head the first Democratic state administration in 12 years, was re-tracing the steps of an economic survey team he sent out last week to get what he called "a running start" on a program to combat unemployment. The surveyors had pronounced the unemployment situation in the five cities as "serious."

Harriman was asked at the meeting here whether he would seek legislation that would provide tax reductions for new industry so that it would be encouraged to settle in so-called distressed areas.

He replied:

"I am opposed to it. Every industry should pay its own share of taxes. If you do that, you are just putting the load on someone else. The Democrats have been accused of creeping socialism and that would be creeping socialism. I am opposed to it."

In Schenectady, Harriman told more than 100 industrial, labor, civic and business leaders that "our assistance to you will be in direct ratio to your own efforts."

"It is not far from Albany to Schenectady," he said, "and the door will always be open."

In Gloversville, Harriman expounded on a plan he favors—one he had suggested during the gubernatorial campaign—for attracting new industry to the state.

The state, he said, would set up a private corporation, fi-

Likely Successor Is for Red Trade

Tokyo, Dec. 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, the sly old fox who guided Japan's destinies through seven troubled postwar years, stepped down today in the face of overwhelming opposition from both the right and left.

His likely successor is Ichiro Hatoyama, a Conservative pro-American as is Yoshida. Unlike Yoshida, however, Hatoyama favors diplomatic relations and increased trade with Russia and Red China within a framework of friendship with the west.

THE DIET (Parliament) will vote tomorrow or Thursday on a new leader.

Yoshida and his cabinet resigned just hours before the Diet almost certainly would have toppled his government with a no-confidence vote. Hatoyama led the Conservative-Socialist coalition that introduced the no-confidence motion Sunday. The coalition controls about 253 votes in the powerful Lower House. Yoshida could muster but 185.

Until the revolt against him, Yoshida ruled the Diet with an iron hand, backed by a working majority in the Lower House. Hatoyama may find the road more difficult. He must depend to some extent on the Socialists, who said again today they would support him at least temporarily.

IF THE SOCIALISTS withdraw their support, the Japanese political kettle will probably boil over again.

The resignation may mean the end of the political trail for the 76-year-old Yoshida, who signed the San Francisco Peace Treaty for Japan and maintained close liaison with the western nations. He will remain a member of the Diet, but beyond that his future is cloudy.

The Stock market shot up immediately after the announcement that Yoshida was stepping aside. The action reflected the relief of business leaders who had feared that Yoshida would carry out his threat to dissolve the Diet and call an expensive national election in a fight to retain power.

Such an election probably would have hurt both Conservative factions and aided only the Socialists.

THE BUSINESSMEN who bankroll Yoshida's Liberal party, as well as many Liberal party leaders, have been urging Yoshida to resign. He held on through four hours of heated debate this morning, but finally threw in the towel.

Hatoyama has said there will be no change in Japan's relations with the United States if he is tapped for the prime minister's job.

He says he has a "fundamental conviction that Russia is never to be trusted," but he feels full diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia can "help avert war between the United States and Russia."

HATOYAMA, former education minister who sat out World War 2 in disfavor with the militarists, will be assuming the job about nine years behind schedule.

He is the original organizer of Yoshida's Liberal Party. He won the first postwar elections on a slogan of "Defend the Emperor, Defeat the Communists." As he was about to assume the post of prime minister, the occupation purged him from public life.

Yoshida took over for a short term, stepped aside for a while, and then was named again in October, 1948. The diminutive, cigar-smoking leader has run Japan ever since.

Senator McCarthy Assails President Eisenhower

Mitchell Is Opposed to Work Law

Surprise Stand Is Given in Speech

Los Angeles, Dec. 7 (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today came out flatly against state "right-to-work" laws outlawing labor contract provisions that workers must become union members.

The cabinet member's declaration that he was opposed "categorically" to such laws now in effect in 17 states, mostly in the south and west, came as a surprise in a speech prepared for the annual CIO convention.

Labor unions are as much or more concerned with getting such laws repealed and preventing enactment of new ones in other states as they are with changing or repealing the federal Taft-Hartley law.

BOTH THE CIO and AFL have outlined campaigns to have state Legislatures ditch the "right-to-work" laws next year. They generally make illegal any labor contract arrangement for the "union shop" or similar proviso requiring workers to join unions.

Mitchell, whose speech also conveyed "warm personal greetings" to the CIO from President Eisenhower, not only expressed opposition to the "right-to-work" laws, but practically invited their repeal by recommending that they be "further considered" by states.

"THEY WILL FIND that these laws do more harm than good," the labor secretary said. "In the first place, these 'right-to-work' laws do not create any jobs at all. In the second place, they result in undesirable and unnecessary limitations upon the freedom of working men and women and their employers to bargain collectively.

"Thirdly, they restrict union security and thereby undermine

Says 1952 Assurances 'Mistaken'

Statement Is Read During Hearing

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—In a slashing attack on President Eisenhower, Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) today accused the Chief Executive of congratulating senators who hold up the exposure of Communists and of urging tolerence for Chinese Communist who torture American soldiers.

McCarthy, who last week was condemned by the Senate for his conduct, interrupted a hearing of his Senate investigations subcommittee to read a statement which ended like this:

"UNFORTUNATELY the President sees fit to congratulate those who hold up the exposure of Communists in one breath and in the next breath urges patience, tolerance, and niceties to those who are torturing American uniformed men."

The White House declined comment on McCarthy's remarks.

McCarthy described his statement as "something of a temporary swan song" as chairman of the investigations subcommittee which he has headed since the Republicans captured control of Congress in 1952.

HE SAID that during that '52 campaign he, McCarthy, had spoken from coast to coast assuring people that if Eisenhower were to be elected president they could be sure of a vigorous fight to expose communism.

But, McCarthy added, he since has found "I was mistaken."

The senator said Eisenhower had congratulated both Sens. Watkins (R.-Utah) and Flanders (R.-Vt.). McCarthy said that both men were responsible in part for holding up his efforts to expose Communists.

Watkins was chairman of the special bipartisan Senate committee which unanimously recommended that McCarthy be censured for his conduct. Flanders was author of the original censure resolution.

"Our committee," McCarthy said, "has been held up now for approximately 10 months. The President of the United States has taken it upon himself to congratulate Sens. Flanders and Watkins who have been instrumental in holding up our work."

Only last Saturday Watkins conferred at the White House with Eisenhower and the President congratulated him for a "very splendid job" as chairman of the Censure Committee.

WHILE SAYING that on one hand Eisenhower had congratulated these senators McCarthy said that on the other hand Eisenhower "urges that we be patient with the Communist hoodlums who, as of this very moment, are torturing and brainwashing American uni-

States Ponder Truck Decision

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that states may not bar interstate truckers from their highways, even for repeated and illegal overloading.

And that decision set off a new round of discussion today on the effect of heavy trucks on the nation's highway system, and how to enforce weight limits imposed by states.

Two influentially-placed Democrats—Sen. Monroney (Okla.) and Rep. Harris (Ark.)—said the new Congress may consider giving states more police power. But a spokesman for the American trucking Associations said present laws are quite adequate.

The Supreme Court, in an Illinois case, declared that only the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) can grant permits to truck companies for traffic involving more than one state. And so, the court held, only the ICC can abridge that permit.

The 8-0 decision voided part of an Illinois law which provided that the state could suspend an interstate trucker from its highways for 90 days upon 10 loading violations, or one year and 90 days after another 10 violations.

THE COURT SAID that states, to enforce their weight limits, may (1) still impose fines or other penalties for violations, or (2) ask the ICC to take away the permit of habitual violators.

The opinion, written by Justice Black, said the ICC itself requires trucking firms to comply with proper state laws and regulations, so there is no reason why the ICC may not protect the state's interests on its own initiative or on complaint by the state. The court, he added, was "not persuaded" that usual penalty methods such as fines are inadequate to protect states from overweighted or improperly loaded trucks.

Illinois, joined by Indiana and the American Automobile Assn., had argued that loss of the state's power to suspend truckers from its highways would leave a state without sufficient means to compel compliance. State officials contended that trucking companies could make more than enough money off of excessive loads to pay for mere fines.

Peter T. Beardsley, director of the law department for the trucking associations, today called this a "ridiculous contention." He said fines and other penalties already provided in state law are more than ade-

Snow Upstate Hampers Traffic; Cold Continues

Albany, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two more days in the deep freeze were forecast for the state today, as the season's heaviest snowfall blanketed parts of northern, central and western New York.

Snow fell in northern New York atop a blanket of one to seven inches, and more was predicted for the Rochester area, where eight inches already was on the ground.

Corning, where a heavy snow was falling, reported in midmorning an accumulation of three inches, and traffic was slowed.

Roads in northern and western New York were slippery but passable, and state police advised caution.

IN THE LOWER Hudson river valley temperatues slumped slightly below zero overnight in some sections, and in the southern tier readings hovered around 10 above.

Nearly 3,500 pupils got a holiday when three schools just west of Syracuse closed their doors, the area's first snow-caused shutdowns of the season.

Syracuse had one inch of new snow overnight, making a total of four, but 12 inches were reported on the ground in Auburn, Weedsport and Fulton. Rochester had eight inches. The snow had been falling since Saturday.

SCHOOLS CLOSED were in Weedsport, Port Bryon and Cato-Merdian. State police reported hazardous driving conditions in Onondaga, Cayuga and Oswego counties. Points east of Syracuse reported only a trace of snow.

The mercury plummeted to zero or slightly below in the central and western sections of Rockland county overnight but jumped slightly over Monday's low readings in most of the upstate sectors.

Oneonta and Binghamton were cold spots with recordings of 7 and 9 above, respectively. The low temperature was 15 above at Massena on the New York-Canadian border.

The weather bureau predicted temperatures ranging from zero to 10 above for upstaters tonight, with scattered snow flurries likely. No appreciable

Jacksonville Has Freezing Weather

(By The Associated Press.)

Snow and rain ended in most areas but it was cold again today over the eastern half of the nation with freezing weather deep into the southland.

The cold Arctic air extended over most of the east and it was freezing or below as far south as northern Florida, southern Alabama and Mississippi. The frosty belt extended northwestward through Oklahoma into Colorado and Wyoming. It was one degree colder in Raleigh, N. C., than in Chicago, a frosty 20 above.

The coldest weather was in the midwest with below zero temperatures in Michigan, -12 at Pellston and -7 at Grand Marais.

IT WAS 28 degrees—4 degrees below freezing—at Jacksonville, Fla., 44 degrees below yesterday morning's low mark. However, the general range of temperatures in the area was 15 to 25 degrees below yesterday. New York this morning reported its lowest reading of the season, 15.7 above.

The minimum at Charleston, S. C., was 25. The mercury dropped to 6 above in Frederick county, central Maryland. At

Fear Is Felt For Life of Taxi Driver

Silver Describes Plot as Diabolical

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Fear was expressed today for the life of a taxi driver who exposed an alleged murder-for-profit plot of three Bronx women against the husband of one of them.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis Silver, opposing bail reduction for two of the women, also voiced fear for "a sister of one of the defendants" and said he is still worried about the intended victim as well.

Silver did not name the sister. The taxi driver is Fred Bezer, 34.

Central Says Loss $326 on Each Person

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad, in announcing plans to drop passenger service on its West Shore Division, said yesterday it loses $326 annually on each commuter carried.

The company announcement confirmed last week's statement by Central President Alfred E. Perlman that the railroad was considering abandoning the commuter rides on the West Shore and Putnam divisions.

The Putnam runs from the Bronx through Westchester and Putnam counties up the east side of the Hudson river. There was no reference to that division in the company announcement yesterday.

Playboy Is Given Term for Robbery

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—Debonair Harold Lough White, long a dashing figure in the gilded high society of London's Mayfair district, was sentenced yesterday to seven years in prison as a safeblower.

The 46-year-old playboy, who was on first name terms with many socialites, was exposed by police witnesses as a big time thief known to admiring underworld associates as "Peter the Plotter."

Sentenced with Lough White was in "intelligence officer," Gordon Simpson, 35, who drew a six-year term. An insurance broker, Simpson tipped the mas-

Tocks Will Names Institutions in City and Hurley

Bequests totaling $7,700 were allocated among area religious, medical and educational agencies under the terms of the will of Lester A. Tocks of Hurley, admitted to probate on Monday.

Tocks, 51, president of Stuyvesant Motors, Inc., died November 16, 1954. He came to this area in 1952 as distributor in Ulster county for Cadillac Motors Division of General Motors, and also took over the Oldsmobile agency. He had been active in civic affairs both in Kingston and in Hurley.

Kingston Hospital and Our Lady of Victory Sanitarium, Inc., (Benedictine Hospital) were named as recipients of bequests of $2,500 each under terms of the will, in which it was stated as a wish that the bequests be used to purchase hospital equipment.

A bequest of $1,000 was made to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic Foundation, Inc.

BEQUESTS OF $500 each were allocated to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church of Kingston, the Hurley Reformed Church, and the Board of Education of the Hurley Union Free School District No. 4.

In the case of the Hurley school district, the will directed the sum to be used for the purchase of gymnasium and/or playground equipment and that the sum be expended "within six months after the receipt thereof."

(Prior to his death, Col. Tocks had shown much interest in a recreation program for children of Hurley, having last summer provided the services of a qualified director to carry out the program.)

An additional bequest of $200 was made to the Rip Van Winkle Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, to be used for the purchase of equipment for Hurley Boy Scout Troop No. 20, the pur-

60 Persons Are At Ulster Hearing

Approximately 60 persons attended a public hearing in the town of Ulster Monday night on proposed rules and regulations for the town's new Planning Board.

Richard Slocum of Albany, of the Bureau of Planning, New York State Department of Commerce, was present and explained the application of subdivision control regulations such as those projected for the town of Ulster.

WILLIAM PRETSCH, chairman of the planning board, presided at the hearing, held at the town highway building.

During a discussion period, many of those present asked for information on various points, but no objection to adoption of the rules was voiced, Pretsch reported.

The proposed rules and regulations next will be presented to the town board of the town of Ulster and will become effective if and when that board adopts them.

Pope Takes Nourishment; Doctor Says All Goes Well

Vatican City, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pope Pius XII's private physician said the ailing Pontiff was able to take more nourishment today and that "all goes well."

Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi reported the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church passed a tranquil night. A nun and a physician remained in attendance throughout the night.

The Pope has been regaining strength slowly during three days of revised treatment. A reliable Vatican source said his sleep was "interrupted two or three times" last night but he was able to rest fairly well.

It was the fourth night in a row in which the Pope's sleep was described in such terms. But Vatican sources emphasized the Pontiff remained in a serious, though not desperate, condition following his serious collapse last Thursday.

Specialists began a new course of treatment last Saturday to relieve the Pope's gastric ailment and build up his strength. It consists of the administration of blood plasma, liver extracts, vitamins, amino acids and—since Sunday—small quantities of broth by mouth.

Yesterday the Pontiff took broth three times. Except for a few sips Sunday, he had not taken food by mouth for a week.

Shandaken Church Holds Its 100th Anniversary

A committee chosen by the Classis of Ulster held a meeting at the Reformed Dutch Church in the town of Shandaken on April 3, 1854, and there organized the Shandaken Dutch Reformed Church which is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its organization this year.

The present church is located at Mt. Tremper where on Sunday, December 11, special services will be held in observance of the anniversary. At 4 p. m. there will be an informal reception in the church hall followed by a cafteria supper at 6 o'clock to the members of the church and past members of the church who may have left the area. A special invitation is being extended to past members to be present at the services and have a part in the celebration of the completion of a century of service to the community.

The Rev. Harvey I. Todd of Woodstock who is the regular stated supply at the church, has served that church for the past fourteen years.

Participating in the anniversary service will be the Rev. Daniel Y. Brink, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Scotia, N. Y., whose father, the Rev. Henry Brink, served the church as its pastor during the years 1906 through 1914.

The Rev. Daniel Y. Brink is vice president of the General

60 Persons Are At Ulster Hearing

Approximately 60 persons attended a public hearing in the town of Ulster Monday night on proposed rules and regulations for the town's new Planning Board.

Richard Slocum of Albany, of the Bureau of Planning, New York State Department of Commerce, was present and explained the application of subdivision control regulations such as those projected for the town of Ulster.

WILLIAM PRETSCH, chairman of the planning board, presided at the hearing, held at the town highway building.

During a discussion period, many of those present asked for information on various points, but no objection to adoption of the rules was voiced, Pretsch reported.

The proposed rules and regulations next will be presented to the town board of the town of Ulster and will become effective if and when that board adopts them.

Snow Upstate Hampers Traffic; Cold Continues

Albany, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two more days in the deep freeze were forecast for the state today, as the season's heaviest snowfall blanketed parts of northern, central and western New York.

Snow fell in northern New York atop a blanket of one to seven inches, and more was predicted for the Rochester area, where eight inches already was on the ground.

Corning, where a heavy snow was falling, reported in midmorning an accumulation of three inches, and traffic was slowed.

Roads in northern and western New York were slippery but passable, and state police advised caution.

IN THE LOWER Hudson river valley temperatues slumped slightly below zero overnight in some sections, and in the southern tier readings hovered around 10 above.

Nearly 3,500 pupils got a holiday when three schools just west of Syracuse closed their doors, the area's first snow-caused shutdowns of the season.

Syracuse had one inch of new snow overnight, making a total of four, but 12 inches were reported on the ground in Auburn, Weedsport and Fulton. Rochester had eight inches. The snow had been falling since Saturday.

SCHOOLS CLOSED were in Weedsport, Port Bryon and Cato-Merdian. State police reported hazardous driving conditions in Onondaga, Cayuga and Oswego counties. Points east of Syracuse reported only a trace of snow.

The mercury plummeted to zero or slightly below in the central and western sections of Rockland county overnight but jumped slightly over Monday's low readings in most of the upstate sectors.

Oneonta and Binghamton were cold spots with recordings of 7 and 9 above, respectively. The low temperature was 15 above at Massena on the New York-Canadian border.

The weather bureau predicted temperatures ranging from zero to 10 above for upstaters tonight, with scattered snow flurries likely. No appreciable

Jacksonville Has Freezing Weather

(By The Associated Press.)

Snow and rain ended in most areas but it was cold again today over the eastern half of the nation with freezing weather deep into the southland.

The cold Arctic air extended over most of the east and it was freezing or below as far south as northern Florida, southern Alabama and Mississippi. The frosty belt extended northwestward through Oklahoma into Colorado and Wyoming. It was one degree colder in Raleigh, N. C., than in Chicago, a frosty 20 above.

The coldest weather was in the midwest with below zero temperatures in Michigan, -12 at Pellston and -7 at Grand Marais.

IT WAS 28 degrees—4 degrees below freezing—at Jacksonville, Fla., 44 degrees below yesterday morning's low mark. However, the general range of temperatures in the area was 15 to 25 degrees below yesterday. New York this morning reported its lowest reading of the season, 15.7 above.

The minimum at Charleston, S. C., was 25. The mercury dropped to 6 above in Frederick county, central Maryland. At

Silver Describes Plot as Diabolical

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Fear was expressed today for the life of a taxi driver who exposed an alleged murder-for-profit plot of three Bronx women against the husband of one of them.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis Silver, opposing bail reduction for two of the women, also voiced fear for "a sister of one of the defendants" and said he is still worried about the intended victim as well.

Silver did not name the sister. The taxi driver is Fred Bezer, 34.

Central Says Loss $326 on Each Person

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad, in announcing plans to drop passenger service on its West Shore Division, said yesterday it loses $326 annually on each commuter carried.

The company announcement confirmed last week's statement by Central President Alfred E. Perlman that the railroad was considering abandoning the commuter rides on the West Shore and Putnam divisions.

The Putnam runs from the Bronx through Westchester and Putnam counties up the east side of the Hudson river. There was no reference to that division in the company announcement yesterday.

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—Debonair Harold Lough White, long a dashing figure in the gilded high society of London's Mayfair district, was sentenced yesterday to seven years in prison as a safeblower.

The 46-year-old playboy, who was on first name terms with many socialites, was exposed by police witnesses as a big time thief known to admiring underworld associates as "Peter the Plotter."

Sentenced with Lough White was in "intelligence officer," Gordon Simpson, 35, who drew a six-year term. An insurance broker, Simpson tipped the mas-

Pope Takes Nourishment; Doctor Says All Goes Well

Vatican City, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pope Pius XII's private physician said the ailing Pontiff was able to take more nourishment today and that "all goes well."

Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi reported the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church passed a tranquil night. A nun and a physician remained in attendance throughout the night.

The Pope has been regaining strength slowly during three days of revised treatment. A reliable Vatican source said his sleep was "interrupted two or three times" last night but he was able to rest fairly well.

It was the fourth night in a row in which the Pope's sleep was described in such terms. But Vatican sources emphasized the Pontiff remained in a serious, though not desperate, condition following his serious collapse last Thursday.

Specialists began a new course of treatment last Saturday to relieve the Pope's gastric ailment and build up his strength. It consists of the administration of blood plasma, liver extracts, vitamins, amino acids and—since Sunday—small quantities of broth by mouth.

Yesterday the Pontiff took broth three times. Except for a few sips Sunday, he had not taken food by mouth for a week.

Shandaken Church Holds Its 100th Anniversary

A committee chosen by the Classis of Ulster held a meeting at the Reformed Dutch Church in the town of Shandaken on April 3, 1854, and there organized the Shandaken Dutch Reformed Church which is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its organization this year.

The present church is located at Mt. Tremper where on Sunday, December 11, special services will be held in observance of the anniversary. At 4 p. m. there will be an informal reception in the church hall followed by a cafteria supper at 6 o'clock to the members of the church and past members of the church who may have left the area. A special invitation is being extended to past members to be present at the services and have a part in the celebration of the completion of a century of service to the community.

The Rev. Harvey I. Todd of Woodstock who is the regular stated supply at the church, has served that church for the past fourteen years.

Participating in the anniversary service will be the Rev. Daniel Y. Brink, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Scotia, N. Y., whose father, the Rev. Henry Brink, served the church as its pastor during the years 1906 through 1914.

The Rev. Daniel Y. Brink is vice president of the General

Governor-Elect Believes Such Aid Would Be Like 'Creeping Socialism'

Hudson, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman says he is opposed to any plan for granting tax concessions in order to lure new industry to job-hungry communities.

Such a practice "would be creeping socialism," Harriman declared here last night. "I am opposed to it."

Harriman made his views known in response to questions at a meeting of about 60 local businessmen and civic leaders. He came here on the last stop of his day-long swing through five upstate cities plagued by unemployment.

Earlier, Harriman and three economic advisors visited Schenectady, Amsterdam, and Gloversville, where he discussed the job situation also with representatives of neighboring Johnstown.

The governor-elect, who on Jan. 1 will head the first Democratic state administration in 12 years, was re-tracing the steps of an economic survey team he sent out last week to get what he called "a running start" on a program to combat unemployment. The surveyors had pronounced the unemployment situation in the five cities as "serious."

Harriman was asked at the meeting here whether he would seek legislation that would provide tax reductions for new industry so that it would be encouraged to settle in so-called distressed areas.

He replied:

"I am opposed to it. Every industry should pay its own share of taxes. If you do that, you are just putting the load on someone else. The Democrats have been accused of creeping socialism and that would be creeping socialism. I am opposed to it."

In Schenectady, Harriman told more than 100 industrial, labor, civic and business leaders that "our assistance to you will be in direct ratio to your own efforts."

"It is not far from Albany to Schenectady," he said, "and the door will always be open."

In Gloversville, Harriman expounded on a plan he favors—one he had suggested during the gubernatorial campaign—for attracting new industry to the state.

The state, he said, would set up a private corporation, fi-

Likely Successor Is for Red Trade

Tokyo, Dec. 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, the sly old fox who guided Japan's destinies through seven troubled postwar years, stepped down today in the face of overwhelming opposition from both the right and left.

His likely successor is Ichiro Hatoyama, a Conservative pro-American as is Yoshida. Unlike Yoshida, however, Hatoyama favors diplomatic relations and increased trade with Russia and Red China within a framework of friendship with the west.

THE DIET (Parliament) will vote tomorrow or Thursday on a new leader.

Yoshida and his cabinet resigned just hours before the Diet almost certainly would have toppled his government with a no-confidence vote. Hatoyama led the Conservative-Socialist coalition that introduced the no-confidence motion Sunday. The coalition controls about 253 votes in the powerful Lower House. Yoshida could muster but 185.

Until the revolt against him, Yoshida ruled the Diet with an iron hand, backed by a working majority in the Lower House. Hatoyama may find the road more difficult. He must depend to some extent on the Socialists, who said again today they would support him at least temporarily.

IF THE SOCIALISTS withdraw their support, the Japanese political kettle will probably boil over again.

The resignation may mean the end of the political trail for the 76-year-old Yoshida, who signed the San Francisco Peace Treaty for Japan and maintained close liaison with the western nations. He will remain a member of the Diet, but beyond that his future is cloudy.

The Stock market shot up immediately after the announcement that Yoshida was stepping aside. The action reflected the relief of business leaders who had feared that Yoshida would carry out his threat to dissolve the Diet and call an expensive national election in a fight to retain power.

Such an election probably would have hurt both Conservative factions and aided only the Socialists.

THE BUSINESSMEN who bankroll Yoshida's Liberal party, as well as many Liberal party leaders, have been urging Yoshida to resign. He held on through four hours of heated debate this morning, but finally threw in the towel.

Hatoyama has said there will be no change in Japan's relations with the United States if he is tapped for the prime minister's job.

He says he has a "fundamental conviction that Russia is never to be trusted," but he feels full diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia can "help avert war between the United States and Russia."

HATOYAMA, former education minister who sat out World War 2 in disfavor with the militarists, will be assuming the job about nine years behind schedule.

He is the original organizer of Yoshida's Liberal Party. He won the first postwar elections on a slogan of "Defend the Emperor, Defeat the Communists." As he was about to assume the post of prime minister, the occupation purged him from public life.

Yoshida took over for a short term, stepped aside for a while, and then was named again in October, 1948. The diminutive, cigar-smoking leader has run Japan ever since.

Senator McCarthy Assails President Eisenhower

Mitchell Is Opposed to Work Law

Surprise Stand Is Given in Speech

Los Angeles, Dec. 7 (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today came out flatly against state "right-to-work" laws outlawing labor contract provisions that workers must become union members.

The cabinet member's declaration that he was opposed "categorically" to such laws now in effect in 17 states, mostly in the south and west, came as a surprise in a speech prepared for the annual CIO convention.

Labor unions are as much or more concerned with getting such laws repealed and preventing enactment of new ones in other states as they are with changing or repealing the federal Taft-Hartley law.

BOTH THE CIO and AFL have outlined campaigns to have state Legislatures ditch the "right-to-work" laws next year. They generally make illegal any labor contract arrangement for the "union shop" or similar proviso requiring workers to join unions.

Mitchell, whose speech also conveyed "warm personal greetings" to the CIO from President Eisenhower, not only expressed opposition to the "right-to-work" laws, but practically invited their repeal by recommending that they be "further considered" by states.

"THEY WILL FIND that these laws do more harm than good," the labor secretary said. "In the first place, these 'right-to-work' laws do not create any jobs at all. In the second place, they result in undesirable and unnecessary limitations upon the freedom of working men and women and their employers to bargain collectively.

"Thirdly, they restrict union security and thereby undermine

Says 1952 Assurances 'Mistaken'

Statement Is Read During Hearing

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—In a slashing attack on President Eisenhower, Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) today accused the Chief Executive of congratulating senators who hold up the exposure of Communists and of urging tolerence for Chinese Communist who tortue American soldiers.

McCarthy, who last week was condemned by the Senate for his conduct, interrupted a hearing of his Senate investigations subcommittee to read a statement which ended like this:

"UNFORTUNATELY the President sees fit to congratulate those who hold up the exposure of Communists in one breath and in the next breath urges patience, tolerance, and niceties to those who are torturing American uniformed men."

The White House declined comment on McCarthy's remarks.

McCarthy described his statement as "something of a temporary swan song" as chairman of the investigations subcommittee which he has headed since the Republicans captured control of Congress in 1952.

HE SAID that during that '52 campaign he, McCarthy, had spoken from coast to coast assuring people that if Eisenhower were to be elected president they could be sure of a vigorous fight to expose communism.

But, McCarthy added, he since has found "I was mistaken."

The senator said Eisenhower had congratulated both Sens. Watkins (R.-Utah) and Flanders (R.-Vt.). McCarthy said that both men were responsible in part for holding up his efforts to expose Communists.

Watkins was chairman of the special bipartisan Senate committee which unanimously recommended that McCarthy be censured for his conduct. Flanders was author of the original censure resolution.

"Our committee," McCarthy said, "has been held up now for approximately 10 months. The President of the United States has taken it upon himself to congratulate Sens. Flanders and Watkins who have been instrumental in holding up our work."

Only last Saturday Watkins conferred at the White House with Eisenhower and the President congratulated him for a "very splendid job" as chairman of the Censure Committee.

WHILE SAYING that on one hand Eisenhower had congratulated these senators McCarthy said that on the other hand Eisenhower "urges that we be patient with the Communist hoodlums who, as of this very moment, are torturing and brainwashing American uni-

States Ponder Truck Decision

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that states may not bar interstate truckers from their highways, even for repeated and illegal overloading.

And that decision set off a new round of discussion today on the effect of heavy trucks on the nation's highway system, and how to enforce weight limits imposed by states.

Two influentially-placed Democrats—Sen. Monroney (Okla.) and Rep. Harris (Ark.)—said the new Congress may consider giving states more police power. But a spokesman for the American trucking Associations said present laws are quite adequate.

The Supreme Court, in an Illinois case, declared that only the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) can grant permits to truck companies for traffic involving more than one state. And so, the court held, only the ICC can abridge that permit.

The 8-0 decision voided part of an Illinois law which provided that the state could suspend an interstate trucker from its highways for 90 days upon 10 loading violations, or one year and 90 days after another 10 violations.

THE COURT SAID that states, to enforce their weight limits, may (1) still impose fines or other penalties for violations, or (2) ask the ICC to take away the permit of habitual violators.

The opinion, written by Justice Black, said the ICC itself requires trucking firms to comply with proper state laws and regulations, so there is no reason why the ICC may not protect the state's interests on its own initiative or on complaint by the state. The court, he added, was "not persuaded" that usual penalty methods such as fines are inadequate to protect states from overweighted or improperly loaded trucks.

Illinois, joined by Indiana and the American Automobile Assn., had argued that loss of the state's power to suspend truckers from its highways would leave a state without sufficient means to compel compliance. State officials contended that trucking companies could make more than enough money off of excessive loads to pay for mere fines.

Peter T. Beardsley, director of the law department for the trucking associations, today called this a "ridiculous contention." He said fines and other penalties already provided in state law are more than ade-

Tocks Will Names Institutions in City and Hurley

Bequests totaling $7,700 were allocated among area religious, medical and educational agencies under the terms of the will of Lester A. Tocks of Hurley, admitted to probate on Monday.

Tocks, 51, president of Stuyvesant Motors, Inc., died November 16, 1954. He came to this area in 1952 as distributor in Ulster county for Cadillac Motors Division of General Motors, and also took over the Oldsmobile agency. He had been active in civic affairs both in Kingston and in Hurley.

Kingston Hospital and Our Lady of Victory Sanitarium, Inc., (Benedictine Hospital) were named as recipients of bequests of $2,500 each under terms of the will, in which it was stated as a wish that the bequests be used to purchase hospital equipment.

A bequest of $1,000 was made to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic Foundation, Inc.

BEQUESTS OF $500 each were allocated to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church of Kingston, the Hurley Reformed Church, and the Board of Education of the Hurley Union Free School District No. 4.

In the case of the Hurley school district, the will directed the sum to be used for the purchase of gymnasium and/or playground equipment and that the sum be expended "within six months after the receipt thereof."

Miss Weiss Wins School Contest

Angela Weiss, daughter of Frank Weiss, 47 Hoffman street, won the Kingston High School competition in the Voice of Democracy contest last night.

Donald Ashdown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ashdown, 11 Wrentham street, was declared alternate.

Others in the competition were Peter Cain, Jerry Levinson and Edith Werner.

Judges were Superintendent of Education Arthur J. Laidlaw, KHS Principal Theron L. Culver, Mrs. Mildred DeWitt, Miss May Quimby and Dorothy Narel.

Miss Weiss will compete in the Ulster county elimination contest at 8:45 a. m. Friday at Kingston High School. The contest will be held at morning assembly in the auditorium.

Girl, 18, Is Held For Grand Jury

Margaret Anne Robbins, 18, of 20 Cedar street, waived preliminary examiantion on a charge of second degree forgery in city court this morning and was held by Special Judge Harry Gold for the grand jury.

It is charged that the defendant took a Christmas Club check of $50 from a neighbor's mailbox, forged the name and used it to pay for a dress at London's on North Front street. The remainder was spent for other smaller items, it is alleged.

She was arrested by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons at 2:30 p. m. Friday. Attorney William Brinnier represents the defendant. Attorney John Gotelli appeared in city court this morning for the district attorney's office.

Late Bulletin

New Orleans, Dec. 7 (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters reported the cutter Cartigan picked up seven survivors and three bodies of crewmen aboard the sunken tug Bertha R today, but said another crewman is still missing.

The Coast Guard said the missing crewman did not get on a raft after the tug went down in the choppy waters of the Gulf of Mexico about 90 miles southwest of Apalachicola, Fla.

They said the search by planes and ships would continue for the missing man.

No names were immediately available.

Separation Letter Is Talked Over

Cleveland, Dec. 7 (AP)—A letter about possible separation of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and his wife Marilyn was discussed briefly today before the jury in the young osteopath's murder trial. But the contents were not read.

This was the second consecutive day when the prosecution asked members of the Sheppard family whether the possibility of separation and divorce had arisen between Dr. Sheppard and Marilyn.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, a brother of Samuel, was on the witness stand and cross-examination brought out the existence of the letter.

BUT DEFENSE attorneys succeeded in blocking further testimony at that point, on the ground the witness did not know what the letter said.

Dr. Samuel Sheppard is being tried on a charge of first degree murder. He is accused of hacking his wife to death in their Bay Village home in the early hours of last July 4.

The letter was written by Dr. Richard Sheppard's wife Dorothy, who is under subpoena as a later witness. At an inquest last July, she mentioned writing a letter to Marilyn Sheppard on Aug. 28, 1950. She did not describe the contents, but intimated she was counseling her sister-in-law "like a big sister."

ASSISTANT Prosecutor John J. Mahon returned to the subject of marital strife today in cross-examing Dr. Richard. The witness said he never heard anything "of any major character" on that subject.

He said Dr. Sam and Marilyn had minor arguments on Christmas and Thanksgiving, as to where they would spend the holidays—with his family or hers. They usually compromised, he said.

Householder Is To Leave Post

Glen M. Householder, for 16 years director of extension for The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, will terminate his service in that capacity on Feb. 1, and will take up new responsibilities under the title of special representative. His successor as director of extension has not been announced.

Householder was presented with a gold watch and photo montage signed by each member of the board at a dinner in his honor held in connection with the association's mid-year meeting at Brattleboro, Vt., on Dec. 1. It was noted then that he traveled an average of 75,000 miles yearly in connection with his duties.

Mistrial Declared

A juror was withdrawn and a mistrial declared this morning by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Supreme Court in the partially tried action brought by John Corelli against James G. Hewett, a negligence action growing out of a collision at Port Ewen on November 6, 1953. Richter and Werbalowsky appeared for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant. The mistrial was granted on consent of counsel for both parties when it developed an action had been commenced in Albany county prior to the action brought in Ulster county.

Robins in Knoxville

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—A group of 150 robins are wintering here. "One of my neighbors fed them some hard bread and they just made themselves at home," says A. H. Miller telling of the birds in his back yard. Most robins find Knoxville isn't far enough south in winter.

There will be a short business meeting for election of officers, at which time parents may ask any questions they desire, followed by an inspection of school facilities.

Teachers on the faculty have been invited by the association to attend in order to meet parents.

Shokan

Shokan, Dec. 7—Kay Holm, Quarryville antiques dealer and rug weaver, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday.

Ralph Elefant, Ashokan young man, is a first year student at Albany Teachers College.

Mrs. Robert Longyear, who with her husband and children has resided in Mexico City the past two year, is reported to have won the women's second flight golf championship of the Mexican capital. She is the former Marian Davis of West Shokan. Jean Longyears, Brooklyn resident and sister of Robert, has been spending a month with the Longyears.

Mrs. Abram Wilber whose funeral was held in Kingston Tuesday was brought up in the old village of Brodhead where her father, John J. Boice, was superintendent of the bluestone dock. The former Edna Boice was a granddaughter of William V. Boice, one of Olive's foremost industrials, and a niece of Hewitt and Peter Boice who were prominent in the bluestone industry of Ulster county 60 years and more ago.

Mrs. Arlington Vischer of Grahamsville was a Shokan caller Thursday. A native of Kingston, Mrs. Vischer taught music in the schools before her marriage.

Members of the Ashokan Methodist WSCS are now embarked upon a 'Dollar Talent Project' as the means of raising a minimum contribution of $25 to the Onteora council of religious education. Each woman was given a dollar from the club treasury which she is to invest for increase before the termination of the project on January 5. The public is invited to contact one or more of the members with a view to buying Christmas gifts and incidentally help along a worthy religious movement.

Walden Man Injured

William Vredenburg of 28 Oak street, Walden, was injured about 4 a. m. today when his automobile struck a concrete bridge post on Route 208 south of New Paltz, according to a state police report. Vredenburg's condition was listed as 'good" at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie early this afternoon.

Saugerties

Tree Lighting Is Set for Friday

Saugerties, Dec. 7 — The official lighting of the Memory Christmas Tree whch will be erected in the park opposite the Saugerties High School is scheduled to coincide with the ceremonies to be held in conjunction with the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade and kiddie party on Friday evening.

The Christmas parade will halt at Cantine Memorial Park on its route to the municipal building for the special lighting ceremonies of the tree sponsored by the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens.

The project of the Memory Tree is made possible by one dollar donations of individual citizens who purchased a bulb in memory of a departed loved one.

Charman of the project is Mrs. Richard B. Overbaugh.

Church Dedicates Memorial Gift

Saugerties, Dec. 7—A dedication ceremony was held Sunday for the second gift of the Irene Schlenger Memorial to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. The special ceremony was held during the regular 11 a. m. worship service in the church.

The first gift, a lectern Bible, was dedicated and placed on the lectern which appropriately enough is located adjacent to the choir seat occupied by the late Mrs. Schlenker before her death in May.

Both gifts were made possible by the congregation and friends who on their own initiative expressed their desire to give to the fund which became known as the Irene Schlenker Memorial Fund.

Following the first dedication continued contributions to the memorial fund indicated that an additional memorial should be presented.

In consultation with the family of the deceased a pair of brass floor candelabra was chosen for the added memorial. The candelabra was placed on either side of the altar of the church.

West Camp Date Set for Meeting

Saugerties, Dec. 7—The church council of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp at the regular meeting held Sunday night in the parish hall announced plans for the annual meeting.

The annual congregational meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 23, starting at 7 p. m.

The agenda of the session will include the pastor's report, reports of officers and committees and the annual election of councilmen.

Following the meeting a 30-minute sound motion picture will be presented and refreshments will be served.

Another innovation at the church will be vote of confidence for the pastor Sunday to be conducted Dec. 12 during the regular 11 a. m. worship service. The church council is mailing invitations asking all members of the congregation to show their loyalty to the pastor, the Rev. Henry M. Schumann by attending the services at St. Paul's on Sunday.

Water Use Increases

Water use in the United States is variously estimated to have increased four to six times since the turn of the century and the rate of increase is increasing far faster than the population.

The artist puts the finishing touches on a replica of the statue of St. Emilio, "The Earthquake Protector," which stands atop a cathedral in Sicily.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The stock market turned lower today in the early afternoon following a higher start.

Prices spread over a broad range with gains and losses running to around 3 points at the most.

Trading was brisk.

The market opened higher with buying so heavy that the tape fell behind as much as four minutes in reporting actual dealings on the floor of the stock change.

That has been the usual pattern in recent sessions, and the market appeared to be following along the strongly higher path of the past three days.

nanced probably by banks and insurance companies, to promote industrial development.

He said his administration would make a study to determine whether such an operation would be feasible and, if so, would press the Republican-controlled Legislature for the necessary approval.

At Hudson, W. I. Vanderpoel, executive secretary of the Greater Hudson Chamber of Commerce, complained that the city was "boxed in" by the State Training School for Girls on the south, and the State Volunteer Firemen's Home, on the north.

He suggested that the state "remove the training school so that we can use this land to bring in new industry and home development." The school, he said, occupied 167 acres of tax-free land and the firemen's home 90 acres.

Harriman made no comment.

Mitchell Is . . .

the basic strength of labor organizations. I oppose such laws categorically."

Freedom to negotiate various types of contract clauses to require workers to become union members is probably the greatest single legislative goal of labor unions. The Taft-Hartley Law permits such provisos but specifically says they are illegal in any state which prohibits them.

THIS LEEWAY for states to legislate against "union security" clauses is the major provision unions want eliminated from the T-H Act, but the same result could be accomplished if existing state laws were repealed.

The wisdom and morality of compulsory union membership have provided one of the classic arguments in labor relations. Unions claim that non-members they represent are "free riders" and get collective bargaining gains without contributing to the cost by paying dues. The employers steadfastly maintain it is wrong to make workers join unions.

"I believe," said Mitchell, "that when employers and unions representing a majority of their employes agree on a union shop they should have the right to have one."

THE "RIGHT-TO-WORK" laws are presently in effect in Arizona, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Nebraska, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North and South Carolina, and North and South Dakota.

The message read by Mitchell from Eisenhower complimented labor unions for helping "strengthen our general welfare, our national prosperity and our democracy."

"Trade unionism has become a vital part of American life," Eisenhower'smessage said "The activities of the American lamor movement have brought about social and economic reforms which have enriched the lives not only of union members but of millions of other Americans."

Senator McCarthy

formed men in Communist dungeons."

McCarthy added:

"Anyone who knows the ABC's of the Communist war against free civilization knows that weakness will not free a single American uniformed man."

This was an apparent reference to a news conference statement by Eisenhower that followed a call for a naval blockade of Red China by Senate Republican leader Knowland of California, who voted against censure of McCarthy last week.

EISENHOWER said the United States must not be goaded into war by the Communists. He called patience the hard way, saying it would be much easier for him to give way to his emotions and be truculent.

McCarthy replied:

"If any senator in the future can justify a vote to draft the sons of American mothers, then he must repudiate this shrinking show of weakness and must tell those mothers that each young man who wears the American uniform carries the entire power of this nation with him when he goes to a foreign land."

Separation Letter Is Talked Over

Cleveland, Dec. 7 (AP)—A letter about possible separation of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and his wife Marilyn was discussed briefly today before the jury in the young osteopath's murder trial. But the contents were not read.

This was the second consecutive day when the prosecution asked members of the Sheppard family whether the possibility of separation and divorce had arisen between Dr. Sheppard and Marilyn.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, a brother of Samuel, was on the witness stand and cross-examination brought out the existence of the letter.

BUT DEFENSE attorneys succeeded in blocking further testimony at that point, on the ground the witness did not know what the letter said.

Dr. Samuel Sheppard is being tried on a charge of first degree murder. He is accused of hacking his wife to death in their Bay Village home in the early hours of last July 4.

The letter was written by Dr. Richard Sheppard's wife Dorothy, who is under subpoena as a later witness. At an inquest last July, she mentioned writing a letter to Marilyn Sheppard on Aug. 28, 1950. She did not describe the contents, but intimated she was counseling her sister-in-law "like a big sister."

ASSISTANT Prosecutor John J. Mahon returned to the subject of marital strife today in cross-examing Dr. Richard. The witness said he never heard anything "of any major character" on that subject.

He said Dr. Sam and Marilyn had minor arguments on Christmas and Thanksgiving, as to where they would spend the holidays—with his family or hers. They usually compromised, he said.

Householder Is To Leave Post

Glen M. Householder, for 16 years director of extension for The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, will terminate his service in that capacity on Feb. 1, and will take up new responsibilities under the title of special representative. His successor as director of extension has not been announced.

Householder was presented with a gold watch and photo montage signed by each member of the board at a dinner in his honor held in connection with the association's mid-year meeting at Brattleboro, Vt., on Dec. 1. It was noted then that he traveled an average of 75,000 miles yearly in connection with his duties.

Mistrial Declared

A juror was withdrawn and a mistrial declared this morning by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Supreme Court in the partially tried action brought by John Corelli against James G. Hewett, a negligence action growing out of a collision at Port Ewen on November 6, 1953. Richter and Werbalowsky appeared for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant. The mistrial was granted on consent of counsel for both parties when it developed an action had been commenced in Albany county prior to the action brought in Ulster county.

Robins in Knoxville

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—A group of 150 robins are wintering here. "One of my neighbors fed them some hard bread and they just made themselves at home," says A. H. Miller telling of the birds in his back yard. Most robins find Knoxville isn't far enough south in winter.

Sacramento, Calif. (AP)—Firemen restrained Mrs. Robert Ward from entering her burning house to save a photograph of her son, killed in the Korean war. The furnishings were destroyed but the photograph later was found in her scorched handbag—undamaged.

MJM Parents Night Planned by School

Parents Night, sponsored by the Myron J. Michael Education Association, will be held at 7:45 p. m. Thursday.

MJM paernts and other interested citizens have been invited to attend the meeting, first of the school year. It will be an informal get-together for orientation purposes.

There will be a short business meeting for election of officers, at which time parents may ask any questions they desire, followed by an inspection of school facilities.

Teachers on the faculty have been invited by the association to attend in order to meet parents.

Shokan

Shokan, Dec. 7—Kay Holm, Quarryville antiques dealer and rug weaver, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday.

Ralph Elefant, Ashokan young man, is a first year student at Albany Teachers College.

Mrs. Robert Longyear, who with her husband and children has resided in Mexico City the past two year, is reported to have won the women's second flight golf championship of the Mexican capital. She is the former Marian Davis of West Shokan. Jean Longyears, Brooklyn resident and sister of Robert, has been spending a month with the Longyears.

Mrs. Abram Wilber whose funeral was held in Kingston Tuesday was brought up in the old village of Brodhead where her father, John J. Boice, was superintendent of the bluestone dock. The former Edna Boice was a granddaughter of William V. Boice, one of Olive's foremost industrials, and a niece of Hewitt and Peter Boice who were prominent in the bluestone industry of Ulster county 60 years and more ago.

Mrs. Arlington Vischer of Grahamsville was a Shokan caller Thursday. A native of Kingston, Mrs. Vischer taught music in the schools before her marriage.

Members of the Ashokan Methodist WSCS are now embarked upon a 'Dollar Talent Project' as the means of raising a minimum contribution of $25 to the Onteora council of religious education. Each woman was given a dollar from the club treasury which she is to invest for increase before the termination of the project on January 5. The public is invited to contact one or more of the members with a view to buying Christmas gifts and incidentally help along a worthy religious movement.

Walden Man Injured

William Vredenburg of 28 Oak street, Walden, was injured about 4 a. m. today when his automobile struck a concrete bridge post on Route 208 south of New Paltz, according to a state police report. Vredenburg's condition was listed as 'good' at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie early this afternoon.

Saugerties

Tree Lighting Is Set for Friday

Saugerties, Dec. 7 — The official lighting of the Memory Christmas Tree whch will be erected in the park opposite the Saugerties High School is scheduled to coincide with the ceremonies to be held in conjunction with the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade and kiddie party on Friday evening.

The Christmas parade will halt at Cantine Memorial Park on its route to the municipal building for the special lighting ceremonies of the tree sponsored by the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens.

The project of the Memory Tree is made possible by one dollar donations of individual citizens who purchased a bulb in memory of a departed loved one.

Charman of the project is Mrs. Richard B. Overbaugh.

Church Dedicates Memorial Gift

Saugerties, Dec. 7—A dedication ceremony was held Sunday for the second gift of the Irene Schlenger Memorial to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. The special ceremony was held during the regular 11 a. m. worship service in the church.

The first gift, a lectern Bible, was dedicated and placed on the lectern which appropriately enough is located adjacent to the choir seat occupied by the late Mrs. Schlenker before her death in May.

Both gifts were made possible by the congregation and friends who on their own initiative expressed their desire to give to the fund which became known as the Irene Schlenker Memorial Fund.

Following the first dedication continued contributions to the memorial fund indicated that an additional memorial should be presented.

In consultation with the family of the deceased a pair of brass floor candelabra was chosen for the added memorial. The candelabra was placed on either side of the altar of the church.

West Camp Date Set for Meeting

Saugerties, Dec. 7—The church council of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp at the regular meeting held Sunday night in the parish hall announced plans for the annual meeting.

The annual congregational meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 23, starting at 7 p. m.

The agenda of the session will include the pastor's report, reports of officers and committees and the annual election of councilmen.

Following the meeting a 30-minute sound motion picture will be presented and refreshments will be served.

Another innovation at the church will be vote of confidence for the pastor Sunday to be conducted Dec. 12 during the regular 11 a. m. worship service. The church council is mailing invitations asking all members of the congregation to show their loyalty to the pastor, the Rev. Henry M. Schumann by attending the services at St. Paul's on Sunday.

Water Use Increases

Water use in the United States is variously estimated to have increased four to six times since the turn of the century and the rate of increase is increasing far faster than the population.

nanced probably by banks and insurance companies, to promote industrial development.

He said his administration would make a study to determine whether such an operation would be feasible and, if so, would press the Republican-controlled Legislature for the necessary approval.

At Hudson, W. I. Vanderpoel, executive secretary of the Greater Hudson Chamber of Commerce, complained that the city was "boxed in" by the State Training School for Girls on the south, and the State Volunteer Firemen's Home, on the north.

He suggested that the state "remove the training school so that we can use this land to bring in new industry and home development." The school, he said, occupied 167 acres of tax-free land and the firemen's home 90 acres.

Harriman made no comment.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The stock market turned lower today in the early afternoon following a higher start.

Prices spread over a broad range with gains and losses running to around 3 points at the most.

Trading was brisk.

The market opened higher with buying so heavy that the tape fell behind as much as four minutes in reporting actual dealings on the floor of the stock change.

That has been the usual pattern in recent sessions, and the market appeared to be following along the strongly higher path of the past three days.

Mitchell Is . . .

the basic strength of labor organizations. I oppose such laws categorically."

Freedom to negotiate various types of contract clauses to require workers to become union members is probably the greatest single legislative goal of labor unions. The Taft-Hartley Law permits such provisos but specifically says they are illegal in any state which prohibits them.

THIS LEEWAY for states to legislate against "union security" clauses is the major provision unions want eliminated from the T-H Act, but the same result could be accomplished if existing state laws were repealed.

The wisdom and morality of compulsory union membership have provided one of the classic arguments in labor relations. Unions claim that non-members they represent are "free riders" and get collective bargaining gains without contributing to the cost by paying dues. The employers steadfastly maintain it is wrong to make workers join unions.

"I believe," said Mitchell, "that when employers and unions representing a majority of their employes agree on a union shop they should have the right to have one."

THE "RIGHT-TO-WORK" laws are presently in effect in Arizona, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Nebraska, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North and South Carolina, and North and South Dakota.

The message read by Mitchell from Eisenhower complimented labor unions for helping "strengthen our general welfare, our national prosperity and our democracy."

"Trade unionism has become a vital part of American life," Eisenhower'smessage said "The activities of the American lamor movement have brought about social and economic reforms which have enriched the lives not only of union members but of millions of other Americans."

Senator McCarthy

formed men in Communist dungeons."

McCarthy added:

"Anyone who knows the ABC's of the Communist war against free civilization knows that weakness will not free a single American uniformed man."

This was an apparent reference to a news conference statement by Eisenhower that followed a call for a naval blockade of Red China by Senate Republican leader Knowland of California, who voted against censure of McCarthy last week.

EISENHOWER said the United States must not be goaded into war by the Communists. He called patience the hard way, saying it would be much easier for him to give way to his emotions and be truculent.

McCarthy replied:

"If any senator in the future can justify a vote to draft the sons of American mothers, then he must repudiate this shrinking show of weakness and must tell those mothers that each young man who wears the American uniform carries the entire power of this nation with him when he goes to a foreign land."

Separation Letter Is Talked Over

Cleveland, Dec. 7 (AP)—A letter about possible separation of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and his wife Marilyn was discussed briefly today before the jury in the young osteopath's murder trial. But the contents were not read.

This was the second consecutive day when the prosecution asked members of the Sheppard family whether the possibility of separation and divorce had arisen between Dr. Sheppard and Marilyn.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, a brother of Samuel, was on the witness stand and cross-examination brought out the existence of the letter.

BUT DEFENSE attorneys succeeded in blocking further testimony at that point, on the ground the witness did not know what the letter said.

Dr. Samuel Sheppard is being tried on a charge of first degree murder. He is accused of hacking his wife to death in their Bay Village home in the early hours of last July 4.

The letter was written by Dr. Richard Sheppard's wife Dorothy, who is under subpoena as a later witness. At an inquest last July, she mentioned writing a letter to Marilyn Sheppard on Aug. 28, 1950. She did not describe the contents, but intimated she was counseling her sister-in-law "like a big sister."

ASSISTANT Prosecutor John J. Mahon returned to the subject of marital strife today in cross-examing Dr. Richard. The witness said he never heard anything "of any major character" on that subject.

He said Dr. Sam and Marilyn had minor arguments on Christmas and Thanksgiving, as to where they would spend the holidays—with his family or hers. They usually compromised, he said.

Householder Is To Leave Post

Glen M. Householder, for 16 years director of extension for The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, will terminate his service in that capacity on Feb. 1, and will take up new responsibilities under the title of special representative. His successor as director of extension has not been announced.

Householder was presented with a gold watch and photo montage signed by each member of the board at a dinner in his honor held in connection with the association's mid-year meeting at Brattleboro, Vt., on Dec. 1. It was noted then that he traveled an average of 75,000 miles yearly in connection with his duties.

Mistrial Declared

A juror was withdrawn and a mistrial declared this morning by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Supreme Court in the partially tried action brought by John Corelli against James G. Hewett, a negligence action growing out of a collision at Port Ewen on November 6, 1953. Richter and Werbalowsky appeared for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant. The mistrial was granted on consent of counsel for both parties when it developed an action had been commenced in Albany county prior to the action brought in Ulster county.

Robins in Knoxville

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—A group of 150 robins are wintering here. "One of my neighbors fed them some hard bread and they just made themselves at home," says A. H. Miller telling of the birds in his back yard. Most robins find Knoxville isn't far enough south in winter.

Host Gift for Yule

An ideal Christmas gift for your host is a cordial. Attractive bottles of Venetian glass made on the Island of Murano in overlay and hand-etched glass hold apricot, orange and other fruit cordials. These are available in hand decorated bottles with silver inlay, amber hand-etched bottles with wild bird etchings, Italian porcelain jugs, Venetian violet glass with gold medallion and gold hand-blown stopper. These are all budget-priced, available at neighborhood stores.

Committee Will Be Consultants

Albany, Dec. 7 (AP)—The commissioner of motor vehicles today appointed a 12-member Advisory Committee to consult with the Motor Vehicle Bureau on compulsory safety inspection of automobiles.

All motor vehicles registered in the state must be inspected twice a year in private garages to be licensed by the state, beginning next year. Inspections are expected to begin May 1. Vehicles must display safety stickers starting next Sept. 1.

Commissioner James R. Macduff named the following to the committee:

Benjamin Feinberg, chairman of the Public Service Commission; Albin Johnson, superintendent of State Police; Thomas W. Ryan, State Safety Director.

DAVID M. BALDWIN of Chicago, director of the National Safety Council's Traffic Division; Elliott F. Daniels of Trenton, N. J., Chief of the Vehicle Inspection section of the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Division; Henry S. Lamb of New York, a safety engineer for the American Standards Assn.

Tom Boate of New York city, representing the Assn. of Casualty and Surety Companies; John J. Evers Jr. and Albany, representing New York State Automobile Dealers, Inc.; Jerry Rusterholtz of Syracuse, representing the New York State Automobile Assn.

Alab L. Feinman of New York city, representing the Gasoline Retailers Assn. of New York State Inc.; Harry B. Hilts of New York city, representing the Empire State Petroleum Assn. and P. G. Guernsey of New York city, representing the New York State Petroleum Industries committee.

Winter Activities Are Planned at Church

Plans for winter activities were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union at a meeting Friday evening at the Old Dutch Church.

The first event of the season will be a fellowship evening on Thursday, Dec. 30, at the Spring Lake Roller Rink. Skating and games beginning at 7:30 o'clock will highlight the holiday festivity.

National Youth Week in January will be observed with a banquet at the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Friday, Feb. 4, at 6:30 p. m. Tentative plans for the program include the showing of a recent religious film production.

Fire Spares Photo

MJM Parents Night Planned by School

Parents Night, sponsored by the Myron J. Michael Education Association, will be held at 7:45 p. m. Thursday.

MJM paernts and other interested citizens have been invited to attend the meeting, first of the school year. It will be an informal get-together for orientation purposes.

There will be a short business meeting for election of officers, at which time parents may ask any questions they desire, followed by an inspection of school facilities.

Teachers on the faculty have been invited by the association to attend in order to meet parents.

Shokan

Shokan, Dec. 7—Kay Holm, Quarryville antiques dealer and rug weaver, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday.

Ralph Elefant, Ashokan young man, is a first year student at Albany Teachers College.

Mrs. Robert Longyear, who with her husband and children has resided in Mexico City the past two year, is reported to have won the women's second flight golf championship of the Mexican capital. She is the former Marian Davis of West Shokan. Jean Longyears, Brooklyn resident and sister of Robert, has been spending a month with the Longyears.

Mrs. Abram Wilber whose funeral was held in Kingston Tuesday was brought up in the old village of Brodhead where her father, John J. Boice, was superintendent of the bluestone dock. The former Edna Boice was a granddaughter of William V. Boice, one of Olive's foremost industrials, and a niece of Hewitt and Peter Boice who were prominent in the bluestone industry of Ulster county 60 years and more ago.

Mrs. Arlington Vischer of Grahamsville was a Shokan caller Thursday. A native of Kingston, Mrs. Vischer taught music in the schools before her marriage.

Members of the Ashokan Methodist WSCS are now embarked upon a 'Dollar Talent Project' as the means of raising a minimum contribution of $25 to the Onteora council of religious education. Each woman was given a dollar from the club treasury which she is to invest for increase before the termination of the project on January 5. The public is invited to contact one or more of the members with a view to buying Christmas gifts and incidentally help along a worthy religious movement.

Walden Man Injured

William Vredenburg of 28 Oak street, Walden, was injured about 4 a. m. today when his automobile struck a concrete bridge post on Route 208 south of New Paltz, according to a state police report. Vredenburg's condition was listed as 'good' at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie early this afternoon.

The artist puts the finishing touches on a replica of the statue of St. Emilio, "The Earthquake Protector," which stands atop a cathedral in Sicily.

Saugerties

Tree Lighting Is Set for Friday

Saugerties, Dec. 7 — The official lighting of the Memory Christmas Tree whch will be erected in the park opposite the Saugerties High School is scheduled to coincide with the ceremonies to be held in conjunction with the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade and kiddie party on Friday evening.

The Christmas parade will halt at Cantine Memorial Park on its route to the municipal building for the special lighting ceremonies of the tree sponsored by the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens.

The project of the Memory Tree is made possible by one dollar donations of individual citizens who purchased a bulb in memory of a departed loved one.

Charman of the project is Mrs. Richard B. Overbaugh.

Church Dedicates Memorial Gift

Saugerties, Dec. 7—A dedication ceremony was held Sunday for the second gift of the Irene Schlenger Memorial to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. The special ceremony was held during the regular 11 a. m. worship service in the church.

The first gift, a lectern Bible, was dedicated and placed on the lectern which appropriately enough is located adjacent to the choir seat occupied by the late Mrs. Schlenker before her death in May.

Both gifts were made possible by the congregation and friends who on their own initiative expressed their desire to give to the fund which became known as the Irene Schlenker Memorial Fund.

Following the first dedication continued contributions to the memorial fund indicated that an additional memorial should be presented.

In consultation with the family of the deceased a pair of brass floor candelabra was chosen for the added memorial. The candelabra was placed on either side of the altar of the church.

West Camp Date Set for Meeting

Saugerties, Dec. 7—The church council of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp at the regular meeting held Sunday night in the parish hall announced plans for the annual meeting.

The annual congregational meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 23, starting at 7 p. m.

The agenda of the session will include the pastor's report, reports of officers and committees and the annual election of councilmen.

Following the meeting a 30-minute sound motion picture will be presented and refreshments will be served.

Another innovation at the church will be vote of confidence for the pastor Sunday to be conducted Dec. 12 during the regular 11 a. m. worship service. The church council is mailing invitations asking all members of the congregation to show their loyalty to the pastor, the Rev. Henry M. Schumann by attending the services at St. Paul's on Sunday.

Water Use Increases

Water use in the United States is variously estimated to have increased four to six times since the turn of the century and the rate of increase is increasing far faster than the population.

Harriman Says

nanced probably by banks and insurance companies, to promote industrial development.

He said his administration would make a study to determine whether such an operation would be feasible and, if so, would press the Republican-controlled Legislature for the necessary approval.

At Hudson, W. I. Vanderpoel, executive secretary of the Greater Hudson Chamber of Commerce, complained that the city was "boxed in" by the State Training School for Girls on the south, and the State Volunteer Firemen's Home, on the north.

He suggested that the state "remove the training school so that we can use this land to bring in new industry and home development." The school, he said, occupied 167 acres of tax-free land and the firemen's home 90 acres.

Harriman made no comment.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The stock market turned lower today in the early afternoon following a higher start.

Prices spread over a broad range with gains and losses running to around 3 points at the most.

Trading was brisk.

The market opened higher with buying so heavy that the tape fell behind as much as four minutes in reporting actual dealings on the floor of the stock change.

That has been the usual pattern in recent sessions, and the market appeared to be following along the strongly higher path of the past three days.

Mitchell Is . . .

the basic strength of labor organizations. I oppose such laws categorically."

Freedom to negotiate various types of contract clauses to require workers to become union members is probably the greatest single legislative goal of labor unions. The Taft-Hartley Law permits such provisos but specifically says they are illegal in any state which prohibits them.

THIS LEEWAY for states to legislate against "union security" clauses is the major provision unions want eliminated from the T-H Act, but the same result could be accomplished if existing state laws were repealed.

The wisdom and morality of compulsory union membership have provided one of the classic arguments in labor relations. Unions claim that non-members they represent are "free riders" and get collective bargaining gains without contributing to the cost by paying dues. The employers steadfastly maintain it is wrong to make workers join unions.

"I believe," said Mitchell, "that when employers and unions representing a majority of their employes agree on a union shop they should have the right to have one."

THE "RIGHT-TO-WORK" laws are presently in effect in Arizona, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Nebraska, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North and South Carolina, and North and South Dakota.

The message read by Mitchell from Eisenhower complimented labor unions for helping "strengthen our general welfare, our national prosperity and our democracy."

'Trade unionism has become a vital part of American life," Eisenhower'smessage said "The activities of the American lamor movement have brought about social and economic reforms which have enriched the lives not only of union members but of millions of other Americans."

Senator McCarthy

formed men in Communist dungeons."

McCarthy added:

"Anyone who knows the ABC's of the Communist war against free civilization knows that weakness will not free a single American uniformed man."

This was an apparent reference to a news conference statement by Eisenhower that followed a call for a naval blockade of Red China by Senate Republican leader Knowland of California, who voted against censure of McCarthy last week.

EISENHOWER said the United States must not be goaded into war by the Communists. He called patience the hard way, saying it would be much easier for him to give way to his emotions and be truculent.

McCarthy replied:

"If any senator in the future can justify a vote to draft the sons of American mothers, then he must repudiate this shrinking show of weakness and must tell those mothers that each young man who wears the American uniform carries the entire power of this nation with him when he goes to a foreign land."

Ladies Day at Capitol Hill

Iris Blitch (D., Ga.)

Coya Knutson (D., Minn.)

New Congress Boasts Record Number of Women in Body

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—It will be Ladies' Day on Capitol Hill when the 84th Congress convenes on January 5th.

A record number of 15 women will be in the House of Representatives. On addition, the re-elected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.) will be over in the Senate, bringing the total of feminine lawmakers to 16, an all-time high.

Four more women won House seats this year at the expense of four members of the opposite sex. But if congressmn are grumbling over the loss of their male companions, it's a safe bet they'll look twice at the female replacements.

HEADS WILL TURN when Mrs. Iris F. Blitch of Georgia walks down the aisle. Besides being one of the four new ladies in the House, she's a real Southern belle. She's a Democrat, like the other three, but her slim figure, wavy dark hair and smiling brown hair ought to boost bipartisanship 100 per cent.

It's hard to believe this striking brunette, who was named Queen of Georgia's legislature, is the 42-year-old mother of a daughter and son aged 22 and 19. Last summer she ousted veteran Congressman W. M. Wheeler for the Democratic primary nomination, which is the same as election in Georgia.

SINCE 1950 Mrs. Blitch has been a member of the state Senate, and before that she was in the Georgia House of Representatives for a term. In 1948 she was elected to the Democratic National Committee.

Just the other day attractive Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, the newly elected congresswoman from Detroit's 17th district, flew to Washington to look for an apartment. But she never had a chance to find one, for too many friends and well-wishers wanted to chat with her.

The first Democratic woman to win a House seat in Michigan, 42-year-old Mrs. Griffiths scored a stunning election upset over Rep. Charles G. Oakman, an Eisenhower Republican. Her husband and number-one fan, Hicks G. Griffiths, is a former chairman of Michigan's State Democratic Central Committee.

BOTH ARE LAWYERS, and in 1946 they began to revamp Michigan's demoralized Democratic Party. In 1953 Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is the third partner in their law firm, appointed Mrs. Griffiths a judge in Detroit's Recorder's Court.

"Among other things, she's a terrific cook," says her proud husband. "But to get her to make my favorite dish I have to invite guests. It's what we call waffle brownie, which she serves with ice cream."

"Politics used to be just my hobby," explains Mrs. Griffiths, "although now it has taken over all my time. Actually, Hicks got me into it. One night back in 1946 an elderly lady interested in women's rights called up and asked me to run for state representative.

"I declined, but when my husband heard of this he told me, 'Call her right back and tell her you'll be glad to run.'"

MRS. GRIFFITHS didn't even win the primary. But in 1948 and 1950 she was elected to the state legislature.

Pretty Mrs. Coya Knutson became the first woman in Minnesota to win a seat in Congress when she upset Rep. Harold Hagan (R.) last Nov. 2.

And no wonder, for she was one of the most appealing and versatile candidates ever to confront the voters of the state's ninth district. She's an accomplished singer, organist and choir director. She was formerly a schoolteacher and 4-H leader.

"It was my musical training which I credit with getting me through the campaign speeches," says Mrs. Knutson, whom everyone calls "Coya." As a child, this was the closest she could come to pronouncing her proper name, "Cordelia," and it has stuck ever since.

MRS. KNUTSON'S sparkling blue eyes and pleasant smile have been winning her friends for years. Her husband, Andy, and 14-year-old son, Terry, are used to doing their own cooking and housekeeping, for Mrs. Knutson is serving her second term in the Minnesota legislature.

Of course, she'll resign now that Washington beckons. "At the present my biggest worry is clothes," she laughs. "I wore them all out during the campaign."

When Mrs. Edith Green comes to town she'll be an expert on coffee, although she probably won't want another cup of it. During her campaign in Oregon's third congressional district she held approximately 350 informal coffee hours.

This was one of the gimmicks which accounted for her victory over Republican Tom Lawson McCall. In 1926 the new lady representative was named the outstanding high-school girl in the state of Oregon. Since then she has been compiling an outstanding record in educational and civic affairs.

FOR 14 YEARS she taught in the public schools, and she has been extremely active in the League of Women Voters and the P-TA.

All of the incumbent congresswomen were re-lected this year. They are: Gracie Pfost (D., Ida.), Marguerite Stitt Church (R., Ill.) Cecil M. Harden (R., Ind.), Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass), Ruth Thompson (R., Mich.), Leonor Sullivan (D., Mo.), Edna F. Kelly (D., N. Y.), Katharine St. George (R., N. Y.), Frances P. Bolton (R. O.), Vera Buchanan (D., Pa.) and Elizabeth Kee (D., W. Va.).

Births

The city registrar recorded 128 births in November. This was 26 more than in October and 41 more than in November, 1953.

Births recorded recently were:

Nov. 28—Derrick to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Singleton Hymes, 61 Meadow street.

Nov. 29—John Raymond to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ernest Joy, 37 Harwich street.

Nov. 30—Lawrence to Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons, Palenville; Marine C. to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Joseph Waleur, Jr., 67 Wurts street; Thomas Edward to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richard Whittaker, 34 East Bridge street, Saugerties, and Robert Webster to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Temple Southall, Woodstock.

Madison, Ind. (AP) — Ansel Brooks donated his tame duck Bulldozer to the local gun club for a prize in a turkey shoot. Bulldozer was too messy around the house and Brooks just couldn't bear to eat the pet as a duck dinner. Sure enough, Brooks won Bulldozer back in the shoot. Brooks re-donated Bulldozer. And he won't compete in the next shoot.

New Congress Boasts Record Number of Women in Body

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—It will be Ladies' Day on Capitol Hill when the 84th Congress convenes on January 5th.

A record number of 15 women will be in the House of Representatives. On addition, the re-elected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.) will be over in the Senate, bringing the total of feminine lawmakers to 16, an all-time high.

Four more women won House seats this year at the expense of four members of the opposite sex. But if congressmn are grumbling over the loss of their male companions, it's a safe bet they'll look twice at the female replacements.

HEADS WILL TURN when Mrs. Iris F. Blitch of Georgia walks down the aisle. Besides being one of the four new ladies in the House, she's a real Southern belle. She's a Democrat, like the other three, but her slim figure, wavy dark hair and smiling brown hair ought to boost bipartisanship 100 per cent.

It's hard to believe this striking brunette, who was named Queen of Georgia's legislature, is the 42-year-old mother of a daughter and son aged 22 and 19. Last summer she ousted veteran Congressman W. M. Wheeler for the Democratic primary nomination, which is the same as election in Georgia.

SINCE 1950 Mrs. Blitch has been a member of the state Senate, and before that she was in the Georgia House of Representatives for a term. In 1948 she was elected to the Democratic National Committee.

Just the other day attractive Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, the newly elected congresswoman from Detroit's 17th district, flew to Washington to look for an apartment. But she never had a chance to find one, for too many friends and well-wishers wanted to chat with her.

The first Democratic woman to win a House seat in Michigan, 42-year-old Mrs. Griffiths scored a stunning election upset over Rep. Charles G. Oakman, an Eisenhower Republican. Her husband and number-one fan, Hicks G. Griffiths, is a former chairman of Michigan's State Democratic Central Committee.

BOTH ARE LAWYERS, and in 1946 they began to revamp Michigan's demoralized Democratic Party. In 1953 Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is the third partner in their law firm, appointed Mrs. Griffiths a judge in Detroit's Recorder's Court.

"Among other things, she's a terrific cook," says her proud husband. "But to get her to make my favorite dish I have to invite guests. It's what we call waffle brownie, which she serves with ice cream."

"Politics used to be just my hobby," explains Mrs. Griffiths, "although now it has taken over all my time. Actually, Hicks got me into it. One night back in 1946 an elderly lady interested in women's rights called up and asked me to run for state representative.

"I declined, but when my husband heard of this he told me, 'Call her right back and tell her you'll be glad to run.'"

MRS. GRIFFITHS didn't even win the primary. But in 1948 and 1950 she was elected to the state legislature.

Pretty Mrs. Coya Knutson became the first woman in Minnesota to win a seat in Congress when she upset Rep. Harold Hagan (R.) last Nov. 2.

And no wonder, for she was one of the most appealing and versatile candidates ever to confront the voters of the state's ninth district. She's an accomplished singer, organist and choir director. She was formerly a schoolteacher and 4-H leader.

"It was my musical training which I credit with getting me through the campaign speeches," says Mrs. Knutson, whom everyone calls "Coya." As a child, this was the closest she could come to pronouncing her proper name, "Cordelia," and it has stuck ever since.

MRS. KNUTSON'S sparkling blue eyes and pleasant smile have been winning her friends for years. Her husband, Andy, and 14-year-old son, Terry, are used to doing their own cooking and housekeeping, for Mrs. Knutson is serving her second term in the Minnesota legislature.

Of course, she'll resign now that Washington beckons. "At the present my biggest worry is clothes," she laughs. "I wore them all out during the campaign."

When Mrs. Edith Green comes to town she'll be an expert on coffee, although she probably won't want another cup of it. During her campaign in Oregon's third congressional district she held approximately 350 informal coffee hours.

This was one of the gimmicks which accounted for her victory over Republican Tom Lawson McCall. In 1926 the new lady representative was named the outstanding high-school girl in the state of Oregon. Since then she has been compiling an outstanding record in educational and civic affairs.

FOR 14 YEARS she taught in the public schools, and she has been extremely active in the League of Women Voters and the P-TA.

All of the incumbent congresswomen were re-elected this year. They are: Gracie Pfost (D., Ida.), Marguerite Stitt Church (R., Ill.), Cecil M. Harden (R., Ind.), Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass), Ruth Thompson (R., Mich.), Leonor Sullivan (D., Mo.), Edna F. Kelly (D., N. Y.), Katharine St. George (R., N. Y.), Frances P. Bolton (R. O.), Vera Buchanan (D., Pa.) and Elizabeth Kee (D., W. Va.,).

Births

The city registrar recorded 128 births in November. This was 26 more than in October and 41 more than in November, 1953.

Births recorded recently were:

Nov. 28—Derrick to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Singleton Hymes, 61 Meadow street.

Nov. 29—John Raymond to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ernest Joy, 37 Harwich street.

Nov. 30—Lawrence to Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons, Palenville; Marine C. to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Joseph Waleur, Jr., 67 Wurts street; Thomas Edward to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richard Whittaker, 34 East Bridge street, Saugerties, and Robert Webster to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Temple Southall, Woodstock.

To Victor Go the Spoils

Madison, Ind. (AP) — Ansel Brooks donated his tame duck Bulldozer to the local gun club for a prize in a turkey shoot. Bulldozer was too messy around the house and Brooks just couldn't bear to eat the pet as a duck dinner. Sure enough, Brooks won Bulldozer back in the shoot. Brooks re-donated Bulldozer. And he won't compete in the next shoot.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 7, 1954

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The experts and the amateurs have a hundred answers to the juvenile problem, ranging from better training in the home to bigger police forces in our cities.

The New York City police decided not long ago to test the idea of the bigger force, and the city's police commissioner now has come up with the results of the experiment.

Authorities chose a section of New York known as East Harlem, a tumble-down tenement zone jammed with a mixture of races, an area where crime ran rampant. The normal complement of police guarding its populace is 186. Ten weeks ago some 250 extra policemen were added.

In the two and a half months that followed, major crime in the area was reduced nearly 50 per cent. The reinforced police battalions covering the section made arrests in 60 per cent of the cases that occurred, against an arrest record of just 20 per cent earlier.

Thus New York showed that more police could indeed cut the heavy crime rate, much of which is accounted for by juveniles stealing cars, robbing and mugging people on the streets, and so on. The uniformed cop in plain sight on the beat is a strong deterrent to wrongdoing.

But to achieve this striking reduction, note that the city had to boost its force about 150 per cent in an area only about a mile square.

Not every part of New York has so heavy an incidence of crime as East Harlem, but there are plenty like it in that city and most others in America. Imagine the cost of more than doubling the police force in all such crime-ridden areas.

The New York police commissioner told New Yorkers they can have "peace and security" in their homes "if they are willing to pay for it." He may indeed have demonstrated the effectiveness of a bigger police force, but it's a grave question whether New York or any other U. S. community can foot the huge bill involved.

Besides, necessary though it be, discouraging potential criminals is just part of the task. The bigger and more challenging part is finding a way to build community life and raise young men and women so they will not be potential criminals.

New York's interesting experiment has only emphasized the magnitude of this job.

The really wise person, we suspect, is the one accustomed to ask for information rather than to volunteer it.

DECEMBER SEVENTH

December Seventh is not a pleasant anniversary. It marks the day when a surprise attack dealt our fleet a crippling blow from which it took a long time to recover. It was an attack we might have anticipated and the damage that was done might have been prevented.

Yet there is reason to feel a certain pride on the anniversary of the day that Pearl Harbor was attacked. We were knocked down at Pearl Harbor but we were not knocked out. The blow was a hard one but it succeeded in waking us up to the place we had to play in the world.

The war we entered when Pearl Harbor was attacked is ended but it did not bring real peace. The danger that existed is still with us. It would be well for us on this December Seventh to "Remember Pearl Harbor," and reaffirm our determination that we will never allow ourselves to grow so weak or careless in mind or arms that we will again become the victims of a sneak attack. With the progress made in weapons, particularly the atomic and hydrogen weapons, it might not be so easy for us to get up from the floor.

THE 13 CAPTIVES

To many who are interested in the Far East, the questions arise:

1. Was it a fluke in timing that the Chinese Communists announced the sentencing of 13 American prisoners-of-war at just the time they did?

2. Was it a premeditated slap in our face at a time when the Russians and the Chinese "Reds" were pressing their campaign for "peaceful coexistence"?

3. Why have they announced the sentencing of only 13 prisoners-of-war? What is being done about all the others?

4. Are they really warning the United States that if this country continues to support Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa, they will commit mayhem on American hostages?

The traditions of the Chinese people are best recorded in their novels, the most notable of which is the "Romance of the Three Kingdoms," from which most of the plays of the classical Chinese theatre have been adapted. It was written by Lo Kuan-chung (1260-1341). The hero of the novel is Chuko Liang, also called Kung-ming, who was the Prime Minister of Han. Literate or illiterate, all Chinese know the stories in this book because they are in the folklore of the people. One tale shows how words can be weapons.

Chuko Liang wants an adversary to die so he decides to write a letter that will kill him. It is not a poisoned letter but the words pierce the heart. This is the letter:

"You will permit me to say that a leader of an army should be able to go and come, to be facile and obdurate, to advance and retire, to show himself weak or strong, to be immovable as mountains, to be inscrutable as the operations of nature, to be infinite as the universe, to be everlasting as the blue void, to be vast as the ocean, to be dazzling as the lights of heaven, to foresee drouths and floods, to know the nature of the ground, to understand the possibilities of battle arrays, to conjecture the excellences and defects of the enemy.

"Alas! one of your sort, ignorant and inferior, rising impudently in heaven's vault, has had the presumption to assist a rebel to assume the imperial style and state at Loyang, to send some miserable soldiers into Hsiehku. There they happened upon drenching rain. The difficult roads wearied both men and horses, driving them frantic. Weapons and armour littered the countryside, swords and spears covered the ground. You, the Commander-in-chief, were heartbroken and cowed, your captains fled like rats. You dare not show your faces at home, nor can you enter the halls of state. The historians' pens will record your — salaries; the people will recount your — infamies. Chung-ta (Ssuma I) is frightened when he hears of battle fronts, you are alarmed at mere rumours. My men are fierce and their steeds strong; my great captains are eager as tigers and majestic as dragons. I shall sweep Ts'inchuan bare and make Wei desolate."

And the story recounts that the adversary, Tsao Chen read the letter and died.

It may sound like child's play to the Western mind, but in the East, where "face" is not destroyed by a Marxist revolution, the psychological value of a word is very great. In fact, the word is often synonymous with action and is of greater value. Here is China that in 1948 hardly had a modern army, twitting the great United States, holding Americans hostages, imprisoning American prisoners-of-war in violation of a truce agreement and international law—it is a terrific show of strength. It is something to make the Earth tremble.

Not the Manchu Emperors, not the Dowager Empress, not Yuan Shih-kai, not Chiang Kai-shek dared to flout the United States. But Mao Tze-tung takes such events in his stride, and the Americans fear his power because they do nothing about it but grumble. Mao is a doughty warrior who fights with guile. Perhaps this couplet from the same novel explains what is in his mind:

"'And now the west is mine,' the victor thought,
But danger from the north discretion taught."

And in that couplet lies the truth of the Red Chinese attitude toward the United States. They believe that the United States is so fearful of war that it has become cowardly. I lived in China for 13 years and know what a Chinese attitude toward the coward is—he kicks him in the groin. The coward has no "face" and a man without face is a despised creature. On the other hand, Mao Tze-tung knows that if he acted toward Russia as he does toward the United States, Russian forces would converge from every northern and western direction upon him.

Nobody wants war but in this muddled world, no nation can afford cowardice.

EARLY TREATMENT OF CANCER

About twelve years ago a middle-aged woman consulted her physician regarding what proved to be a suspicious growth on the uterus which he diagnosed as cancer. She was put on the usual treatment including X-ray in combination with radium and X-ray alone. She had returned to her physician regularly each year for examination, has had no recurrence, and is now considered cured.

In a new release from the American College of Radiology a report is given of a seventeen year review of X-ray treatment of more than seven hundred women suffering from cancer of the cervis which graphically illustrates the life-saving value of early diagnosis and treatment. The report was given by Dr. Ralph M. Caulk, Washington, D. C., to a meeting of over one thousand physicians specializing in the use of radium, X-rays, and radioactive substances in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

Dr. Caulk divided the disease into four stages related to the extent of the cancer when the radiation treatments were begun. The treatments included X-ray in combination with radium as well as X-ray alone. His experience showed what we have been learning all too well; that is, that early cancer is curable but late cancer is fatal. Thus it was found that 67 per cent of the women in State 1 survived the disease after treatment by radiation. This group included those in whom the condition had not become widespread.

What about more advanced cases? In State 2, 36 per cent survived. In State 3, 17 per cent survived. In State 4, which is far advanced, none survived.

Of the more than 700 patients treated, only 28 per cent were State 1, that is the group which offers the best chance for recovery.

The danger is that cancer of the cervix, in its early phases, gives little warning of is presence. The classified symptoms are irregular bleeding and a discharge from the vagina but these may not occur until the tumor has reached a considerable size and when it may have already invaded the surrounding tissues. Irregular bleeding, especially during the menopause or change of life, is often accepted as a normal state not worth serious consideration but it cannot be too strongly emphasized that irregular bleeding or vaginal discharge are symptoms which should receive a thorough examination to rule out the possibility of a cancerous growth. Many women have these symptoms and do not have cancer, yet there will be a certain number who do have a beginning cancer.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — There were some ancient whiskers on a story told in this column recently about Aneurin Bevan and the late Ernest Bevin of the British Labour Party. According to this story, relayed from London, when an associate argued that 'Ni Bevan was really his own worst enemy, Ernie Bevin had commented tartly: "Not while I'm alive."

Old timers in Washington recall that this same story was told in the early days of the New Deal.

The late Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina was supposed to have made the crack about President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Anyone having still earlier versions of this same Joe Miller is invited to contribute. It will probably develop that the crack was first uttered about Julius Caesar, by Brutus.

AIR FORCE SECRETARY Harold E. Talbot gives this definition of "peaceful coexistence."

You exist if you're too tough to tackle. You perish if you're weak and unready.

BULGARIAN REFUGEES from communism, reporting to the Free Europe Committee in New York, say they have been receiving letters from their homeland, urging them to return. One refugee recently got a letter from his wife, still in Bulgaria, saying that she had recently been visited by Red officials.

"They told me to tell you that in case of your return, they would pardon you," she wrote.

She left the decision up to her husband, and she made this extremely clear in her letter. Then she significantly added:

"Interesting things have been happening here. Ivan, Boris and Georgi have been arrested and sentenced to 18-20 years in prison. They must have committed a crime against the State."

THE UNITED NATIONS headquarters in New York has been getting far more wear and tear than had originally been estimated, according to its Director of General Services David B. Vaughan.

He explains this is due to the large number of visitors, the guided tours and the extensive use of lounge areas. This has caused furniture and equipment to wear out eight to ten times faster than had been expected. UN has just had to appropriate $170,000 to replace worn-out fixtures.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE has been having a tough fight to keep its post exchanges and commissaries for service personnel. Most of the opposition comes from local merchants near military bases. They object to the competition and the cut prices which armed service stores can furnish, because they don't have to pay taxes, rent or show a profit.

On the other hand, Defense Department officials maintain that these fringe benefits are necessary to keep the lower-paid uniformed personnel in service.

Businessmen then like to point out that the Eisenhower administration is dedicated to removing government competition with private enterprise, so why aren't all these government retail outlets abolished?

So bitter has this argument become that an official of the National Retail Dry Goods Association recently wrote to Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott, asking him what flyers wanted with refrigerators, radios or ranges, anyway?

Secretary Talbott wrote back that many Air Force officers and enlisted men were married and had families, and that they were entitled to just as good things as any other people in America.

YOUTHFUL Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Roswell B. Perkins offers this formula for becoming a successful leader and government administrator:

"It is my firm conviction," he told a meeting of students in New York recently, "that the greatest single key to success is to look on every problem that comes to your desk not only from the position where you sit—but also from the position of the last man in whose lap the problem will fall.

Does State of War Exist Between This Nation and Red China?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 7—Is the United States accepting the Korean armistice agreement as a peace treaty, or is there now a state of war between Red China and this country?

If the Korean armistice has been broken by the Communists in holding captive American prisoners who were to have been released, has not Red China committed an "act of war"?

Is President Eisenhower repudiating the legal argument made by President Truman that it isn't necessary to ask the authorization of Congress in order to apply a naval blockade or the use of armed forces to carry out an obligation undertaken by this country through the United Nations Charter?

THESE QUESTIONS arise out of a careful examination of the authorized transcript of the press conference held by President Eisenhower last week at which he said a blockade would be an "act of war" and that he would go to Congress to ask for authorization if any such step has to be taken at all.

Now it so happens that the Charter of the United Nations specifically says in Article 42 that the UN "may take such action by air, sea or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security," and then adds:

"Such action may include demonstrations, blockade, and other operations by air, sea or land forces of members of the United Nations."

WHEN THESE provisions of the Charter were before Congress to be ratified in 1945, a question arose as to whether the war powers of the Congress were being ignored.

Amendments were proposed by the late Sen. Taft, of Ohio, and by Sen. Wheeler, of Montana, to require Congressional authorization for the use of the armed forces of the United States whenever the contingency arose. But such proposals were rejected by the Senate. Likewise, Sen. Watkins, of Utah, by an amendment, endeavored to require the President to go to Congress before exercising certain powers under the North Atlantic treaty. This, too, failed.

A SENATE DOCUMENT presenting a lengthy opinion attributed to "the executive departments" in February, 1951, and issued by Sen. Connally, who was at that time chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, makes the flat statement that the President is under no obligation to get authorization from Congress before imposing a blockade or using the armed forces to carry out either UN or NATO obligations.

Indeed, the document quotes at length from a formal report made by both the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foriegn Affairs which discussed Article 42 of the UN Charter and then in identical language said:

"Preventive or enforcement action by these forces upon the order of the Security Council would not be an act of war but would be international action for the preservation of peace and for the purpose of preventing war. Consequently the provisions of the Charter do not affect the exclusive power of Congress to declare war."

IT WAS THIS reasoning which the Department of State used in defending President Truman's decision to join with other United Nations forces in repelling aggression in Korea without asking authorization before or afterward from Congress.

So, when Mr. Eisenhower says to the nation that he cannot impose a blockade without going to Congress because it would be an "act of war," it means either that he has never been familiarized with the background of the American ratification of the UN Charter and the interpretation placed on it by committees of Congress, or else he means to reverse the Truman policy and take up with Congress beforehand any military or naval action hereafter required through the UN Charter or through the North Atlantic treaty provisions.

IN ANY EVENT, the President has justified Sen. Knowland's discussion of the subject by publicly declaring it to be a subject for Congressional action. But at the same time Mr. Eisenhower has added some confusion to the problem because, if he thinks the Korean armistice is a peace treaty, then it is the first time in history that an armistice has been accepted as a document that does what only a peace treaty can do—namely, end a state of war. For the very breaking of the armistice by Red China is an act of war against the United Nations. It remains to be seen whether the sixteen nations which fought in Korea will be content to let the matter rest with a resolution of "condemnation."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I call attention to insulting conduct by a member of Congress much more flagrant and abusive than anything charged against Senator Joe McCarthy. The New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Washington Post, and other papers of the same persuasion have ignored this outrage while they have hounded McCarthy for hounding traitors.

I now have in hand part 1 of the hearing of the Reece committee which investigated tax-exempt foundations, containing many insulting and abusive remarks by Congressman Wayne L. Hays, a Democrat, of Ohio. Hays interrupted one witness about 250 times in a three-hour period. His comments included an insulting intimation that a Roman Catholic nun, Sister Mary Margaret Patricia McCarran, of the College of the Holy Names, of Oakland, California, had obtained a degree of doctor of philosophy by subterfuge or other unethical means. She is a daughter of the late Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada. He also insinuated that there was something irregular or improper in her use of her surname on the title of a book on Fabian socialism in Britain which she wrote in preparation for her degree at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

In the closing days of the late election campaign, Drew Pearson, who often writes anti-Catholic slants but never attacks or slurs any other religious group, wrote and some newspapers published, a last-minute exculpation of Hays which was false as much of Pearson's material is. Pearson has so often been proven guilty of lying that one more case is only another pebble in a mountain of mendacity. His defense of Hays and the publication of that lying propaganda are important, however, in the development of the case against the American press as an untruthful, untrustworthy source of information, taken as a whole.

To be sure, there are many papers and a few magazines which are scrupulously honest. But there are so many which have demonstrated dishonesty in their treatment of the Alger Hiss and McCarthy cases, among others involving communism, that the press, as a whole, is under a large, dark cloud of guilt. The honest papers have no means of dissociating themselves from the press as a whole.

Thus far, they have failed to take the initiative to discredit the dishonest element in the interests of not only truth but the public and the instituion of he free press.

The witness in the present instance is Aaron M. Sargent, of San Francisco, testifying on matters in which the House commitee regarded him as an authority. He crossed the continent to give information to the House committee in obedience to a subpoena.

Hays heckled Sargent from the very outset and the record is replete with rude remarks. Hays personally acknowledged to me that he had uttered these attacks on the honor of Sister Mary Patricia and Catholic U., but said they were uttered in the heat of debate.

At one point, Hays asked Sargent, apropos nothing at all, whether he believed in astrology, which is superstitious, not science. Sargent said he did not. Hays then asked Sargent why "there are so many peculiar people drawn to southern California." Sargent said he did not live in southern California and did not know why. Hays then remarked that "extremist" letters, left and right, arriving at his office, always came from Houston, Tex., or southern California.

Sargent made a reference to Sister Patricia's book, "Fabianism in the Life of Great Britain," and named the author. Hays said: "You say she is a sister?" Sargent replied, "She is a member of a Catholic order." Hays said: "I didn't know they used their last name."

Sargent: "That is her full name. Her full name appears on the book and that is who she is."

A little further along, Hays said: "You brought in the name of Sister Mary Margaret, and then you pause for emphasis and put in the name of McCarran. I submit to you that ordinarily people in the orders do not use the last name and I wonder if it is on the flyleaf of the book."

Sargent: "It is and I gave you the information about the author and the book. I wanted to make it clear that I was relying on a high -type of research book in the statement I made."

Hays: "Maybe we ought to subpoena the officials of the Catholic University and find out how high type this is. I happen to know something about the background of the author of that book, how long it took her to get a degree and so forth and even that there was a little pressure used or she would not have it yet."

Congressman Carroll Reece, of Tennessee, the chairman, protested: "I question seriously whether references of that type ought to be thrown out in the committee.

"I am interested in the decorum of the committee of the whole. I do not know this sister."

"I do not know her, either," Hays said, but I have done a little checking."

Hays also referred to the witness as "that fellow" and at another point, asked whether Clarence Manion, former dean of law of Notre Dame University had been "fired" by President Eisenhower.

"He did not fire him," Sargent said. "Are you attacking Manion along with the rest of them?"

At that, Hays crawled and said this was not his intention.

Reece made a formal protest to the House against Hays' conduct, but the incident was lost in the tumult over the attempt to rebuke and discredit McCarthy for his disclosures of treachery in the Pentagon in the Peress case and the Communist penetration of the secret works at Fort Monmouth.

Sargent has filed a suit in California seeking damages from Hays and a national radio chain for broadcasting statements about him which he held to have been defamatory.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 7, 1954

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The experts and the amateurs have a hundred answers to the juvenile problem, ranging from better training in the home to bigger police forces in our cities.

The New York City police decided not long ago to test the idea of the bigger force, and the city's police commissioner now has come up with the results of the experiment.

Authorities chose a section of New York known as East Harlem, a tumble-down tenement zone jammed with a mixture of races, an area where crime ran rampant. The normal complement of police guarding its populace is 186. Ten weeks ago some 250 extra policemen were added.

In the two and a half months that followed, major crime in the area was reduced nearly 50 per cent. The reinforced police battalions covering the section made arrests in 60 per cent of the cases that occurred, against an arrest record of just 20 per cent earlier.

Thus New York showed that more police could indeed cut the heavy crime rate, much of which is accounted for by juveniles stealing cars, robbing and mugging people on the streets, and so on. The uniformed cop in plain sight on the beat is a strong deterrent to wrongdoing.

But to achieve this striking reduction, note that the city had to boost its force about 150 per cent in an area only about a mile square.

Not every part of New York has so heavy an incidence of crime as East Harlem, but there are plenty like it in that city and most others in America. Imagine the cost of more than doubling the police force in all such crime-ridden areas.

The New York police commissioner told New Yorkers they can have "peace and security" in their homes "if they are willing to pay for it." He may indeed have demonstrated the effectiveness of a bigger police force, but it's a grave question whether New York or any other U. S. community can foot the huge bill involved.

Besides, necessary though it be, discouraging potential criminals is just part of the task. The bigger and more challenging part is finding a way to build community life and raise young men and women so they will not be potential criminals.

New York's interesting experiment has only emphasized the magnitude of this job.

The really wise person, we suspect, is the one accustomed to ask for information rather than to volunteer it.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — There were some ancient whiskers on a story told in this column recently about Aneurin Bevan and the late Ernest Bevin of the British Labour Party. According to this story, relayed from London, when an associate argued that 'Ni Bevan was really his own worst enemy, Ernie Bevin had commented tartly: "Not while I'm alive."

Old timers in Washington recall that this same story was told in the early days of the New Deal.

The late Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina was supposed to have made the crack about President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Anyone having still earlier versions of this same Joe Miller is invited to contribute. It will probably develop that the crack was first uttered about Julius Caesar, by Brutus.

AIR FORCE SECRETARY Harold E. Talbot gives this definition of "peaceful coexistence."

You exist if you're too tough to tackle. You perish if you're weak and unready.

BULGARIAN REFUGEES from communism, reporting to the Free Europe Committee in New York, say they have been receiving letters from their homeland, urging them to return. One refugee recently got a letter from his wife, still in Bulgaria, saying that she had recently been visited by Red officials.

"They told me to tell you that in case of your return, they would pardon you," she wrote.

She left the decision up to her husband, and she made this extremely clear in her letter. Then she significantly added:

"Interesting things have been happening here. Ivan, Boris and Georgi have been arrested and sentenced to 18-20 years in prison. They must have committed a crime against the State."

THE UNITED NATIONS headquarters in New York has been getting far more wear and tear than had originally been estimated, according to its Director of General Services David B. Vaughan.

He explains this is due to the large number of visitors, the guided tours and the extensive use of lounge areas. This has caused furniture and equipment to wear out eight to ten times faster than had been expected. UN has just had to appropriate $170,000 to replace worn-out fixtures.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE has been having a tough fight to keep its post exchanges and commissaries for service personnel. Most of the opposition comes from local merchants near military bases. They object to the competition and the cut prices which armed service stores can furnish, because they don't have to pay taxes, rent or show a profit.

On the other hand, Defense Department officials maintain that these fringe benefits are necessary to keep the lower-paid uniformed personnel in service.

Businessmen then like to point out that the Eisenhower administration is dedicated to removing government competition with private enterprise, so why aren't all these government retail outlets abolished?

So bitter has this argument become that an official of the National Retail Dry Goods Association recently wrote to Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott, asking him what flyers wanted with refrigerators, radios or ranges, anyway?

Secretary Talbott wrote back that many Air Force officers and enlisted men were married and had families, and that they were entitled to just as good things as any other people in America.

YOUTHFUL Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Roswell B. Perkins offers this formula for becoming a successful leader and government administrator:

"It is my firm conviction," he told a meeting of students in New York recently, "that the greatest single key to success is to look on every problem that comes to your desk not only from the position where you sit—but also from the position of the last man in whose lap the problem will fall.

Does State of War Exist Between This Nation and Red China?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 7—Is the United States accepting the Korean armistice agreement as a peace treaty, or is there now a state of war between Red China and this country?

If the Korean armistice has been broken by the Communists in holding captive American prisoners who were to have been released, has not Red China committed an "act of war"?

Is President Eisenhower repudiating the legal argument made by President Truman that it isn't necessary to ask the authorization of Congress in order to apply a naval blockade or the use of armed forces to carry out an obligation undertaken by this country through the United Nations Charter?

THESE QUESTIONS arise out of a careful examination of the authorized transcript of the press conference held by President Eisenhower last week at which he said a blockade would be an "act of war" and that he would go to Congress to ask for authorization if any such step has to be taken at all.

Now it so happens that the Charter of the United Nations specifically says in Article 42 that the UN "may take such action by air, sea or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security," and then adds:

"Such action may include demonstrations, blockade, and other operations by air, sea or land forces of members of the United Nations."

WHEN THESE provisions of the Charter were before Congress to be ratified in 1945, a question arose as to whether the war powers of the Congress were being ignored.

Amendments were proposed by the late Sen. Taft, of Ohio, and by Sen. Wheeler, of Montana, to require Congressional authorization for the use of the armed forces of the United States whenever the contingency arose. But such proposals were rejected by the Senate. Likewise, Sen. Watkins, of Utah, by an amendment, endeavored to require the President to go to Congress before exercising certain powers under the North Atlantic treaty. This, too, failed.

A SENATE DOCUMENT presenting a lengthy opinion attributed to "the executive departments" in February, 1951, and issued by Sen. Connally, who was at that time chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, makes the flat statement that the President is under no obligation to get authorization from Congress before imposing a blockade or using the armed forces to carry out either UN or NATO obligations.

Indeed, the document quotes at length from a formal report made by both the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foriegn Affairs which discussed Article 42 of the UN Charter and then in identical language said:

"Preventive or enforcement action by these forces upon the order of the Security Council would not be an act of war but would be international action for the preservation of peace and for the purpose of preventing war. Consequently the provisions of the Charter do not affect the exclusive power of Congress to declare war."

IT WAS THIS, reasoning which the Department of State used in defending President Truman's decision to join with other United Nations forces in repelling aggression in Korea without asking authorization before or afterward from Congress.

So, when Mr. Eisenhower says to the nation that he cannot impose a blockade without going to Congress because it would be an "act of war," it means either that he has never been familiarized with the background of the American ratification of the UN Charter and the interpretation placed on it by committees of Congress, or else he means to reverse the Truman policy and take up with Congress beforehand any military or naval action hereafter required through the UN Charter or through the North Atlantic treaty provisions.

IN ANY EVENT, the President has justified Sen. Knowland's discussion of the subject by publicly declaring it to be a subject for Congressional action. But at the same time Mr. Eisenhower has added some confusion to the problem because, if he thinks the Korean armistice is a peace treaty, then it is the first time in history that an armistice has been accepted as a document that does what only a peace treaty can do—namely, end a state of war. For the very breaking of the armistice by Red China is an act of war against the United Nations. It remains to be seen whether the sixteen nations which fought in Korea will be content to let the matter rest with a resolution of "condemnation."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I call attention to insulting conduct by a member of Congress much more flagrant and abusive than anything charged against Senator Joe McCarthy. The New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Washington Post, and other papers of the same persuasion have ignored this outrage while they have hounded McCarthy for hounding traitors.

I now have in hand part 1 of the hearing of the Reece committee which investigated tax-exempt foundations, containing many insulting and abusive remarks by Congressman Wayne L. Hays, a Democrat, of Ohio. Hays interrupted one witness about 250 times in a three-hour period. His comments included an insulting intimation that a Roman Catholic nun, Sister Mary Margaret Patricia McCarran, of the College of the Holy Names, of Oakland, California, had obtained a degree of doctor of philosophy by subterfuge or other unethical means. She is a daughter of the late Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada. He also insinuated that there was something irregular or improper in her use of her surname on the title of a book on Fabian socialism in Britain which she wrote in preparation for her degree at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

In the closing days of the late election campaign, Drew Pearson, who often writes anti-Catholic slants but never attacks or slurs any other religious group, wrote and some newspapers published, a last-minute exculpation of Hays which was false as much of Pearson's material is. Pearson has so often been proven guilty of lying that one more case is only another pebble in a mountain of mendacity. His defense of Hays and the publication of that lying propaganda are important, however, in the development of the case against the American press as an untruthful, untrustworthy source of information, taken as a whole.

To be sure, there are many papers and a few magazines which are scrupulously honest. But there are so many which have demonstrated dishonesty in their treatment of the Alger Hiss and McCarthy cases, among others involving communism, that the press, as a whole, is under a large, dark cloud of guilt. The honest papers have no means of dissociating themselves from the press as a whole.

Thus far, they have failed to take the initiative to discredit the dishonest element in the interests of not only truth but the public and the instituion of he free press.

The witness in the present instance is Aaron M. Sargent, of San Francisco, testifying on matters in which the House commitee regarded him as an authority. He crossed the continent to give information to the House committee in obedience to a subpoena.

Hays heckled Sargent from the very outset and the record is replete with rude remarks. Hays personally acknowledged to me that he had uttered these attacks on the honor of Sister Mary Patricia and Catholic U., but said they were uttered in the heat of debate.

At one point, Hays asked Sargent apropos nothing at all, whether he believed in astrology, which is superstitious, not science. Sargent said he did not. Hays then asked Sargent why "there are so many peculiar people drawn to southern California." Sargent said he did not live in southern California and did not know why. Hays then remarked that "extremist" letters, left and right, arriving at his office, always came from Houston, Tex., or southern California.

Sargent made a reference to Sister Patricia's book, "Fabianism in the Life of Great Britain," and named the author. Hays said: "You say she is a sister?" Sargent replied, "She is a member of a Catholic order." Hays said: "I didn't know they used their last name."

Sargent: "That is her full name. Her full name appears on the book and that is who she is."

A little further along, Hays said: "You brought in the name of Sister Mary Margaret, and then you pause for emphasis and put in the name of McCarran. I submit to you that ordinarily people in the orders do not use the last name and I wonder if it is on the flyleaf of the book."

Sargent: "It is and I gave you the information about the author and the book. I wanted to make it clear that I was relying on a high-type of research book in the statement I made."

Hays: "Maybe we ought to subpoena the officials of the Catholic University and find out how high type this is. I happen to know something about the background of the author of that book, how long it took her to get a degree and so forth and even that there was a little pressure used or she would not have it yet."

Congressman Carroll Reece, of Tennessee, the chairman, protested: "I question seriously whether references of that type ought to be thrown out in the committee.

"I am interested in the decorum of the committee of the whole. I do not know this sister."

"I do not know her, either," Hays said, but I have done a little checking."

Hays also referred to the witness as "that fellow" and at another point, asked whether Clarence Manion, former dean of law of Notre Dame University had been "fired" by President Eisenhower.

"He did not fire him," Sargent said. "Are you attacking Manion along with the rest of them?"

At that, Hays crawled and said this was not his intention.

Reece made a formal protest to the House against Hays' conduct, but the incident was lost in the tumult over the attempt to rebuke and discredit McCarthy for his disclosures of treachery in the Pentagon in the Peress case and the Communist penetration of the secret works at Fort Monmouth.

Sargent has filed a suit in California seeking damages from Hays and a national radio chain for broadcasting statements about him which he held to have been defamatory.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 7, 1954

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The experts and the amateurs have a hundred answers to the juvenile problem, ranging from better training in the home to bigger police forces in our cities.

The New York City police decided not long ago to test the idea of the bigger force, and the city's police commissioner now has come up with the results of the experiment.

Authorities chose a section of New York known as East Harlem, a tumble-down tenement zone jammed with a mixture of races, an area where crime ran rampant. The normal complement of police guarding its populace is 186. Ten weeks ago some 250 extra policemen were added.

In the two and a half months that followed, major crime in the area was reduced nearly 50 per cent. The reinforced police battalions covering the section made arrests in 60 per cent of the cases that occurred, against an arrest record of just 20 per cent earlier.

Thus New York showed that more police could indeed cut the heavy crime rate, much of which is accounted for by juveniles stealing cars, robbing and mugging people on the streets, and so on. The uniformed cop in plain sight on the beat is a strong deterrent to wrongdoing.

But to achieve this striking reduction, note that the city had to boost its force about 150 per cent in an area only about a mile square.

Not every part of New York has so heavy an incidence of crime as East Harlem, but there are plenty like it in that city and most others in America. Imagine the cost of more than doubling the police force in all such crime-ridden areas.

The New York police commissioner told New Yorkers they can have "peace and security" in their homes "if they are willing to pay for it." He may indeed have demonstrated the effectiveness of a bigger police force, but it's a grave question whether New York or any other U. S. community can foot the huge bill involved.

Besides, necessary though it be, discouraging potential criminals is just part of the task. The bigger and more challenging part is finding a way to build community life and raise young men and women so they will not be potential criminals.

New York's interesting experiment has only emphasized the magnitude of this job.

The really wise person, we suspect, is the one accustomed to ask for information rather than to volunteer it.

DECEMBER SEVENTH

December Seventh is not a pleasant anniversary. It marks the day when a surprise attack dealt our fleet a crippling blow from which it took a long time to recover. It was an attack we might have anticipated and the damage that was done might have been prevented.

Yet there is reason to feel a certain pride on the anniversary of the day that Pearl Harbor was attacked. We were knocked down at Pearl Harbor but we were not knocked out. The blow was a hard one but it succeeded in waking us up to the place we had to play in the world.

The war we entered when Pearl Harbor was attacked is ended but it did not bring real peace. The danger that existed is still with us. It would be well for us on this December Seventh to "Remember Pearl Harbor," and reaffirm our determination that we will never allow ourselves to grow so weak or careless in mind or arms that we will again become the victims of a sneak attack. With the progress made in weapons, particularly the atomic and hydrogen weapons, it might not be so easy for us to get up from the floor.

There's nothing like a nice white snowfall to lift the spirits, bend the back—and let a man know how old he is. His rusty spine will remind him of it for hours after the walk has been cleared.

Our favorite people are those who grow younger while getting older.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE 13 CAPTIVES

To many who are interested in the Far East, the questions arise:

1. Was it a fluke in timing that the Chinese Communists announced the sentencing of 13 American prisoners-of-war at just the time they did?

2. Was it a premeditated slap in our face at a time when the Russians and the Chinese "Reds" were pressing their campaign for "peaceful coexistence"?

3. Why have they announced the sentencing of only 13 prisoners-of-war? What is being done about all the others?

4. Are they really warning the United States that if this country continues to support Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa, they will commit mayhem on American hostages?

The traditions of the Chinese people are best recorded in their novels, the most notable of which is the "Romance of the Three Kingdoms," from which most of the plays of the classical Chinese theatre have been adapted. It was written by Lo Kuan-chung (1260-1341). The hero of the novel is Chuko Liang, also called Kung-ming, who was the Prime Minister of Han. Literate or illiterate, all Chinese know the stories in this book because they are in the folklore of the people. One tale shows how words can be weapons.

Chuko Liang wants an adversary to die so he decides to write a letter that will kill him. It is not a poisoned letter but the words pierce the heart. This is the letter:

"You will permit me to say that a leader of an army should be able to go and come, to be facile and obdurate, to advance and retire, to show himself weak or strong, to be immovable as mountains, to be inscrutable as the operations of nature, to be infinite as the universe, to be everlasting as the blue void, to be vast as the ocean, to be dazzling as the lights of heaven, to foresee drouths and floods, to know the nature of the ground, to understand the possibilities of battle arrays, to conjecture the excellences and defects of the enemy.

"Alas! one of your sort, ignorant and inferior, rising impudently in heaven's vault, has had the presumption to assist a rebel to assume the imperial style and state at Loyang, to send some miserable soldiers into Hsiehku. There they happened upon drenching rain. The difficult roads wearied both men and horses, driving them frantic. Weapons and armour littered the countryside, swords and spears covered the ground. You, the Commander-in-chief, were heartbroken and cowed, your captains fled like rats. You dare not show your faces at home, nor can you enter the halls of state. The historians' pens will record your — salaries; the people will recount your — infamies. Chung-ta (Ssuma I) is frightened when he hears of battle fronts, you are alarmed at mere rumours. My men are fierce and their steeds strong; my great captains are eager as tigers and majestic as dragons. I shall sweep Ts'inchuan bare and make Wei desolate."

And the story recounts that the adversary, Tsao Chen read the letter and died.

It may sound like child's play to the Western mind, but in the East, where "face" is not destroyed by a Marxist revolution, the psychological value of a word is very great. In fact, the word is often synonymous with action and is of greater value. Here is China that in 1948 hardly had a modern army, twitting the great United States, holding Americans hostages, imprisoning American prisoners-of-war in violation of a truce agreement and international law—it is a terrific show of strength. It is something to make the Earth tremble.

Not the Manchu Emperors, not the Dowager Empress, not Yuan Shih-kai, not Chiang Kai-shek dared to flout the United States. But Mao Tze-tung takes such events in his stride, and the Americans fear his power because they do nothing about it but grumble. Mao is a doughty warrior who fights with guile. Perhaps this couplet from the same novel explains what is in his mind:

"'And now the west is mine,' the victor thought.

But danger from the north discretion taught."

And in that couplet lies the truth of the Red Chinese attitude toward the United States. They believe that the United States is so fearful of war that it has become cowardly. I lived in China for 13 years and know what a Chinese attitude toward the coward is—he kicks him in the groin. The coward has no "face" and a man without face is a despised creature. On the other hand, Mao Tze-tung knows that if he acted toward Russia as he does toward the United States, Russian forces would converge from every northern and western direction upon him.

Nobody wants war but in this muddled world, no nation can afford cowardice.

EARLY TREATMENT OF CANCER

About twelve years ago a middle-aged woman consulted her physician regarding what proved to be a suspicious growth on the uterus which he diagnosed as cancer. She was put on the usual treatment including X-ray in combination with radium and X-ray alone. She had returned to her physician regularly each year for examination, has had no recurrence, and is now considered cured.

In a new release from the American College of Radiology a report is given of a seventeen year review of X-ray treatment of more than seven hundred women suffering from cancer of the cervis which graphically illustrates the life-saving value of early diagnosis and treatment. The report was given by Dr. Ralph M. Caulk, Washington, D. C., to a meeting of over one thousand physicians specializing in the use of radium, X-rays, and radioactive substances in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

Dr. Caulk divided the disease into four stages related to the extent of the cancer when the radiation treatments were begun. The treatments included X-ray in combination with radium as well as X-ray alone. His experience showed what we have been learning all too well; that is, that early cancer is curable but late cancer is fatal. Thus it was found that 67 per cent of the women in State 1 survived the disease after treatment by radiation. This group included those in whom the condition had not become widespread.

Now it so happens that the Charter of the United Nations specifically says in Article 42 that the UN "may take such action by air, sea or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security," and then adds:

"Such action may include demonstrations, blockade, and other operations by air, sea or land forces of members of the United Nations."

WHEN THESE provisions of the Charter were before Congress to be ratified in 1945, a question arose as to whether the war powers of the Congress were being ignored.

Amendments were proposed by the late Sen. Taft, of Ohio, and by Sen. Wheeler, of Montana, to require Congressional authorization for the use of the armed forces of the United States whenever the contingency arose. But such proposals were rejected by the Senate. Likewise, Sen. Watkins, of Utah, by an amendment, endeavored to require the President to go to Congress before exercising certain powers under the North Atlantic treaty. This, too, failed.

A SENATE DOCUMENT presenting a lengthy opinion attributed to "the executive departments" in February, 1951, and issued by Sen. Connally, who was at that time chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, makes the flat statement that the President is under no obligation to get authorization from Congress before imposing a blockade or using the armed forces to carry out either UN or NATO obligations.

Indeed, the document quotes at length from a formal report made by both the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foriegn Affairs which discussed Article 42 of the UN Charter and then in identical language said:

"Preventive or enforcement action by these forces upon the order of the Security Council would not be an act of war but would be international action for the preservation of peace and for the purpose of preventing war. Consequently the provisions of the Charter do not affect the exclusive power of Congress to declare war."

IT WAS THIS, reasoning which the Department of State used in defending President Truman's decision to join with other United Nations forces in repelling aggression in Korea without asking authorization before or afterward from Congress.

So, when Mr. Eisenhower says to the nation that he cannot impose a blockade without going to Congress because it would be an "act of war," it means either that he has never been familiarized with the background of the American ratification of the UN Charter and the interpretation placed on it by committees of Congress, or else he means to reverse the Truman policy and take up with Congress beforehand any military or naval action hereafter required through the UN Charter or through the North Atlantic treaty provisions.

IN ANY EVENT, the President has justified Sen. Knowland's discussion of the subject by publicly declaring it to be a subject for Congressional action. But at the same time Mr. Eisenhower has added some confusion to the problem because, if he thinks the Korean armistice is a peace treaty, then it is the first time in history that an armistice has been accepted as a document that does what only a peace treaty can do—namely, end a state of war. For the very breaking of the armistice by Red China is an act of war against the United Nations. It remains to be seen whether the sixteen nations which fought in Korea will be content to let the matter rest with a resolution of "condemnation."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I call attention to insulting conduct by a member of Congress much more flagrant and abusive than anything charged against Senator Joe McCarthy. The New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Washington Post, and other papers of the same persuasion have ignored this outrage while they have hounded McCarthy for hounding traitors.

I now have in hand part 1 of the hearing of the Reece committee which investigated tax-exempt foundations, containing many insulting and abusive remarks by Congressman Wayne L. Hays, a Democrat, of Ohio. Hays interrupted one witness about 250 times in a three-hour period. His comments included an insulting intimation that a Roman Catholic nun, Sister Mary Margaret Patricia McCarran, of the College of the Holy Names, of Oakland, California, had obtained a degree of doctor of philosophy by subterfuge or other unethical means. She is a daughter of the late Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada. He also insinuated that there was something irregular or improper in her use of her surname on the title of a book on Fabian socialism in Britain which she wrote in preparation for her degree at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

In the closing days of the late election campaign, Drew Pearson, who often writes anti-Catholic slants but never attacks or slurs any other religious group, wrote and some newspapers published, a last-minute exculpation of Hays which was false as much of Pearson's material is. Pearson has so often been proven guilty of lying that one more case is only another pebble in a mountain of mendacity. His defense of Hays and the publication of that lying propaganda are important, however, in the development of the case against the American press as an untruthful, untrustworthy source of information, taken as a whole.

To be sure, there are many papers and a few magazines which are scrupulously honest. But there are so many which have demonstrated dishonesty in their treatment of the Alger Hiss and McCarthy cases, among others involving communism, that the press, as a whole, is under a large, dark cloud of guilt. The honest papers have no means of dissociating themselves from the press as a whole.

Thus far, they have failed to take the initiative to discredit the dishonest element in the interests of not only truth but the public and the instituion of he free press.

The witness in the present instance is Aaron M. Sargent, of San Francisco, testifying on matters in which the House commitee regarded him as an authority. He crossed the continent to give information to the House committee in obedience to a subpoena.

Hays heckled Sargent from the very outset and the record is replete with rude remarks. Hays personally acknowledged to me that he had uttered these attacks on the honor of Sister Mary Patricia and Catholic U., but said they were uttered in the heat of debate.

At one point, Hays asked Sargent apropos nothing at all, whether he believed in astrology, which is superstitious, not science. Sargent said he did not. Hays then asked Sargent why "there are so many peculiar people drawn to southern California." Sargent said he did not live in southern California and did not know why. Hays then remarked that "extremist" letters, left and right, arriving at his office, always came from Houston, Tex., or southern California.

Sargent made a reference to Sister Patricia's book, "Fabianism in the Life of Great Britain," and named the author. Hays said: "You say she is a sister?" Sargent replied, "She is a member of a Catholic order." Hays said: "I didn't know they used their last name."

Sargent: "That is her full name. Her full name appears on the book and that is who she is."

A little further along, Hays said: "You brought in the name of Sister Mary Margaret, and then you pause for emphasis and put in the name of McCarran. I submit to you that ordinarily people in the orders do not use the last name and I wonder if it is on the flyleaf of the book."

Sargent: "It is and I gave you the information about the author and the book. I wanted to make it clear that I was relying on a high-type of research book in the statement I made."

Hays: "Maybe we ought to subpoena the officials of the Catholic University and find out how high type this is. I happen to know something about the background of the author of that book, how long it took her to get a degree and so forth and even that there was a little pressure used or she would not have it yet."

Congressman Carroll Reece, of Tennessee, the chairman, protested: "I question seriously whether references of that type ought to be thrown out in the committee.

"I am interested in the decorum of the committee of the whole. I do not know this sister."

"I do not know her, either," Hays said, but I have done a little checking."

Hays also referred to the witness as "that fellow" and at another point, asked whether Clarence Manion, former dean of law of Notre Dame University had been "fired" by President Eisenhower.

"He did not fire him," Sargent said. "Are you attacking Manion along with the rest of them?"

At that, Hays crawled and said this was not his intention.

Reece made a formal protest to the House against Hays' conduct, but the incident was lost in the tumult over the attempt to rebuke and discredit McCarthy for his disclosures of treachery in the Pentagon in the Perss case and the Communist penetration of the secret works at Fort Monmouth.

Sargent has filed a suit in California seeking damages from Hays and a national radio chain for broadcasting statements about him which he held to have been defamatory.

Indians Invade Detroit

Detroit (AP)—Chief Chester Swallow, president of the North American Indian Club of Detroit, says there are more Indians living in Detroit and its suburbs than were there when Antoine Cadillac founded the city 250 years ago. Swallow, a Cherokee, estimates the Detroit and suburban Indian population at 1,500. They represent 14 tribes, he said, and are arriving at the rate of at least 100 a year.

Even Children Can Make Christmas Butter Cookies

CHILDREN LOVE TO MAKE these special Christmas butter cookies for their relatives

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Youngsters love to get into the act when mother is making Christmas cookies. Indulge their urge to make these gifts for friends and relatives—it's good for the true Chirstmas spirit!

Kate Stahl, food expert, tells us she began her cookie baking career in Denver as a very little girl. Used her grandmother's recipes. She learned to make 30 different kinds. They all were made with butter. Cookie expert Stahl still believes butter gives a rich and delicate flavor, especially when packed in paraffin cartons. She also thinks the cookies, gift wrapped, should be delivered on Christmas Eve.

She insists that even rolled cookies are not difficult for children to make.

Butter Cookies
(Approximately 3 dozen cookies)

One-half cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, ¾ teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about ½ hour. Roll dough to about ⅛-inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut with assorted Christmas cookie cutters; place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Decorate as desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Beef tongue with creamed horseradish and caper sauce, boiled potatoes with chopped parsley, buttered beets, rye bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, fruit bowl, butter cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Electronics Used To Tackle Traffic Problems in U. S.

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—It's a bigger Christmas in traffic jams, too. More traffic in store aisles means more tie-ups on the streets—and there are more cars than ever this year to get stuck at intersections.

Electronic engineers are busily tackling the traffic officer's problems. First they thought up use of radar to clock speedsters on the open stretches of streets and highways.

Next, in spots where traffic sometimes only crawls, if that, electronics thought up a scheme of using radar to report changes in volume of approaching traffic and to time the red lights accordingly.

NOW THE ENGINEERS are coming up with still another idea—using those mechanical brains you've read about and seen on television to clock and map changing traffic conditions and then more or less automatically change traffic signals over whole sections of the cities to accommodate sudden and unpredictable shifts in the flow of traffic, or such jams as occur at shift-changing time at factories.

If you've and doubt that traffic jams are getting worse, look at these statistics: the total number of miles traveled each year by motor vehicles has increased fivefold in the last 30 years, according to the bureau of public roads and the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. But the physical volume of work done on the roads has only doubled. Result:
More jams and overheated radiators.

THE PRESIDENT'S highway building program, to be submitted to the new Congress, will tackle the problem between cities. But the city's traffic load is still a headache. And there's where electronic engineers want to try both radar and mechanical brains to make traffic signals flexible rather than set.

The automatic signal division of eastern industries at Norwalk, Conn., is offering what it calls an electro-matic master cycle and offset selector system. This is an electronic computing gadget only 19 inches long, 7 inches high and 12 inches deep.

The gadget receives a steady stream of traffic information, mechanically reported from many intersections, which it files in its electric brain. The company engineers say the device then automatically determines the most efficient operating pattern for the traffic signals to which it is connected.

WHEN THE VOLUME of traffic from the east suddenly swells, traffic signals are turned to let it through the intersection. As northbound traffic volume builds up, the signals are changed to clear it and speed it on its way.

Engineers say the computer is set to disregard sharp swings, however, but rather to determine constantly the average volumes and compute the most efficient signal changes.

The gadget has a panel of meters and lights to give a centrally located traffic engineer a picture of what traffic is doing on key streets over a wide section of the city, if desired. There are control knobs and dials to permit him to set up a master signal pattern.

Electronic engineers claim it isn't as complicated as it sounds. The chief argument is that under the traffic systems widely used now, a master time clock sets a schedule of traffic lights to fit an expected flow of cars.

This is fine until changing weather, special events, or just plain driving whims send a rush of cars into one street and in one direction. Result: Either you can't get across an intersection, or you wait and wait for the light to change, without another car in sight.

SWEETY PIE — By Nadine Seltzer

State May Apply Federal Ruling to Aid Employment

By TONI ADAMS

Hudson, Dec. 7 (AP)—Out of this pillared old Dutch area has come an idea that may be taken up by the state's new Democratic administration in dealing with unemployment.

That idea is based on a former federal policy and, simply put, means the state would favor companies in its so-called distressed areas when it considered bids on government projects and purchases. In other words, the state would balance unemployment against the lowest bidder.

The idea was put forth, naturally, by a man who would stand to gain: Orlin Johnson, president of Gifford-Wood Co., which has been in the machinery business here for 140 years. Johnson says his company is venturing into a new field—automatic cookers and the like—but there is competition and he doesn't know how many persons he might employ eventually.

COLUMBIA COUNTY needs jobs now for about 1,500 of its labor force of 17,000 to 18,000, according to Daniel Egan, manager of the state's employment office here. Only 550 are receiving unemployment insurance benefits. The others are living on savings or welfare, and their number is just a guess.

However, politicians on both sides of the fence express worry about employment, even though the Hudson valley's big cement industry is booming. The federal government lists Hudson as a surplus-labor area.

One of the disheartening factors undoubtedly is the state's two-year-old investigation of prostitution and gambling here. Says Paul Ameling, a dark-haired, vibrant young attorney who heads the executive committee of the chamber of commerce: "We have excellent labor resources, natural resources, transportation, churches, schools" but, for instance, one clergyman told an interested industrial group that "this is a den of iniquity, no place to raise kids."

THERE'S NO ESTIMATE of the income gained a few years ago in gambling and prostitution in Hudson. One authority says the gambling money all went elsewhere.

Whatever the record of the past, civic leaders now hope to wipe out the black mark and attract new industry.

The county was hit hard by the closing in September, 1953, of the Juilliard Textile Mill. The needle trades are reported doing well here, but Juilliard, a manufacturer of expensive coat goods, fell by the wayside—some say because of French imports, others say labor trouble, and others simply "operating costs." The closing sent 650 workers after unemployment benefits. Egan estimates that three to four hundred persons still are unemployed although only a few still are receiving benefits.

Hudson is not a one-industry town, however, and there's a chance that a man thrown out of textile work can go into the cement, matches, machinery or dress-making trade.

Hudson citizens appear hopeful, if not optimistic, of economic improvement.

Colors are weapons in a home. Blue, for instance, is soothing and restful. It might make an excitable person more calm, but on the other hand, it might make a moody person depressed.

Next, in spots where traffic sometimes only crawls, if that, electronics thought up a scheme of using radar to report changes in volume of approaching traffic and to time the red lights accordingly.

NOW THE ENGINEERS are coming up with still another idea—using those mechanical brains you've read about and seen on television to clock and map changing traffic conditions and then more or less automatically change traffic signals over whole sections of the cities to accommodate sudden and unpredictable shifts in the flow of traffic, or such jams as occur at shift-changing time at factories.

If you've and doubt that traffic jams are getting worse, look at these statistics: the total number of miles traveled each year by motor vehicles has increased fivefold in the last 30 years, according to the bureau of public roads and the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. But the physical volume of work done on the roads has only doubled. Result:
More jams and overheated radiators.

THE PRESIDENT'S highway building program, to be submitted to the new Congress, will tackle the problem between cities. But the city's traffic load is still a headache. And there's where electronic engineers want to try both radar and mechanical brains to make traffic signals flexible rather than set.

The automatic signal division of eastern industries at Norwalk, Conn., is offering what it calls an electro-matic master cycle and offset selector system. This is an electronic computing gadget only 19 inches long, 7 inches high and 12 inches deep.

The gadget receives a steady stream of traffic information, mechanically reported from many intersections, which it files in its electric brain. The company engineers say the device then automatically determines the most efficient operating pattern for the traffic signals to which it is connected.

WHEN THE VOLUME of traffic from the east suddenly swells, traffic signals are turned to let it through the intersection. As northbound traffic volume builds up, the signals are changed to clear it and speed it on its way.

Engineers say the computer is set to disregard sharp swings, however, but rather to determine constantly the average volumes and compute the most efficient signal changes.

The gadget has a panel of meters and lights to give a centrally located traffic engineer a picture of what traffic is doing on key streets over a wide section of the city, if desired. There are control knobs and dials to permit him to set up a master signal pattern.

Electronic engineers claim it isn't as complicated as it sounds. The chief argument is that under the traffic systems widely used now, a master time clock sets a schedule of traffic lights to fit an expected flow of cars.

This is fine until changing weather, special events, or just plain driving whims send a rush of cars into one street and in one direction. Result: Either you can't get across an intersection, or you wait and wait for the light to change, without another car in sight.

State May Apply Federal Ruling to Aid Employment

By TONI ADAMS

Hudson, Dec. 7 (AP)—Out of this pillared old Dutch area has come an idea that may be taken up by the state's new Democratic administration in dealing with unemployment.

That idea is based on a former federal policy and, simply put, means the state would favor companies in its so-called distressed areas when it considered bids on government projects and purchases. In other words, the state would balance unemployment against the lowest bidder.

The idea was put forth, naturally, by a man who would stand to gain: Orlin Johnson, president of Gifford-Wood Co., which has been in the machinery business here for 140 years. Johnson says his company is venturing into a new field—automatic cookers and the like—but there is competition and he doesn't know how many persons he might employ eventually.

COLUMBIA COUNTY needs jobs now for about 1,500 of its labor force of 17,000 to 18,000, according to Daniel Egan, manager of the state's employment office here. Only 550 are receiving unemployment insurance benefits. The others are living on savings or welfare, and their number is just a guess.

However, politicians on both sides of the fence express worry about employment, even though the Hudson valley's big cement industry is booming. The federal government lists Hudson as a surplus-labor area.

One of the disheartening factors undoubtedly is the state's two-year-old investigation of prostitution and gambling here. Says Paul Ameling, a dark-haired, vibrant young attorney who heads the executive committee of the chamber of commerce: "We have excellent labor resources, natural resources, transportation, churches, schools" but, for instance, one clergyman told an interested industrial group that "this is a den of iniquity, no place to raise kids."

THERE'S NO ESTIMATE of the income gained a few years ago in gambling and prostitution in Hudson. One authority says the gambling money all went elsewhere.

Whatever the record of the past, civic leaders now hope to wipe out the black mark and attract new industry.

The county was hit hard by the closing in September, 1953, of the Juilliard Textile Mill. The needle trades are reported doing well here, but Juilliard, a manufacturer of expensive coat goods, fell by the wayside—some say because of French imports, others say labor trouble, and others simply "operating costs." The closing sent 650 workers after unemployment benefits. Egan estimates that three to four hundred persons still are unemployed although only a few still are receiving benefits.

Hudson is not a one-industry town, however, and there's a chance that a man thrown out of textile work can go into the cement, matches, machinery or dress-making trade.

Hudson citizens appear hopeful, if not optimistic, of economic improvement.

Colors are weapons in a home. Blue, for instance, is soothing and restful. It might make an excitable person more calm, but on the other hand, it might make a moody person depressed.

How to work successfully with a stock broker

[ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS]

SEYMOUR KREISEL, Attorney, Bronx, N. Y.

Select a broker worthy of your confidence. Deal with a firm that is a member of the New York Stock Exchange. Be frank about your aims and finances, so their counsel will be based on a knowledge of your needs.

E. W. MACOY, Consultant, Old Greenwich, Conn.

Be sure to get your broker's opinion of the stock you want to buy. His advice is not based on hunch, but on experience and research. Let him work with you.

ROBERT W. LIKINS, Electrical Engineer, Alameda, Calif.

Don't try to high-pressure a broker to find you sudden stock profits. America's leading companies don't balloon overnight. Better seek sound companies that have proven their ability to weather storms.

In this growing America there are over 400,000 corporations.

But the stocks of only about 1,100 of the largest of these are bought and sold on the New York Stock Exchange—the best-known and the most widely owned.

When you call on a member firm of the Exchange, you find experienced and friendly brokers with specialized information on America's top companies.

Whether you are buying or selling or merely seeking information, our representatives are at your service.

Even Children Can Make Christmas Butter Cookies

CHILDREN LOVE TO MAKE these special Christmas butter cookies for their relatives

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Youngsters love to get into the act when mother is making Christmas cookies. Indulge their urge to make these gifts for friends and relatives—it's good for the true Chirstmas spirit!

Kate Stahl, food expert, tells us she began her cookie baking career in Denver as a very little girl. Used her grandmother's recipes. She learned to make 30 different kinds. They all were made with butter. Cookie expert Stahl still believes butter gives a rich and delicate flavor, especially when packed in paraffin cartons. She also thinks the cookies, gift wrapped, should be delivered on Christmas Eve.

She insists that even rolled cookies are not difficult for children to make.

Butter Cookies
(Approximately 3 dozen cookies)

One-half cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, ¾ teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about ½ hour. Roll dough to about ⅛-inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut with assorted Christmas cookie cutters; place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Decorate as desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Beef tongue with creamed horseradish and caper sauce, boiled potatoes with chopped parsley, buttered beets, rye bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, fruit bowl, butter cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Electronics Used To Tackle Traffic Problems in U. S.

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—It's a bigger Christmas in traffic jams, too. More traffic in store aisles means more tie-ups on the streets—and there are more cars than ever this year to get stuck at intersections.

Electronic engineers are busily tackling the traffic officer's problems. First they thought up use of radar to clock speedsters on the open stretches of streets and highways.

Next, in spots where traffic sometimes only crawls, if that, electronics thought up a scheme of using radar to report changes in volume of approaching traffic and to time the red lights accordingly.

NOW THE ENGINEERS are coming up with still another idea—using those mechanical brains you've read about and seen on television to clock and map changing traffic conditions and then more or less automatically change traffic signals over whole sections of the cities to accommodate sudden and unpredictable shifts in the flow of traffic, or such jams as occur at shift-changing time at factories.

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible by Norman Vincent Peale
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

Joseph and Mary

NOW the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph, her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens

The Ghost of Christmas Present showed Scrooge the people of London cheerfully shoveling snow off their roofs. They were happy and full of glee, for it was Christmas morning.

And he showed Scrooge the shops, rich to bursting with the abundance of Christmas.

And then the church bells rang from every steeple, and Scrooge saw the people flocking to church in their best clothes and with their gayest faces.

Hand Puppets Made By Girl Scouts

Woodstock, Dec. 6—Members of Girl Scout Troop 12 embarked upon a new project last week, making hand puppets under the direction of Mrs. Charles Steele. The group has been hard at work assembling pictures for the vertical file at the Woodstock Library. Mrs. Charles Rapp, troop leader, is in charge of the project with Miss Frances Rogers, and it is expected that in the near future the group will start classifying and mounting the pictures for the file.

Brownie Troop 46 is making nature scrap books, according to troop reporters Michele Fischer and Mary Elizabeth Elwyn. They have pasted leaves and spatter prints in the scrap books. Recently the troop was invited to attend the investiture of Brownie Troop 29.

The investiture of Brownie Troop 29, with their leaders, Mrs. George V. Kelley officiating; assisted by Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Mrs. Jo Chalmers, with parents and friends present. The following Brownies participated in the investure ceremony: Helen Avery, Helen Stern, Elaine and Carol Cousins, Lawrence Webster, Polly Wilson, Razelle Champanier, Julie Holumzer, Nancy Klothe, Gail Green, Susie Perlman, Jean Orton, Jean Danch, Christen Shults. For the color guard were Polly Wilson, bearer of the American flag and Susie Perlman, guard; Julie Holumzer, bearer of the troop flag, and Jean Orton, guard. Officers of the troop elected at the last meeting were: Elaine Cousins, president; Nancy Klothe, treasurer; and Gail Green, secretary.

Girl Scout Troop 74 has divided into two patrols, the Coral Patrol, with Dorothy Haeussler, leader and Sue Gurland, assistant; and the Hikers Patrol with Susan Foster, leader and Joanne Marr, assistant. Barbara Cohn is treasurer and Pamela Dendy, scribe.

To Meet Thursday

Woodstock, Dec. 6—The Overlook Home Bureau will meet Thursday, Dec. 9, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., instead of at the home of Mrs. Bud Blazy as recently announced. The meeting will take place at 8 p. m., and will be the annual Christmas meeting to which each member has been requested to bring a small gift.

Budget Approved At P-TA Meeting

Woodstock, Dec. 6 — The World of Our Youth was the topic discussed by the Rev. Herald Swezy at the Woodstock Parent-Teachers Association meeting Thursday night at the Woodstock School.

The budget for the year was approved by the membership with items as follows: On Hand —$286.17; Local Dues—$66.50; totalling $352.67. There will be a $300 fund raising project, it was announced, for a graduation party, the expenses of which will be $100; of the $200, 50 per cent will go into next year's budget, and the other 50 per cent will be used for musical instruments. The association plans to spend $25 for Christmas decorations for the school; hospitality $15; teen-age dances $25; graduation prize $20, postage and stationery $5; program expenses, including possible transportation for a speaker, $10; P-TA publications $10. Over and above the amount allocated for musical instruments out of the $300 fund-raising project, there is $150 for a further musical instrument fund.

A box has been placed at the entrance during P-TA meetings where contributions may be made toward the refreshment fund.

Dr. Hans J. Cohn will serve as chairman of the January meeting, and other speakers will be present to be announced later.

W. W. Stifler, 71, Dies at Amherst

Woodstock, Dec. 6—William Warren Stifler, 71, professor emeritus of physics, at Amherst College, died Thursday night at Amherst. He was the father of William Stifler, Jr., of this village. Mr. Stifler was born in Davenport, Ia., and was graduated from the University of Illinois. After teaching in colleges and universities he went to China in 1917 and remained there seven years in college teaching.

He returned to this country to become acting professor of physics at Williams College and went to Amherst in 1925. He also was a visiting professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Columbia. He retired in 1953.

In addition to his son he is survived by his wife, and a daughter, Mrs. George Waller of Indianapolis, Ind.

New Class Starts

Woodstock, Dec. 6—A new class in jewelry and enameling started at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Joan Pond. The class will be in session every Wednesday from 1:15 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. Those wishing to register for the class may do so at the Guild with Mrs. Albert Wangler.

Sportsmen to Put Up Tree on Green

Woodstock, Dec. 6—A trap shoot at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club Sunday afternoon raised $96 for the club.

The club plans to put up the Christmas tree on the village green Dec. 18. The tree has been donated by Joseph F. Marr of Bearsville.

Traveling Leaf

Greensville, Pa. (AP) — J. B. Rimer found a giant sycamore leaf measuring 14 inches across and 12 inches high in his yard. The discovery was particularly startling because Rimer said there isn't a sycamore tree within miles of his property.

If Your Watch Stops

When a watch stops it usually gets more abuse than at any other time. Frequently the owner of a watch will seriously damage his watch by trying to make it run when it has stopped because of some minor ailment. According to the Jewelry Industry Council, there is one thing that you can do when your watch stops before you take it to the jeweler. See whether you have forgotten to wind it. Be careful to put very gentle pressure on the winding button as it may already be fully wound. Do not tamper with the movement or shake it violently. A stopped watch, for any other reason than neglected winding, means that something is wrong with the movement which only a skilled watchmaker can discover and repair.

Pillows that can be washed, cover, insides, and all, right in the machine, are good bets for college rooms and college girls with little time.

Hand Puppets Made By Girl Scouts

Woodstock, Dec. 6—Members of Girl Scout Troop 12 embarked upon a new project last week, making hand puppets under the direction of Mrs. Charles Steele. The group has been hard at work assembling pictures for the vertical file at the Woodstock Library. Mrs. Charles Rapp, troop leader, is in charge of the project with Miss Frances Rogers, and it is expected that in the near future the group will start classifying and mounting the pictures for the file.

Brownie Troop 46 is making nature scrap books, according to troop reporters Michele Fischer and Mary Elizabeth Elwyn. They have pasted leaves and spatter prints in the scrap books. Recently the troop was invited to attend the investiture of Brownie Troop 29.

The investiture of Brownie Troop 29, with their leaders, Mrs. George V. Kelley officiating; assisted by Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Mrs. Jo Chalmers, with parents and friends present. The following Brownies participated in the investure ceremony: Helen Avery, Helen Stern, Elaine and Carol Cousins, Lawrence Webster, Polly Wilson, Razelle Champanier, Julie Holumzer, Nancy Klothe, Gail Green, Susie Perlman, Jean Orton, Jean Danch, Christen Shults. For the color guard were Polly Wilson, bearer of the American flag and Susie Perlman, guard; Julie Holumzer, bearer of the troop flag, and Jean Orton, guard. Officers of the troop elected at the last meeting were: Elaine Cousins, president; Nancy Klothe, treasurer; and Gail Green, secretary.

Girl Scout Troop 74 has divided into two patrols, the Coral Patrol, with Dorothy Haeussler, leader and Sue Gurland, assistant; and the Hikers Patrol with Susan Foster, leader and Joanne Marr, assistant. Barbara Cohn is treasurer and Pamela Dendy, scribe.

To Meet Thursday

Woodstock, Dec. 6—The Overlook Home Bureau will meet Thursday, Dec. 9, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., instead of at the home of Mrs. Bud Blazy as recently announced. The meeting will take place at 8 p. m., and will be the annual Christmas meeting to which each member has been requested to bring a small gift.

Budget Approved At P-TA Meeting

Woodstock, Dec. 6 — The World of Our Youth was the topic discussed by the Rev. Herald Swezy at the Woodstock Parent-Teachers Association meeting Thursday night at the Woodstock School.

The budget for the year was approved by the membership with items as follows: On Hand —$286.17; Local Dues—$66.50; totalling $352.67. There will be a $300 fund raising project, it was announced, for a graduation party, the expenses of which will be $100; of the $200, 50 per cent will go into next year's budget, and the other 50 per cent will be used for musical instruments. The association plans to spend $25 for Christmas decorations for the school; hospitality $15; teen-age dances $25; graduation prize $20, postage and stationery $5; program expenses, including possible transportation for a speaker, $10; P-TA publications $10. Over and above the amount allocated for musical instruments out of the $300 fund-raising project, there is $150 for a further musical instrument fund.

A box has been placed at the entrance during P-TA meetings where contributions may be made toward the refreshment fund.

Dr. Hans J. Cohn will serve as chairman of the January meeting, and other speakers will be present to be announced later.

W. W. Stifler, 71, Dies at Amherst

Woodstock, Dec. 6—William Warren Stifler, 71, professor emeritus of physics, at Amherst College, died Thursday night at Amherst. He was the father of William Stifler, Jr., of this village. Mr. Stifler was born in Davenport, Ia., and was graduated from the University of Illinois. After teaching in colleges and universities he went to China in 1917 and remained there seven years in college teaching.

He returned to this country to become acting professor of physics at Williams College and went to Amherst in 1925. He also was a visiting professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Columbia. He retired in 1953.

In addition to his son he is survived by his wife, and a daughter, Mrs. George Waller of Indianapolis, Ind.

New Class Starts

Woodstock, Dec. 6—A new class in jewelry and enameling started at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Joan Pond. The class will be in session every Wednesday from 1:15 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. Those wishing to register for the class may do so at the Guild with Mrs. Albert Wangler.

Sportsmen to Put Up Tree on Green

Woodstock, Dec. 6—A trap shoot at the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club Sunday afternoon raised $96 for the club.

The club plans to put up the Christmas tree on the village green Dec. 18. The tree has been donated by Joseph F. Marr of Bearsville.

Serving on the club committee to work with the Ladies' Auxiliary for the Christmas party to be held at the club Dec. 18 are: Fred Markle, Nelson Shultis and Richard Whalen. Club members and their families only are invited to attend the annual Christmas party.

Traveling Leaf

Greensville, Pa. (AP) — J. B. Rimer found a giant sycamore leaf measuring 14 inches across and 12 inches high in his yard. The discovery was particularly startling because Rimer said there isn't a sycamore tree within miles of his property.

If Your Watch Stops

When a watch stops it usually gets more abuse than at any other time. Frequently the owner of a watch will seriously damage his watch by trying to make it run when it has stopped because of some minor ailment. According to the Jewelry Industry Council, there is one thing that you can do when your watch stops before you take it to the jeweler. See whether you have forgotten to wind it. Be careful to put very gentle pressure on the winding button as it may already be fully wound. Do not tamper with the movement or shake it violently. A stopped watch, for any other reason than neglected winding, means that something is wrong with the movement which only a skilled watchmaker can discover and repair.

Pillows that can be washed, cover, insides, and all, right in the machine, are good bets for college rooms and college girls with little time.

A Christmas Carol By Charles Dickens

The Ghost of Christmas Present showed Scrooge the people of London cheerfully shoveling snow off their roofs. They were happy and full of glee, for it was Christmas morning.

And he showed Scrooge the shops, rich to bursting with the abundance of Christmas.

And then the church bells rang from every steeple, and Scrooge saw the people flocking to church in their best clothes and with their gayest faces.

Flying Antique

Des Moines (AP)—You may wonder if the calendar has been turned back if you see Howard Gregory and E. D. Weeks, Des Moines businessmen, out flying. Their plane is a replica of a 1912 Curtiss pusher-type biplane, flown by Glenn H. Curtiss, pioneer aviator. No basic improvements in the design of the plane have been made. Weeks and Gregory, both experienced pilots, say they've had to acquire a few new skills since they bought the aircraft last summer because it doesn't handle the same as modern planes.

Heat drained canned small white onions in a cheese sauce; sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley before serving.

Delayed Action

Falls City, Neb. (AP)—An ex-convict who said he was ill and wanted to go back to prison described how he broke into a store and waited there six hours for someone to catch him—all to no avail. James A. McKeon, 57, pleaded guilty to burglarizing the Marsh Grocery Store at nearby Verdon. He said he ate some bananas and drank a quart of milk while he waited in the store. "I had no idea I would get out without being caught," he said. McKeon said he finally gave up and left. He was arrested several days later at Stella, Neb.

Flying Antique

Des Moines (AP)—You may wonder if the calendar has been turned back if you see Howard Gregory and E. D. Weeks, Des Moines businessmen, out flying. Their plane is a replica of a 1912 Curtiss pusher-type biplane, flown by Glenn H. Curtiss, pioneer aviator. No basic improvements in the design of the plane have been made. Weeks and Gregory, both experienced pilots, say they've had to acquire a few new skills since they bought the aircraft last summer because it doesn't handle the same as modern planes.

Heat drained canned small white onions in a cheese sauce; sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley before serving.

Delayed Action

Falls City, Neb. (AP)—An ex-convict who said he was ill and wanted to go back to prison described how he broke into a store and waited there six hours for someone to catch him—all to no avail. James A. McKeon, 57, pleaded guilty to burglarizing the Marsh Grocery Store at nearby Verdon. He said he ate some bananas and drank a quart of milk while he waited in the store. "I had no idea I would get out without being caught," he said. McKeon said he finally gave up and left. He was arrested several days later at Stella, Neb.

The first decennial census in the United States was taken in 1790.

Pipeline to Adventure

Detroit (AP)—Ten men who inspect pipelines between Detroit and Big Rapids say life can be exciting. Included, have been forest and field fires, auto accidents and other emergencies. They've even had to rush expectant mothers to the hospital. In addition, they have to contend with nervous bulls, goats, and farmers, who don't like trespassers.

Luncheon Honors Meat Officials

Officials of the Forst Packing Company were honored guests at a luncheon on Monday given by the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The luncheon was part of a program to recognize the importance of our established industries to the economic life of our community and to learn more about them.

Guests from the Forst Packing Company were Henry Forst, secretary and treasurer, and Russell Maurer, comptroller. N. Jansen Fowler, president of the chamber, presided.

THE LUNCHEON was followed by an informal discussion. Questions disclosed the fact that the Forst Packing Company does a nation-wide mail order business. In fact, "Catskill Mountain" brand smoked turkeys, pheasants hams and other delicacy products are exported to Europe, Africa, South America, Mexico and practically every other region in the world. It was also reported that the demand for a relatively new product, "Frend" brand dog food, at times exceeds the production capacity and is being distributed over a wider area than the Hudson Valley where most "Formost" brand meat products are distributed. The Forst Packing Company has an annual payroll of more than a half-million dollars.

It was reported that similar luncheons will be held from time to time in recognition of other industries.

INDUSTRIAL DISCUSSION — At a conference with officers of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, representatives of the Forst Packing Company, Inc., 113 Abeel street, discuss plans for the period of expansion anticipated with the opening of IBM and other industries bound to follow. Seated are Russel Maurer, a representative of the local meat packing firm and Henry Forst, vice president and treasurer, with N. Jansen Fowler, president of the C of C; Standing, Clarence H. Buddenhagen, vice president of the chamber and Mayor Frederick H. Stang, who sat in at the conference. (Freeman photo).

West Shokan Hunter Fined for Trespassing

Philip Coletti of West Shokan, who was one of six persons arrested during the weekend of Nov. 26 to 28 on charges of trespassing on New York reservoir property for the purpose of hunting, paid $12.50 in a civil compromise before Justice of the Peace William Molloy of Phoenicia on Friday night.

The others had previously paid similar amounts. Coletti had been given an adjournment at the time of his arraignment last week.

The arrests were made by Board of Water Supply police, who said that no entry may be made on city reservoir property for any purpose except fishing with a permit.

Driver Is Fined

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A driver whose automobile was involved in an accident last Feb. 17 in which the wife of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was injured was fined $100 and given a suspended 30-day jail sentence today. The driver, Bengt Nordberg, 47, of Scarsdale, N. Y., pleaded guilty in Special Sessions Court to a charge of driving while intoxicated. Nordberg paid the fine. Nordberg's car collided with a taxicab in which Mrs. McCarthy was a passenger. She suffered a fractured ankle.

Playboy Is Given

ter mind off to the whereabouts of heavily insured valuables.

TWO OTHER accomplices—"Cat Burglar" George Chatham, 42, and cracksman Robert Melrose, 40—got 10 years apiece because they had long criminal records.

All four were charged specifically with blowing a Mayfair jeweler's safe last July and making off with 37,000 pounds ($103,600) worth of gold leaf.

Chatham, an expert at stealthy second story work, brought the gang to grief. Detectives who arrested him on suspicion found fragments of metal from the dynamited strongbox embedded in his pocket comb.

Lough White, the son of a doctor, once owned a fashionable night club in Mayfair. He lived on a grand scale, with two private airplanes, a yacht, three automobiles, a town house and a country cottage.

HIS ONLY PREVIOUS brush with the law came five years ago, when he was sentenced to 12 months for the somewhat more respectable crime of illegally exporting planes to Israel.

After his arrest on the safe-cracking charge, he led police to the hiding place of the gang's acetylene torches, explosives and other equpiment.

The equipment was designed by Lough White, whose talents included a thorough understanding of electronics. His refinements included such items as portable transformers to step up the local current for his electric arc cutting tools.

THEY WON'T ROLL—William Shadden, 8, of Ft. Scott, Kan., holds "Blockhead," his hen which lays eggs with two flat sides. The year-old hen laid perfectly formed eggs for two months last summer, then started laying flat-sided ones which are stacked at right.

Newburgh Man Awaits Grand Jury

George J. Raymond, Jr., 27, of 15 DuBois street, Newburgh, who was arrested on a traffic charge and held while troopers investigated complaints that he allegedly represented himself as a state trooper, has been ordered held for grand jury action on a charge of impersonating an officer.

State police of the Highland station accused him of introducing himself to various area tavern owners as a state policeman and borrowing money from them.

ARRAIGNED BEFORE Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen on the impersonation charge, alleging violation of Article 86, subdivision 931, an indictable misdemeanor, Raymond waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action.

On the traffic charge he was originally picked up on, one of being an unlicensed operator, Raymond pleaded guilty before Justice Palen and was fined $10.

chases to be made "at the sole direction of Charles Messenger chairman of the troop committee or his successor in office.

OTHER BEQUESTS made to family members were included for his brother, Leo V. Tocks of Springfield, Ill., sisters Marie Richard and Edna Johnston, both of Greenville, Ill.

The remainder of the estate was left in trust for Col. Tocks' widow, Isabel Tocks, providing a monthly income for support and maintenance and the support, maintenance and education of their son, Jonathan.

After a period of 25 years, the will provides that the body of the trust with any accumulations be paid to Mrs. Tocks and the son in equal shares. In the event that both beneficiaries should die before expiration of the 25-year period, the body of the trust would be paid to the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals in equal shares.

The Kingston Trust Company was named both trustee and executor.

The will also directs that John B. Wilkie of Hurley be named attorney for the estate and trusts.

20,000 to Be Called

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The army today issued a draft call for 20,000 men in February, a drop from the quotas announced for the seven previous months. The Defense Department said also that the 20,000 level will be maintained through next June. The new call brings to 1,878,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since Selective Service was resumed in September 1950. The army had no immediate explanation for the decrease in draft calls but officials pointed to recent increases in re-enlistment rates among men who originally volunteered for service.

Cars Are Derailed

Detroit, Dec. 7 (AP)—Three baggage cars of the New York Central's Wolverine were derailed today as the passenger train was pulling into the Michigan Central depot from New York. No passenger cars went off the track and no one was injured. New York Central spokesmen said the cause of the accident was not determined immediately. The train, already an hour and 15 minutes late, was delayed another 40 minutes by the accident.

Failures Are Fewer

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Business failures in the week ended Dec. 2 totaled 221 compared with 226 in the preceding week and 202 in the like week a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Failures involving liabilities of $5,000 or more totaled 190 against 185 in the preceding week and 133 a year ago.

OTHER BEQUESTS made to family members were included for his brother, Leo V. Tocks of Springfield, Ill., sisters Marie Richard and Edna Johnston, both of Greenville, Ill.

The remainder of the estate was left in trust for Col. Tocks' widow, Isabel Tocks, providing a monthly income for support and maintenance and the support, maintenance and education of their son, Jonathan.

After a period of 25 years, the will provides that the body of the trust with any accumulations be paid to Mrs. Tocks and the son in equal shares. In the event that both beneficiaries should die before expiration of the 25-year period, the body of the trust would be paid to the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals in equal shares.

The Kingston Trust Company was named both trustee and executor.

The will also directs that John B. Wilkie of Hurley be named attorney for the estate and trusts.

20,000 to Be Called

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The army today issued a draft call for 20,000 men in February, a drop from the quotas announced for the seven previous months. The Defense Department said also that the 20,000 level will be maintained through next June. The new call brings to 1,878,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since Selective Service was resumed in September 1950. The army had no immediate explanation for the decrease in draft calls but officials pointed to recent increases in re-enlistment rates among men who originally volunteered for service.

Cars Are Derailed

Detroit, Dec. 7 (AP)—Three baggage cars of the New York Central's Wolverine were derailed today as the passenger train was pulling into the Michigan Central depot from New York. No passenger cars went off the track and no one was injured. New York Central spokesmen said the cause of the accident was not determined immediately. The train, already an hour and 15 minutes late, was delayed another 40 minutes by the accident.

Failures Are Fewer

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Business failures in the week ended Dec. 2 totaled 221 compared with 226 in the preceding week and 202 in the like week a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Failures involving liabilities of $5,000 or more totaled 190 against 185 in the preceding week and 133 a year ago.

West Shokan Hunter Fined for Trespassing

Philip Coletti of West Shokan, who was one of six persons arrested during the weekend of Nov. 26 to 28 on charges of trespassing on New York reservoir property for the purpose of hunting, paid $12.50 in a civil compromise before Justice of the Peace William Molloy of Phoenicia on Friday night.

The others had previously paid similar amounts. Coletti had been given an adjournment at the time of his arraignment last week.

The arrests were made by Board of Water Supply police, who said that no entry may be made on city reservoir property for any purpose except fishing with a permit.

Driver Is Fined

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A driver whose automobile was involved in an accident last Feb. 17 in which the wife of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was injured was fined $100 and given a suspended 30-day jail sentence today. The driver, Bengt Nordberg, 47, of Scarsdale, N. Y., pleaded guilty in Special Sessions Court to a charge of driving while intoxicated. Nordberg paid the fine. Nordberg's car collided with a taxicab in which Mrs. McCarthy was a passenger. She suffered a fractured ankle.

TWO OTHER accomplices—"Cat Burglar" George Chatham, 42, and cracksman Robert Melrose, 40—got 10 years apiece because they had long criminal records.

All four were charged specifically with blowing a Mayfair jeweler's safe last July and making off with 37,000 pounds ($103,600) worth of gold leaf.

Chatham, an expert at stealthy second story work, brought the gang to grief. Detectives who arrested him on suspicion found fragments of metal from the dynamited strongbox embedded in his pocket comb.

Lough White, the son of a doctor, once owned a fashionable night club in Mayfair. He lived on a grand scale, with two private airplanes, a yacht, three automobiles, a town house and a country cottage.

HIS ONLY PREVIOUS brush with the law came five years ago, when he was sentenced to 12 months for the somewhat more respectable crime of illegally exporting planes to Israel.

After his arrest on the safe-cracking charge, he led police to the hiding place of the gang's acetylene torches, explosives and other equipment.

The equipment was designed by Lough White, whose talents included a thorough understanding of electronics. His refinements included such items as portable transformers to step up the local current for his electric arc cutting tools.

De Meo May End Prosecution Case Against 3 Youths

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Asst. Dist. Atty. Albert De Meo says he expects to wind up the prosecution today at the Brooklyn trial of three alleged members of a kill-for-thrill gang.

At yesterday's session, the defense cross-examined 15-year-old Robert Trachtenberg who was indicted with three teenage pals on first degree murder charges but was granted a separate trial.

Trachtenberg, star witness for the prosecution, testified last Friday against Jack Koslow, 18; Melvin Hittman, 17, and Jerome Lieberman, 17.

The four are charged with the killing of Willard Menter, 34, a factory worker, who drowned in the East River on the night of Aug. 16 after being tortured and beaten.

TRACHTENBERG admitted under cross-examination yesterday that part of the testimony he gave Friday differed from the story he told to an assistant district attorney after his arrest.

In a statement on Aug. 19, Trachtenberg reportedly said Koslow had thrown a punch at Menter, and as Mentor ducked the blow he fell into the river. On Friday, Trachtenberg testified that Mittman had told him that Koslow pushed Menter into the river.

Trachtenberg testified yesterday that he lied in his earlier statement to "protect" the defendants and himself.

Trachtenberg said he had offered no objection when matches and a lighted cigarette were touched to Menter's bare feet as he slept intoxicated on a Brooklyn park bench, or when he was told later that Menter had been pushed into the water.

The cross - examination of Trachtenberg brought an admission that he had gone "bum hunting" at least once without Koslow before the night of the alleged murder.

Rate Is Below 1953

Albany, Dec. 7 (AP)—Heading into the last month of the year, the 1954 polio rate in the 57 counties outside New York city was running about 36 per cent behind last year's level. The State Health Department said yesterday that 43 new cases were reported in the week that ended Dec. 4, bringing the 1954 total of 1,378. In the same period in 1953, there were 2,134 cases reported. These counties reported new cases last week: Nassau, 9; Suffolk and Westchester, 5 each; Erie, 4; Oneida and Onondaga, 3 each; Broome and Montgomery, 2 each; and Cayuga, Herkimer, Monroe, Niagara, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, St. Lawrence, Steuben and Ulster, 1 each.

Hasbroucks to Meet

Hasbrouck Engine Co. No. 1 Inc., of Connelly will hold a regular monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m., it has been announced by the secretary, Robert L. Scherer. All members are urged to attend.

SKY COT—Parents traveling by air with baby can now enjoy the flight with few worries about the little one, thanks to this cot that clips to the baggage rack and prevents junior from falling out. An airline in London, England, introduced the crib.

POWER IN SMALL PACKAGE—Solar energy is used to power this experimental radio transmitter which has a range of 100 feet. It was built by Edward Keonjian, of the General Electric electronics laboratory in Syracuse, N. Y. The unit uses transistors instead of electron tubes, and selenium solar-energy converters instead of batteries. When light rays strike the selenium, sufficient electrical energy is delivered to transistors to operate transmitter.

Four Youths Enlist Here for Air Force

Two young men of this city and two from the rural areas have been accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force, it has been announced by T/Sgt. John J. Norton, Jr., station commander of the recruiting office in the city hall.

The two from Kingston are John D. Rogers, son of Mrs. Louise Lenis, 200 Tremper avenue, and James J. Rhiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norrie Rhiel, 176 O'Neil street.

Malcolm (Ted) Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Wright, 16 Hillcrest avenue, Ellenville, is one of the county enlistees and the other is Anthony DeStefano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeStefano, Creek Locks.

Airman Wright is a graduate of Ellenville High School and formerly worked at Indian Valley Inn, Kerhonkson. Airman DeStefano is a former student at Kingston High School.

Airmen Rogers, DeStefano and Wright were flown to Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, where they are now undergoing basic training.

Three Plead Innocent To Extortion Charge

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A suspended policeman and two other men yesterday pleaded innocent to an extortion indictment in connection with a charge that they tried to frame a Harlem man as a drug peddler in a shakedown plot.

All were released in bail fixed by General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein. No trial date was set.

The three men are Allen Henry Peters, 35, the suspended policeman, of 2101 Adison avenue; Benjamin Adams, Jr., 30, a machinist, of 300 West 123rd street, and Solomon Meyers, 41, a New York Hospital restaurant worker, of 121 Westchester avenue; White Plains. Peters and Adams are Negroes.

They are accused of having plotted to frame Robert Phelps, 30, of 1990 7th avenue, and Peters is said to have accepted marked money from Phelps.

Peters was released in $1,000 bail and the other two defendants in $2,500 each.

Mother Will Get Help From Court

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Yours is a tragic case," a magistrate told an unwed mother yesterday after she explained that poverty forced her to abandon her two children.

Beatrice Curran, 24, told Magistrate James E. Lo Piccolo that she and her children—Karen, 3, and Billy, 16 months—"had been staying with my mother who is sick and a widow."

"But there just wasn't room and there wasn't anything to eat," she continued. "I left the two children near the Foundling Hospital in the hope they would be taken in and cared for."

When the magistrate asked about their father, she answered, "there were two fathers. Neither married me. I don't know where they are."

THE YOUNG MOTHER appeared before the judge on a charge of abandoning her children. He told her, "even though the charge is serious, yours is a tragic case and you seem to be deserving of many considerations."

The children were found on the street by a policeman last Tuesday. The mother was arrested yesterday when she turned up at the Children's Shelter to see them once again.

Lo Piccolo set a hearing on the case for Friday and paroled Miss Curran in the custody of her mother. The anxious young woman asked the magistrate:

"Will I get my children back?"

"We will see," he answered. "Let's hope for the best."

Burglars Steal Mink

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Skilled burglars broke into a fur coat firm over the weekend and got away with $150,000 worth of mink, police reported last week. The theft was discovered by a porter when he arrived for work yesterday. After investigation, police figured the burglars had stolen the coats this way: Before closing hours Saturday, they hid in the building. Later they broke into an air duct and crawled through it into a designer's shop. Using a sledge hammer, they broke through a brick wall into the coat manufacturing firm of Morris Greenbaum and Bros. The burglars also broke through another wall to get into the vault, police said, and avoided setting off burglar alarms by crossing them with coils brought along for the purpose. Police said the furs were insured.

Will Visit Servicemen

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, for the fourth consecutive year, will spend the Christmas season with U. S. military forces in the Pacific. The cardinal, archbishop of New York and military vicar of Roman Catholics in the armed forces of the United States, will visit troops during a 28-day tour in Alaksa, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Manila and Honolulu. The cardinal, whose plans were announced yesterday by his chancery office, will leave here next week. He said he hopes to celebrate Mass in three different sectors of the front in Korea on Christmas Day.

Trachtenberg, star witness for the prosecution, testified last Friday against Jack Koslow, 18; Melvin Hittman, 17, and Jerome Lieberman, 17.

The four are charged with the killing of Willard Menter, 34, a factory worker, who drowned in the East River on the night of Aug. 16 after being tortured and beaten.

TRACHTENBERG admitted under cross-examination yesterday that part of the testimony he gave Friday differed from the story he told to an assistant district attorney after his arrest.

In a statement on Aug. 19, Trachtenberg reportedly said Koslow had thrown a punch at Menter, and as Mentor ducked the blow he fell into the river. On Friday, Trachtenberg testified that Mittman had told him that Koslow pushed Menter into the river.

Trachtenberg testified yesterday that he lied in his earlier statement to "protect" the defendants and himself.

Trachtenberg said he had offered no objection when matches and a lighted cigarette were touched to Menter's bare feet as he slept intoxicated on a Brooklyn park bench, or when he was told later that Menter had been pushed into the water.

The cross - examination of Trachtenberg brought an admission that he had gone "bum hunting" at least once without Koslow before the night of the alleged murder.

Rate Is Below 1953

Albany, Dec. 7 (AP) — Heading into the last month of the year, the 1954 polio rate in the 57 counties outside New York city was running about 36 per cent behind last year's level. The State Health Department said yesterday that 43 new cases were reported in the week that ended Dec. 4, bringing the 1954 total of 1,378. In the same period in 1953, there were 2,134 cases reported. These counties reported new cases last week: Nassau, 9; Suffolk and Westchester, 5 each; Erie, 4; Oneida and Onondaga, 3 each; Broome and Montgomery, 2 each; and Cayuga, Herkimer, Monroe, Niagara, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, St. Lawrence, Steuben and Ulster, 1 each.

Hasbroucks to Meet

Hasbrouck Engine Co. No. 1 Inc., of Connelly will hold a regular monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m., it has been announced by the secretary, Robert L. Scherer. All members are urged to attend.

SKY COT—Parents traveling by air with baby can now enjoy the flight with few worries about the little one, thanks to this cot that clips to the baggage rack and prevents junior from falling out. An airline in London, England, introduced the crib.

POWER IN SMALL PACKAGE—Solar energy is used to power this experimental radio transmitter which has a range of 100 feet. It was built by Edward Keonjian, of the General Electric electronics laboratory in Syracuse, N. Y. The unit uses transistors instead of electron tubes, and selenium solar-energy converters instead of batteries. When light rays strike the selenium, sufficient electrical energy is delivered to transistors to operate transmitter.

Four Youths Enlist Here for Air Force

Two young men of this city and two from the rural areas have been accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force, it has been announced by T/Sgt. John J. Norton, Jr., station commander of the recruiting office in the city hall.

The two from Kingston are John D. Rogers, son of Mrs. Louise Lenis, 200 Tremper avenue, and James J. Rhiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norrie Rhiel, 176 O'Neil street.

Malcolm (Ted) Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Wright, 16 Hillcrest avenue, Ellenville, is one of the county enlistees and the other is Anthony DeStefano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeStefano, Creek Locks.

Airman Wright is a graduate of Ellenville High School and formerly worked at Indian Valley Inn, Kerhonkson. Airman DeStefano is a former student at Kingston High School.

Airmen Rogers, DeStefano and Wright were flown to Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, where they are now undergoing basic training.

Three Plead Innocent To Extortion Charge

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A suspended policeman and two other men yesterday pleaded innocent to an extortion indictment in connection with a charge that they tried to frame a Harlem man as a drug peddler in a shakedown plot.

All were released in bail fixed by General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein. No trial date was set.

The three men are Allen Henry Peters, 35, the suspended policeman, of 2101 Adison avenue; Benjamin Adams, Jr., 30, a machinist, of 300 West 123rd street, and Solomon Meyers, 41, a New York Hospital restaurant worker, of 121 Westchester avenue, White Plains. Peters and Adams are Negroes.

They are accused of having plotted to frame Robert Phelps, 30, of 1990 7th avenue, and Peters is said to have accepted marked money from Phelps.

Peters was released in $1,000 bail and the other two defendants in $2,500 each.

Mother Will Get Help From Court

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Yours is a tragic case," a magistrate told an unwed mother yesterday after she explained that poverty forced her to abandon her two children.

Beatrice Curran, 24, told Magistrate James E. Lo Piccolo that she and her children—Karen, 3, and Billy, 16 months—"had been staying with my mother who is sick and a widow."

"But there just wasn't room and there wasn't anything to eat," she continued. "I left the two children near the Foundling Hospital in the hope they would be taken in and cared for."

When the magistrate asked about their father, she answered, "there were two fathers. Neither married me. I don't know where they are."

THE YOUNG MOTHER appeared before the judge on a charge of abandoning her children. He told her, "even though the charge is serious, yours is a tragic case and you seem to be deserving of many considerations."

The children were found on the street by a policeman last Tuesday. The mother was arrested yesterday when she turned up at the Children's Shelter to see them once again.

Lo Piccolo set a hearing on the case for Friday and paroled Miss Curran in the custody of her mother. The anxious young woman asked the magistrate:

"Will I get my children back?"

"We will see," he answered. "Let's hope for the best."

Burglars Steal Mink

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Skilled burglars broke into a fur coat firm over the weekend and got away with $150,000 worth of mink, police reported last week. The theft was discovered by a porter when he arrived for work yesterday. After investigation, police figured the burglars had stolen the coats this way: Before closing hours Saturday, they hid in the building. Later they broke into an air duct and crawled through it into a designer's shop. Using a sledge hammer, they broke through a brick wall into the coat manufacturing firm of Morris Greenbaum and Bros. The burglars also broke through another wall to get into the vault, police said, and avoided setting off burglar alarms by crossing them with coils brought along for the purpose. Police said the furs were insured.

Will Visit Servicemen

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, for the fourth consecutive year, will spend the Christmas season with U. S. military forces in the Pacific. The cardinal, archbishop of New York and military vicar of Roman Catholics in the armed forces of the United States, will visit troops during a 28-day tour in Alaksa, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Manila and Honolulu. The cardinal, whose plans were announced yesterday by his chancery office, will leave here next week. He said he hopes to celebrate Mass in three different sectors of the front in Korea on Christmas Day.

NSE Will Give Merit Awards

Members of the Sales Executives Club of the Mid-Hudson Valley will join 25,000 of the nation's leading sales executives in a campaign to "reward and give recognition to the forgotten persons behind the counters in their profession," according to a news release from J. Ellis Briggs, a director of the Mid-Hudson group.

Armed with little "White Books" containing certificates of merit, the National Sales Executives members and their families will, beginning Jan. 1, be looking for retail salesmen and saleswomen who do an outstanding job of selling and do it courteously and with a smile.

"WHEN THEY FIND such a person, they will produce a little White Book and from it extract the NSE Certificate of Merit for the surprised clerk or attendant," according to Briggs.

This will be a reversal of the procedure followed by some people during the recent war, when many consumer goods were in short supply. In those hectic days, customers often vowed to keep a little black book for the names of salespeople who treated them discourteously.

INSTEAD OF black-balling the bad ones, the NSE members will be "white-balling" the good clerks.

Each of the 25,000 high-level sales leaders who form NSE's membership have been supplied from the association's headquarters with a white book containing 10 certificates to be awarded to those salesmen and saleswomen who impress him as rendering a high calibre of service and doing a good job of getting and keeping customer good will. Each certificate will be filled in with the salesperson's name and signed by the NSE member who presents it. An additional citation will be sent from NSE headquarters in New York to the salesperson's supervisor or store owner.

MEMBERS AND their wives will start presenting the certificates on Jan. 1 and the awards will continue through March 31.

Briggs has expressed the conviction that the White Book program of instantaneous recognition for effective and courteous retail selling will not only increase good will between sellers and buyers but will stimulate increased consumption of goods and provide greater prosperity for all.

"It will result in a greater awareness and sense of responsibility on the part of retail salespeople. It will make them conscious of the fact that theirs is one of the most important jobs in our entire economy and that the final results of the entire production and distribution system, including a high-level of employment, prosperity and security, depends on them," Briggs said.

Mens' Club Told Of Work for Blind

George Svirsky, chairman of the Sight Conservation and Blind Committee of the Kingston Lions Club and Dr. Herbert E. Gade, Kingston physician, were speakers at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Fair Street Reformed Church Monday evening. Speaking in reference to the "let your eyes live after you" campaign through which a person may donate their eyes after death so that some blind person may see, Svirsky urged that local people sign one of the form cards for donation of their eyes after death.

POINTING OUT that in 1953 there were 316,000 blind people in the United States and that 52 persons lost their sight daily, Svirsky said many of these people might again see through the transplanting of a cornea in their eye.

He stressed the fact that many times the amount of money spent in research was spent annually for cosmetics for the eye and that not only was the cornea given by a doner of use for transplanting to give sight to some blind person but the eye itself was then used for research and study and might result in discovery of a treatment to relieve other diseases of the eye.

DR. GADE spoke of the technique of transfer of a cornea, which must be done within about 36 hours after death and he congratulated the Kingston Lions Club for its work and said that Kingston had been one of the early contributors for cornea transplanting. There is a waiting list of some 10,000 persons awaiting this sight giving operation.

Following the talks by Dr. Gade and Svirsky a question period was held during which the members sought additional information of the subject.

Niagara Has Rockfall

Niagara Falls, Dec. 7 (AP)—A new rockfall along the crestline of the American side of Niagara Falls has sent an estimated 2,500 tons of rock plunging into the Niagara river gorge but the beauty of the falls remained unscarred to the eyes of the casual observers today. Joseph Davis, president of the Niagara Falls Frontier State Park Commission, reported the rockfall yesterday. He said it was detected Saturday by crews operating the colored lights that are cast on the falls at night. Veteran park policemen reported it was difficult to notice any change in the appearance of the falls. Saturday's rockfall, the second on the American side this year, occurred between Luna Island and Prospect Point, a popular observation area on the American mainland.

Charles Asks Bicycle

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—Prince Charles, heir apparent to the British throne, told Santa Claus firmly that what he wants for Christmas is a bicycle. And not just any bicycle, either. Taking Santa by the hand in the toy department of a London store yesterday, the 6-year-old prince led him over to an array of shining wheels, put his hand on one of them and said: "This is the one, the very one." "I see I will have to make a special note of this," said Santa Claus.

Three Kingston Engineers Named

New York, Dec. 6 (Special)—Three Kingston technical men have satisfied the rigid standards set up by the Engineers Joint Council for inclusion in the 1954 edition of "Who's Who in Engineering," the first appearance of the publication in six years.

Only "top-notchers" in the profession were selected for the blue book, which was compiled under the guidance of the council, comprising 12 men representing the various branches of engineering.

The local men who made the list are Johan A. Aalto, a civil engineer; Charles R. Amberg, director of the Alfred University Research Laboratory for the Brick Manufacturers Association of New York; and Benjamin N. Ashton, president and general manager of Electrol Incorporated.

Included in the Who's Who are only those of acknowledged professional standing with at least ten years of active practice—five of it in charge of important engineering work—and teachers of engineering with 10 years' experience in accredited schools.

Only a fraction of the nation's several hundred thousand engineers qualified for the listing.

Hangar, Planes Burn

Calgary, Alta., Dec. 7 (AP)—A civilian aircraft hangar and 25 single and twin-engine planes at Calgary's municipal airport burned to the ground last night. Damage was estimated at 2½ million dollars. The Calgary Reserve Squadron of Canada's naval air arm lost its entire aircraft complement, three Harvard trainers. Light planes belonging to local business firms and oil companies also were destroyed. Flames broke out in the rear of the one-story, 300-foot-square frame structure shortly before 9 p. m. and within 10 minutes engulfed the entire building. Unofficial sources speculated that the fire might have been caused by an office heater.

Advent Services Set At Immanuel Dec. 8

The second in a series of midweek Advent services will be held in Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The pastor, the Rev. Ernest L. Witte, will preach on a prophecy from the Book of Numbers, Chapter 24, on the theme The Light that Guides.

The choir will sing a seasonal anthem under the direction of the organist Fay Ronald Richert. The public is invited to attend.

Civil Service Jobs

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that applications are now being accepted for production analyst, production expediter, and production administrator positions paying $3,410 to $10,800 a year, for duty in the Navy Department, and other federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity, for Biologist, Biochemist, and Physicist (in the field of radioisotopes), $4,205 to $9,600 a year, and resident in hospital administration, $2,200 a year, for positions in the Veterans Administration, throughout the country. Further information, including instructions on applying, and application forms may be obtained from William P. Barry, main post office.

Are Here on Visit

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Iran's 34-year-old Shah and his Queen are in the United States for an "informal visit" scheduled to last until Feb. 9. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, who arrived by plane yesterday with Queen Soraya, said he plans to have "a medical checkup and possibly to undergo some medical treatment." The Iranian monarch will enter a New York hospital later this week. By Dec. 13 he expects to be ready for a three-day visit to Washington and then go to Sun Valley, Idaho, and Los Angeles. The Shah, who first visited this country five years ago, said he is happy to be back.

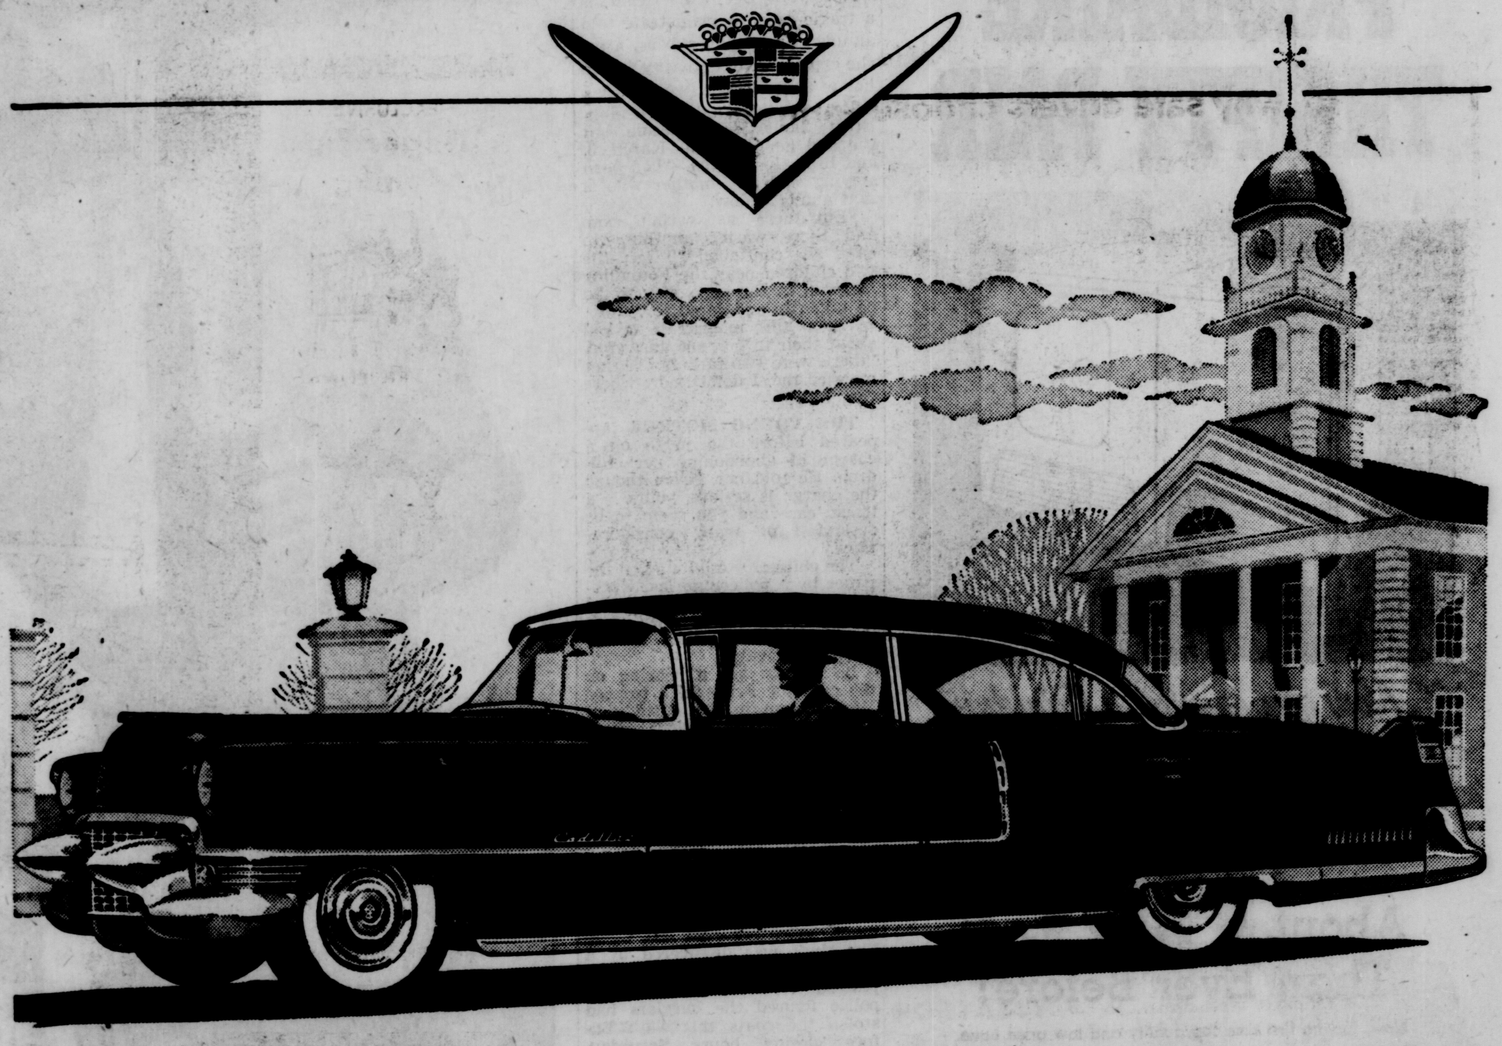
Cadillac



The Hour Every Motorist Owes to Himself!

The happy man you see in this picture is bringing himself up to date.

Cadillac has written a whole new chapter for the book defining motor car performance, and he's taking an hour to find out what it says.

And it says plenty—of very great importance.

First of all, it tells you what it's like to have command of a 250-horsepower engine that's as smooth as velvet, and so quick and eager that you have to educate your driving toe all over again.

It tells you what it's like to have virtually every trace of unevenness in the highway completely eliminated before it is even noticeable to driver or to passengers.

And it tells you what it's like to relax amidst upholstery fabrics that are found nowhere else, save in the 1955 Cadillac—not even in the finest clubs or hotels.

All this is to say, of course, that Cadillac has made another tremendous advance in design and engineering—so great, in fact, that only a drive and a personal inspection can let you realize its significance.

And, naturally, in addition to all that is new—there is yet greater emphasis on all the long-existing Cadillac virtues:

—the endurance that enables a Cadillac owner to keep his car just as long as he elects to do so . . . and with complete confidence in its dependability—

—the amazing economy of operation and upkeep which causes many owners to maintain that it is the most economical car on the American highway—

—the great personal satisfaction that comes from owning a car which is recognized, wherever highways lead, as the Standard of the World.

We cordially invite you to come in—today—to see and drive this wonderful, wonderful car.

There are eight models—in four different series—including the sensational Eldorado.

There is one to please you—exactly. And we think you'll be surprised and delighted at how little it costs, in comparison with lesser cars.

We're waiting for you—now!

New York, Dec. 6 (Special)—Three Kingston technical men have satisfied the rigid standards set up by the Engineers Joint Council for inclusion in the 1954 edition of "Who's Who in Engineering," the first appearance of the publication in six years.

Only "top-notchers" in the profession were selected for the blue book, which was compiled under the guidance of the council, comprising 12 men representing the various branches of engineering.

The local men who made the list are Johan A. Aalto, a civil engineer; Charles R. Amberg, director of the Alfred University Research Laboratory for the Brick Manufacturers Association of New York; and Benjamin N. Ashton, president and general manager of Electrol Incorporated.

Included in the Who's Who are only those of acknowledged professional standing with at least ten years of active practice—five of it in charge of important engineering work—and teachers of engineering with 10 years' experience in accredited schools.

Only a fraction of the nation's several hundred thousand engineers qualified for the listing.

Hangar, Planes Burn

Calgary, Alta., Dec. 7 (AP)—A civilian aircraft hangar and 25 single and twin-engine planes at Calgary's municipal airport burned to the ground last night. Damage was estimated at 2½ million dollars. The Calgary Reserve Squadron of Canada's naval air arm lost its entire aircraft complement, three Harvard trainers. Light planes belonging to local business firms and oil companies also were destroyed. Flames broke out in the rear of the one-story, 300-foot-square frame structure shortly before 9 p. m. and within 10 minutes engulfed the entire building. Unofficial sources speculated that the fire might have been caused by an office heater.

Advent Services Set At Immanuel Dec. 8

The second in a series of midweek Advent services will be held in Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The pastor, the Rev. Ernest L. Witte, will preach on a prophecy from the Book of Numbers, Chapter 24, on the theme The Light that Guides.

The choir will sing a seasonal anthem under the direction of the organist Fay Ronald Richert. The public is invited to attend.

Civil Service Jobs

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that applications are now being accepted for production analyst, production expediter, and production administrator positions paying $3,410 to $10,800 a year, for duty in the Navy Department, and other federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity, for Biologist, Biochemist, and Physicist (in the field of radioisotopes), $4,205 to $9,600 a year, and resident in hospital administration, $2,200 a year, for positions in the Veterans Administration, throughout the country. Further information, including instructions on applying, and application forms may be obtained from William P. Barry, main post office.

Are Here on Visit

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Iran's 34-year-old Shah and his Queen are in the United States for an "informal visit" scheduled to last until Feb. 9. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, who arrived by plane yesterday with Queen Soraya, said he plans to have "a medical checkup and possibly to undergo some medical treatment." The Iranian monarch will enter a New York hospital later this week. By Dec. 13 he expects to be ready for a three-day visit to Washington and then go to Sun Valley, Idaho, and Los Angeles. The Shah, who first visited this country five years ago, said he is happy to be back.

Cadillac

The Hour Every Motorist Owes to Himself!

The happy man you see in this picture is bringing himself up to date.

Cadillac has written a whole new chapter for the book defining motor car performance, and he's taking an hour to find out what it says.

And it says plenty—of very great importance.

First of all, it tells you what it's like to have command of a 250-horsepower engine that's as smooth as velvet, and so quick and eager that you have to educate your driving toe all over again.

It tells you what it's like to have virtually every trace of unevenness in the highway completely eliminated before it is even noticeable to driver or to passengers.

And it tells you what it's like to relax amidst upholstery fabrics that are found nowhere else, save in the 1955 Cadillac—not even in the finest clubs or hotels.

All this is to say, of course, that Cadillac has made another tremendous advance in design and engineering—so great, in fact, that only a drive and a personal inspection can let you realize its significance.

And, naturally, in addition to all that is new—there is yet greater emphasis on all the long-existing Cadillac virtues:

—the endurance that enables a Cadillac owner to keep his car just as long as he elects to do so . . . and with complete confidence in its dependability—

—the amazing economy of operation and upkeep which causes many owners to maintain that it is the most economical car on the American highway—

—the great personal satisfaction that comes from owning a car which is recognized, wherever highways lead, as the Standard of the World.

We cordially invite you to come in—today—to see and drive this wonderful, wonderful car.

There are eight models—in four different series—including the sensational Eldorado.

There is one to please you—exactly. And we think you'll be surprised and delighted at how little it costs, in comparison with lesser cars.

We're waiting for you—now!

NSE Will Give Merit Awards

Members of the Sales Executives Club of the Mid-Hudson Valley will join 25,000 of the nation's leading sales executives in a campaign to "reward and give recognition to the forgotten persons behind the counters in their profession," according to a news release from J. Ellis Briggs, a director of the Mid-Hudson group.

Armed with little "White Books" containing certificates of merit, the National Sales Executives members and their families will, beginning Jan. 1, be looking for retail salesmen and saleswomen who do an outstanding job of selling and do it courteously and with a smile.

"WHEN THEY FIND such a person, they will produce a little White Book and from it extract the NSE Certificate of Merit for the surprised clerk or attendant," according to Briggs.

This will be a reversal of the procedure followed by some people during the recent war, when many consumer goods were in short supply. In those hectic days, customers often vowed to keep a little black book for the names of salespeople who treated them discourteously.

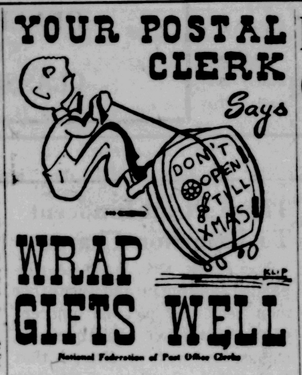
INSTEAD OF black-balling the bad ones, the NSE members will be "white-balling" the good clerks.

Each of the 25,000 high-level sales leaders who form NSE's membership have been supplied from the association's headquarters with a white book containing 10 certificates to be awarded to those salesmen and saleswomen who impress him as rendering a high calibre of service and doing a good job of getting and keeping customer good will. Each certificate will be filled in with the salesperson's name and signed by the NSE member who presents it. An additional citation will be sent from NSE headquarters in New York to the salesperson's supervisor or store owner.

MEMBERS AND their wives will start presenting the certificates on Jan. 1 and the awards will continue through March 31.

Briggs has expressed the conviction that the White Book program of instantaneous recognition for effective and courteous retail selling will not only increase good will between sellers and buyers but will stimulate increased consumption of goods and provide greater prosperity for all.

"It will result in a greater awareness and sense of responsibility on the part of retail salespeople. It will make them conscious of the fact that theirs is one of the most important jobs in our entire economy and that the final results of the entire production and distribution system, including a high-level of employment, prosperity and security, depends on them," Briggs said.



Mens' Club Told Of Work for Blind

George Svirsky, chairman of the Sight Conservation and Blind Committee of the Kingston Lions Club and Dr. Herbert E. Gade, Kingston physician, were speakers at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Fair Street Reformed Church Monday evening. Speaking in reference to the "let your eyes live after you" campaign through which a person may donate their eyes after death so that some blind person may see, Svirsky urged that local people sign one of the form cards for donation of their eyes after death.

POINTING OUT that in 1953 there were 316,000 blind people in the United States and that 52 persons lost their sight daily, Svirsky said many of these people might again see through the transplanting of a cornea in their eye.

He stressed the fact that many times the amount of money spent in research was spent annually for cosmetics for the eye and that not only was the cornea given by a doner of use for transplanting to give sight to some blind person but the eye itself was then used for research and study and might result in discovery of a treatment to relieve other diseases of the eye.

DR. GADE spoke of the technique of transfer of a cornea, which must be done within about 36 hours after death and he congratulated the Kingston Lions Club for its work and said that Kingston had been one of the early contributors for cornea transplanting. There is a waiting list of some 10,000 persons awaiting this sight giving operation.

Following the talks by Dr. Gade and Svirsky a question period was held during which the members sought additional information of the subject.

Niagara Has Rockfall

Niagara Falls, Dec. 7 (AP)—A new rockfall along the crestline of the American side of Niagara Falls has sent an estimated 2,500 tons of rock plunging into the Niagara river gorge but the beauty of the falls remained unscarred to the eyes of the casual observers today. Joseph Davis, president of the Niagara Falls Frontier State Park Commission, reported the rockfall yesterday. He said it was detected Saturday by crews operating the colored lights that are cast on the falls at night. Veteran park policemen reported it was difficult to notice any change in the appearance of the falls. Saturday's rockfall, the second on the American side this year, occurred between Luna Island and Prospect Point, a popular observation area on the American mainland.

Highland IOOF Host to Masters

Sunshine Lodge 929, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Highland, was host to the grand masters conference on Saturday at 2 p. m. at which representatives were present from Orange, Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan, Westchester, Columbia and Ulster districts.

Myron F. Ronk, Highland, was awarded a token by Grand Master Judin for perfect attendance of all lodges under his jurisdiction.

Following the meeting a roast beef dinner was well attended at Clintondale Grange Hall.

A special meeting will be held at Phoenicia Lodge on Tuesday, Dec. 14, when degrees will be conferred on candidates by William H. Raymond Lodge of Saugerties.

Charles Asks Bicycle

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—Prince Charles, heir apparent to the British throne, told Santa Claus firmly that what he wants for Christmas is a bicycle. And not just any bicycle, either. Taking Santa by the hand in the toy department of a London store yesterday, the 6-year-old prince led him over to an array of shining wheels, put his hand on one of them and said: "This is the one, the very one." "I see I will have to make a special note of this," said Santa Claus.

Has 109th Birthday

Rochester, Dec. 7 (AP)—Miss Mary Cotter today celebrated her 109th birthday with a quiet party at the rest home where she lives. She says she still has good health, and still enjoys life. Miss Cotter never married. She says she still has a hobby—visiting the aged.

All a Mistake

Park Ridge, Ill. (AP)—The car was borrowed, the night was cold and dark, and the lock was frozen. The situation had Earl Aykroid sweating. After two hours of failure to unlock the car with help of passersby who used fire on the keyhole, wire through the ventilating window and a by-pass for the ignition, he saw it was the wrong car. The borrowed car was parked one car behind and started it with hardly no effort at all.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Off-Street Parking Discussed by Board

New Paltz, Dec. 7—The Village Board met last week and among other things discussion centered on the problem of off-street parking on Main street for the benefit of the shoppers and the people driving through New Paltz along Main street. Trustee Robert Jansen proposed to build a parking lot behind the store of Robert Osterhoudt on Main street, using the exit on Innis avenue. Mayor Robert Reid agreed this matter is one of the problems to be brought to a head in the near future to ease the traffic situation on Main street.

Mrs. Julianna Grandchamp presented her problem to the board for consideration, noting the condition of the street at the intersection of Slate and Prospect streets. She said there are only a few families living in the section, but they are taxpayers and should be granted the courtesy of having the street kept in repair, and also to have the snow plow clean the street in the winter. Trustee Jansen and Albert Sutherland, of the street department, were authorized to look into the situation and if possible come to some solution. Mrs. Grandchamp was assured that the snow will be cleared from the street even though it is a dead end street and the plow will have to back out of the street mentioned.

Fire Chief Ernest Ahlberg was present and said that he feels the emergency fire bell should be repaired since the cables that hold it are broken. The list of drivers recommended to drive the fire trucks are George Ackert, Isaac Pole, Alvin Beatty, Roy Upright, George Bogert, Edward Ashton, Marion Sheeley, Wesley Van Vliet, David Jewett, Jr., Edward Quick, John Taylor, Charles Staats, Robert Jansen, William George, Patrick Cafferty, August Martin, Harry Kaiser, Charles Mackey, and the chief. This list was approved by the board.

The milk fund committee of the Campus School sent a letter to the board asking that members consider the addition of flourine to the village drinking water in the near future. It was pointed out that the children of the Campus School have been found to have a large percentage of cavities in their teeth. Mayor Reid explained that a test had been made recently, and proved that flourine in drinking water does help retard cavities in children's teeth. This task is advisable, however but must wait until the local water system has been set up on a permanent basis.

EACH DEPARTMENT head was asked to submit forms showing how much will be needed to make up the new budget for the year. Mayor Reid said the tax roll is being put in order, noting change of ownership, exemptions, new buildings and repairs.

The treasurer's report was as follows: For November the water receipts are $1,418, sewer receipts $639. Outstanding water rents $149, and outstanding sewer rent $20. Parking meter receipts for November amounted to $621.39, totaling since June 1, $3,568.03.

Taxes collected were $265.65, with outstanding taxes of $2,032. The general account adds up to $10,781.08, and the total water and sewer combined totals $5,224.46. The parking meter account shows a balance of $2,309.37.

A Christmas tree will be put up on the grounds of the municipal building, where a Christmas song fest will be enjoyed by the community. The board granted permission to the Chamber of Commerce to put up Christmas decorations across Main street, and North and South Chestnut street.

Today's hand was very skillfuly played by declarer, but he got his opportunity only because the defense had made a rather natural slip. Put yourself in West's place and see whether you could make the same mistake.

West opened the ace of clubs and then wondered what to do next. See if you can find the one card that will lead to the defeat of the contract.

The actual West player led the queen of spades, hoping to get a spade trick before declarer could set up his diamonds. South won in his own hand with the ace of spades, drew trumps with the ace and queen, and led the six of diamonds with the intention of ducking it around to East.

As it happened, West had to play the singleton queen of diamonds, and declarer had to put up dummy's ace at once. He returned a low diamond from the dummy, and East unhappily won with the jack.

East didn't want to take his king of diamonds and shut up shop for the day, but there wasn't much else for him to do. If he led spades, dummy would get a free finesse with the kingten; and if he led clubs, South would discard a diamond and make an overtrick.

Now go back to the second trick and see what happens if West leads his low spade instead of the queen. Dummy plays low, East puts up the eight, and South wins with the ace of spades. Declarer now draws trumps and begins the diamonds, as before.

When East wins the second round of diamonds with the jack, however, it is perfectly safe for him to return a spade. West's queen will force out dummy's king of spades. This puts East in position to win a trick with the jack of spades when he is given his other diamond trick.

The contract is thus defeated with a club, two diamonds and the all-important spade trick.

This list was approved by the board.

The milk fund committee of the Campus School sent a letter to the board asking that members consider the addition of flourine to the village drinking water in the near future. It was pointed out that the children of the Campus School have been found to have a large percentage of cavities in their teeth. Mayor Reid explained that a test had been made recently, and proved that flourine in drinking water does help retard cavities in children's teeth. This task is advisable, however but must wait until the local water system has been set up on a permanent basis.

EACH DEPARTMENT head was asked to submit forms showing how much will be needed to make up the new budget for the year. Mayor Reid said the tax roll is being put in order, noting change of ownership, exemptions, new buildings and repairs.

The treasurer's report was as follows: For November the water receipts are $1,418, sewer receipts $639. Outstanding water rents $149, and outstanding sewer rent $20. Parking meter receipts for November amounted to $621.39, totaling since June 1, $3,568.03.

Taxes collected were $265.65, with outstanding taxes of $2,032. The general account adds up to $10,781.08, and the total water and sewer combined totals $5,-224.46. The parking meter account shows a balance of $2,-309.37.

A Christmas tree will be put up on the grounds of the municipal building, where a Christmas song fest will be enjoyed by the community. The board granted permission to the Chamber of Commerce to put up Christmas decorations across Main street, and North and South Chestnut street.

Today's hand was very skillfuly played by declarer, but he got his opportunity only because the defense had made a rather natural slip. Put yourself in West's place and see whether you could make the same mistake.

West opened the ace of clubs and then wondered what to do next. See if you can find the one card that will lead to the defeat of the contract.

The actual West player led the queen of spades, hoping to get a spade trick before declarer could set up his diamonds. South won in his own hand with the ace of spades, drew trumps with the ace and queen, and led the six of diamonds with the intention of ducking it around to East.

As it happened, West had to play the singleton queen of diamonds, and declarer had to put up dummy's ace at once. He returned a low diamond from the dummy, and East unhappily won with the jack.

East didn't want to take his king of diamonds and shut up shop for the day, but there wasn't much else for him to do. If he led spades, dummy would get a free finesse with the king-ten; and if he led clubs, South would discard a diamond and make an overtrick.

Now go back to the second trick and see what happens if West leads his low spade instead of the queen. Dummy plays low, East puts up the eight, and South wins with the ace of spades. Declarer now draws trumps and begins the diamonds, as before.

When East wins the second round of diamonds with the jack, however, it is perfectly safe for him to return a spade. West's queen will force out dummy's king of spades. This puts East in position to win a trick with the jack of spades when he is given his other diamond trick.

The contract is thus defeated with a club, two diamonds and the all-important spade trick.

All a Mistake

Park Ridge, Ill. (AP)—The car was borrowed, the night was cold and dark, and the lock was frozen. The situation had Earl Aykroid sweating. After two hours of failure to unlock the car with help of passersby who used fire on the keyhole, wire through the ventilating window and a by-pass for the ignition, he saw it was the wrong car. The borrowed car was parked one car behind and started it with hardly no effort at all.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Off-Street Parking Discussed by Board

New Paltz, Dec. 7—The Village Board met last week and among other things discussion centered on the problem of off-street parking on Main street for the benefit of the shoppers and the people driving through New Paltz along Main street. Trustee Robert Jansen proposed to build a parking lot behind the store of Robert Osterhoudt on Main street, using the exit on Innis avenue. Mayor Robert Reid agreed this matter is one of the problems to be brought to a head in the near future to ease the traffic situation on Main street.

Mrs. Julianna Grandchamp presented her problem to the board for consideration, noting the condition of the street at the intersection of Slate and Prospect streets. She said there are only a few families living in the section, but they are taxpayers and should be granted the courtesy of having the street kept in repair, and also to have the snow plow clean the street in the winter. Trustee Jansen and Albert Sutherland, of the street department, were authorized to look into the situation and if possible come to some solution. Mrs. Grandchamp was assured that the snow will be cleared from the street even though it is a dead end street and the plow will have to back out of the street mentioned.

Fire Chief Ernest Ahlberg was present and said that he feels the emergency fire bell should be repaired since the cables that hold it are broken. The list of drivers recommended to drive the fire trucks are George Ackert, Isaac Pole, Alvin Beatty, Roy Upright, George Bogert, Edward Ashton, Marion Sheeley, Wesley Van Vliet, David Jewett, Jr., Edward Quick, John Taylor, Charles Staats, Robert Jansen, William George, Patrick Cafferty, August Martin, Harry Kaiser, Charles Mackey, and the chief. This list was approved by the board.

The milk fund committee of the Campus School sent a letter to the board asking that members consider the addition of flourine to the village drinking water in the near future. It was pointed out that the children of the Campus School have been found to have a large percentage of cavities in their teeth. Mayor Reid explained that a test had been made recently, and proved that flourine in drinking water does help retard cavities in children's teeth. Ellen Pilviste Michael Spada, Jr. Nuptials in Glasco

Miss Ellen Pilviste of 145 Downs street, daughter of Mrs. Juliania Pilviste of Estonia was united in marriage to Michael R. Spada, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Spada, Sr., of Glasco, Sunday. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Archibald Damm, pastor in St. Joseph's Church in Glasco.

Given in marriage by cousin of the bridegroom, Dominick Spada, the bride was attired in a gown of rose point lace, fashioned with a molded bodice, mandarin collar and long tapered sleeves. Her bouffant floor length skirt, posed over bridal satin featured a fan pleated godet of nylon tulle. Her headpiece consisted of a Princess crown of tulle, trimmed with iridescent sequins and tiny orange blossoms which supported a French illusion veil, fingertip length. She carried a Prayer Book with a cattleya orchid with satin streamer and asparagus fern.

Sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jennie Spada of Glasco, served as honor attendant and wore a gown of shrimp colored nylon net, fashioned with a bodice and peplum of imported lace and a bouffant floor length skirt. A Spencer jacket of lace and a princess half-crown of iridescent stylized flowers completed her ensemble. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of orchid pompons.

Cousin of the bridegroom, Dominick Spada of Kingston, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 50 guests was held at the Flamingo Restaurant on the Saugerties-Kingston road.

For the wedding journey to New York city the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a plum colored dress with brown accessories and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride, a high school graduate, was educated in her native Estonia.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, served three and one-half years in the U. S. forces, three years of which was served overseas in Europe.

Upon return from the wedding journey the couple will make their future home at 145 Downs street.

Sorority's Highest Honor Is Conferred By Beta Sigma Chi

The first Exemplar badge and certificate to be presented by the New York Gamma Chi chapter was awarded to Mmes. Frank Martino and Albert Roosa at the banquet of Beta Sigma Phi held recently. The Exemplar degree is the highest honor conferred on members of the organization.

The dinner was held at Brookside Restaurant, Lucas avenue extension, with the ceremonies following. Miss Ann De Felicis received her Ritual of Jewels pin, signifying the fulfillment of pledge requirements.

The annual Christmas party will be held Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 8 p. m at the Elks Club.

Ellen Pilviste Michael Spada, Jr. Nuptials in Glasco

Miss Ellen Pilviste of 145 Downs street, daughter of Mrs. Juliania Pilviste of Estonia was united in marriage to Michael R. Spada, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Spada, Sr., of Glasco, Sunday. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Archibald Damm, pastor in St. Joseph's Church in Glasco.

Given in marriage by cousin of the bridegroom, Dominick Spada, the bride was attired in a gown of rose point lace, fashioned with a molded bodice, mandarin collar and long tapered sleeves. Her bouffant floor length skirt, posed over bridal satin featured a fan pleated godet of nylon tulle. Her headpiece consisted of a Princess crown of tulle, trimmed with iridescent sequins and tiny orange blossoms which supported a French illusion veil, fingertip length. She carried a Prayer Book with a cattleya orchid with satin streamer and asparagus fern.

Sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jennie Spada of Glasco, served as honor attendant and wore a gown of shrimp colored nylon net, fashioned with a bodice and peplum of imported lace and a bouffant floor length skirt. A Spencer jacket of lace and a princess half-crown of iridescent stylized flowers completed her ensemble. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of orchid pompons.

Cousin of the bridegroom, Dominick Spada of Kingston, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 50 guests was held at the Flamingo Restaurant on the Saugerties-Kingston road.

For the wedding journey to New York city the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a plum colored dress with brown accessories and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride, a high school graduate, was educated in her native Estonia.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, served three and one-half years in the U. S. forces, three years of which was served overseas in Europe.

Upon return from the wedding journey the couple will make their future home at 145 Downs street.

Catholic Daughters To Sponsor Essay Contest in Schools

An essay contest will again be sponsored by Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, for all elementary parochial schools in the vicinity.

Poems and essays are to be on a Catholic theme, with a cash prize to be awarded to each school. The best of the eight to be entered will be forwarded to state and national competition. The announcement was made at the meeting held Wednesday evening.

It was also announced that another reception of new members will be held Sunday, with Mrs. James Spindler of Highland Mills, newly appointed district deputy, officiating.

A Christmas party will be held December 15, with Mrs. N. Miles as chairman.

In a talk to the group, the Rev. Austin V. Carey said that the passing of the Marian Year has been marked in Rome by the restoration of the Church of Santa Maria Antiqua, which dates from the year 600, but which has been closed for over 900 years. The restoration of this ancient shrine of the Mother of God gives proof of the antiquity of the Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Rev. Father Carey added.

The similar devotion and honor paid to Mary by the Orthodox peoples and churches of Eastern Europe are another evidence of the special place she has occupied in the minds and hearts of Christian peoples throughout our era, said Father Carey. Honor and devotion to Mary, the Mother of Jesus, is emphatically not a development of recent church history, Father Carey concluded.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Charles Nicolosi, Michael Augustine, John Hogan and Arthur Ballard.

DID YOU EVER WISH.....

Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 7—Did you ever wish that a new head of hair could be bought like a dress? But certainly it can't. Yet, you want your hair to look "fresh and fashionable" always. Well, the way to be sure it does is to visit Mickey's for regular hair care — the kind of thorough shampooing - - - skillful shaping - - - tested waving and becoming styling that only the experienced fingers of Mickey's six hair stylists can give.

And if you still are wondering about a gift for the girl friend, sister or mom - - - we suggest you stop in at Mickey's for a permanent wave gift certificate. We know it will please her.

Coty, Houbigant, Jean Nate, Helena Rubenstein, Corday.

Perfume and beauty preparations, beautifully packaged, are among the gifts designed this year to capture feminine interest. For the woman who's a globe-trotter, there's a travel kit containing luxurious lather soap and a four-ounce plastic bottle of bath lotion. The case is plastic, is a clever imitation of real lace (upper left). For a mother and small daughter, there's this lace-trimmed satin chair (upper right) holding a small bottle of perfume. Mother will enjoy the scent and her daughter will love adding the chair to her doll house furniture. The teen-ager will like a pretty double-drawer package (lower left) containing cologne and bubble bath. When empty, it can be used to hold bobby pins or trinkets. There's a gold metal perfume purse-atomizer that's leakproof, spillproof and easy to handle (lower center), and holds one-quarter ounce of perfume. Tiny fountain (lower right) has small perfume bottle for dual dainty gift.

Loren Hovers Guests at Dinner On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hover of Olive Bridge, who celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary, Monday, Nov. 29, were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Davenport of Stone Ridge.

Other guests present were Virginia, Beverly and Philip Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard and son, Jerry, of Stone Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Donohue and Donald Donohue of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey Slater of Kerhonkson, Mr. and Mrs. Dorville Boice of Olive Bridge and Mrs. Chloe Morris of Hartford, Conn.

Christmas Giving

You can give a great deal more with up to 30% less cost when you buy at Butler's low overhead wayside furniture store. We know we're "out of the way" and it's easier to shop in the high rent stores because they are conveniently located, but if you want your Christmas money to go much farther, drive the few pleasurable miles out Route 28-A to where the overhead is only a fraction of what stores in the business areas cost.

Ask your friends—many of them have been in our showrooms — they will tell you of the better quality furniture we're carrying here at guaranteed savings to you. We also have a liberal budget or lay-a-way plan for your convenience.

We appreciate the business our many customer-friends have sent us. They have made us the largest wayside furniture store in Ulster Co. because they felt confident their friends, too, would get a square deal at Butler's. We're not afraid of comparison in values as some are. All we ask is before you buy, shop at Butler's, compare what we offer you with other stores, then you, too, will say Buy at Butler's for better furniture at Better Prices.

Christmas Greens Meeting Is Held By County 4-H Clubs

Nearly 90 members of Ulster county 4-H Clubs and their leaders met Saturday at municipal auditorium in Kingston to learn how to make Christmas wreaths, corsages, and cards and how to wrap gifts attractively.

The Christmas Greens meeting was held from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. and included demonstrations and exhibits.

Each of the boys and girls attending made a Christmas tree ornament to take home.

The making of Christmas wreaths and corsages was demonstrated by Julius Eckert of Wallkill, Mrs. Albina Orlowski of Plattekill demonstrated the making of simple decorations and Christmas cards. The are of gift wrapping was demonstrated by Miss Shirley Van Kleeck of Kingston.

Many suggestions for gifts to make, place cards, centerpieces, candles and tree decorations were included in the exhibits of articles made by Nancy Hutton, Carolyn Myer, Enid Goetchius, Sandra Dunphy and Mrs. Vernon Goetchius of Hurley; Alice Mae Wodischeck of North Flatbush, and Carol Hardwick of New Hurley.

Christmas Meeting Is Held by WSCS In Epworth Hall

At The Christmas meeting of the WSCS of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, held Thursday evening in the assembly room, the Rev. Herbert Killinder of Ulster Park showed several movies. These included Dickens Christmas Carol and Christmas hymns by the cathedral choir.

Mrs. Clayton R. Smith used the Christmas story for the worship service.

The 12 refreshment tables were decorated to represent the months of the year, each presided over by one of the officers of the society. There were 68 guests present for the meeting and social hour held in Epworth hall.

The next meeting will be January 6, in Epworth hall.

If you're ironing a large piece of fabric, turn your ironing board around so that the iron rests at the narrow end. That way, you get the maximum working space. Don't balance the iron too far out, however, if your board is the tippy kind.

WAS IT PRESUMPTIOUS?

A reader writes me: "I would like your opinion on the following incident: At a recent wedding reception, it so happened that two of the guests present were observing their thirtieth wedding anniversary on this same day. The daughter of the anniversary couple (also present at the wedding and all relatives of the bride) took it upon herself to ask the orchestra leader to announce this fact and also to play the "Anniversary Waltz in their honor. After hearing the announcement, their friends gathered around them to congratulate them. All this was done without asking permission of the bride or groom. I, and many others, believe that this was in very bad taste, and rude to the wedding couple as it drew attention away from them. Your comments will be appreciated."

I thoroughly agree with your disapproval of their thoughtlessness.

Tipping

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are planning to entertain six couples at a dinner party in a private room of one of our local hotels, and we would like to know what per cent of the bill is supposed to be left for a tip. We do not do this sort of thing often and were wondering if the usual 10 percent is still customary?

Answer: The adequate 10 percent of yesterday is today from 12 to 15 per cent.

While It Cools

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is permissible to sip tea, or coffee, from a spoon if it is too hot to drink from the cup. I like tea hot and so sip it from the spoon until it is cool enough to drink from the cup. I was told that this is very bad manners and shows lack of breeding. What is your opinion?

Answer: It is entirely proper to sip the first few spoonfuls of hot tea or coffee until it is cooled sufficiently to drink from the cup.

Is it good manners to break crackers into soup? How should baked potato be eaten? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Answers to these questions are included in leaflet E-16. Catholic Daughters To Sponsor Essay Contest in Schools

An essay contest will again be sponsored by Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, for all elementary parochial schools in the vicinity.

Poems and essays are to be on a Catholic theme, with a cash prize to be awarded to each school. The best of the eight to be entered will be forwarded to state and national competition. The announcement was made at the meeting held Wednesday evening.

It was also announced that another reception of new members will be held Sunday, with Mrs. James Spindler of Highland Mills, newly appointed district deputy, officiating.

A Christmas party will be held December 15, with Mrs. N. Miles as chairman.

In a talk to the group, the Rev. Austin V. Carey said that the passing of the Marian Year has been marked in Rome by the restoration of the Church of Santa Maria Antiqua, which dates from the year 600, but which has been closed for over 900 years. The restoration of this ancient shrine of the Mother of God gives proof of the antiquity of the Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Rev. Father Carey added.

The similar devotion and honor paid to Mary by the Orthodox peoples and churches of Eastern Europe are another evidence of the special place she has occupied in the minds and hearts of Christian peoples throughout our era, said Father Carey. Honor and devotion to Mary, the Mother of Jesus, is emphatically not a development of recent church history, Father Carey concluded.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Charles Nicolosi, Michael Augustine, John Hogan and Arthur Ballard.

We know we're "out of the way" and it's easier to shop in the high rent stores because they are conveniently located, but if you want your Christmas money to go much farther, drive the few pleasurable miles out Route 28-A to where the overhead is only a fraction of what stores in the business areas cost.

Ask your friends—many of them have been in our showrooms — they will tell you of the better quality furniture we're carrying here at guaranteed savings to you. We also have a liberal budget or lay-a-way plan for your convenience.

We appreciate the business our many customer-friends have sent us. They have made us the largest wayside furniture store in Ulster Co. because they felt confident their friends, too, would get a square deal at Butler's. We're not afraid of comparison in values as some are. All we ask is before you buy, shop at Butler's, compare what we offer you with other stores, then you, too, will say Buy at Butler's for better furniture at Better Prices.

Christmas Greens Meeting Is Held By County 4-H Clubs

Nearly 90 members of Ulster county 4-H Clubs and their leaders met Saturday at municipal auditorium in Kingston to learn how to make Christmas wreaths, corsages, and cards and how to wrap gifts attractively.

The Christmas Greens meeting was held from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. and included demonstrations and exhibits.

Each of the boys and girls attending made a Christmas tree ornament to take home.

The making of Christmas wreaths and corsages was demonstrated by Julius Eckert of Wallkill. Mrs. Albina Orlowski of Plattekill demonstrated the making of simple decorations and Christmas cards. The are of gift wrapping was demonstrated by Miss Shirley Van Kleeck of Kingston.

Many suggestions for gifts to make, place cards, centerpieces, candles and tree decorations were included in the exhibits of articles made by Nancy Hutton, Carolyn Myer, Enid Goetchius, Sandra Dunphy and Mrs. Vernon Goetchius of Hurley; Alice Mae Wodischeck of North Flatbush, and Carol Hardwick of New Hurley.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

WAS IT PRESUMPTIOUS?

A reader writes me: "I would like your opinion on the following incident: At a recent wedding reception, it so happened that two of the guests present were observing their thirtieth wedding anniversary on this same day. The daughter of the anniversary couple (also present at the wedding and all relatives of the bride) took it upon herself to ask the orchestra leader to announce this fact and also to play the "Anniversary Waltz in their honor. After hearing the announcement, their friends gathered around them to congratulate them. All this was done without asking permission of the bride or groom. I, and many others, believe that this was in very bad taste, and rude to the wedding couple as it drew attention away from them. Your comments will be appreciated."

I thoroughly agree with your disapproval of their thoughtlessness.

Tipping

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are planning to entertain six couples at a dinner party in a private room of one of our local hotels, and we would like to know what per cent of the bill is supposed to be left for a tip. We do not do this sort of thing often and were wondering if the usual 10 percent is still customary?

Answer: The adequate 10 percent of yesterday is today from 12 to 15 per cent.

While It Cools

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is permissible to sip tea, or coffee, from a spoon if it is too hot to drink from the cup. I like tea hot and so sip it from the spoon until it is cool enough to drink from the cup. I was told that this is very bad manners and shows lack of breeding. What is your opinion?

Answer: It is entirely proper to sip the first few spoonfuls of hot tea or coffee until it is cooled sufficiently to drink from the cup.

Is it good manners to break crackers into soup? How should baked potato be eaten? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Answers to these questions are included in leaflet E-16. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Ahavath Israel Chanukah Dance Date Announced

A Chanukah and party will be held Saturday evening, Dec. 18, by the Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Israel, it was announced at a recent meeting. The event will be held in the vestry hall.

Reservations to this first of a series of social evenings may be made by contacting Harry Fertel, chairman, or Harry Brines, president.

Christmas Meeting Is Held by WSCS In Epworth Hall

At The Christmas meeting of the WSCS of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, held Thursday evening in the assembly room, the Rev. Herbert Killinder of Ulster Park showed several movies. These included Dickens Christmas Carol and Christmas hymns by the cathedral choir.

Mrs. Clayton R. Smith used the Christmas story for the worship service.

The 12 refreshment tables were decorated to represent the months of the year, each presided over by one of the officers of the society. There were 68 guests present for the meeting and social hour held in Epworth hall.

The next meeting will be January 6, in Epworth hall.

If you're ironing a large piece of fabric, turn your ironing board around so that the iron rests at the narrow end. That way, you get the maximum working space. Don't balance the iron too far out, however, if your board is the tippy kind.

Rev. Dean Dykstra Is Speaker at DAR Christmas Meeting

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra told members of Wiltwyck Chapter, DAR, that we will keep the honor of a certain aim amid the perils of uncertain ways, and leave the rest to God. Quoting from Henry Van Dyke, the Rev. Mr. Dykstra spoke on the theme, Patriotism through Religion, at the meeting held Thursday, Dec. 2.

The Rev. Mr. Dykstra indicated the power of God by quoting verses from the Bible. He concluded with the thought, That which is right will succeed, and that which is wrong will fail.

Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, who presided at this Christmas meeting, introduced two new members, Miss Mary Terwilliger and Miss Grace Terwilliger. She also announced that contributions were to be made to the TB Seal Sale and to the Community Chest in honor of Mrs. William H. Pouch at Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Herman Schwenk reported that 44 applicants were accepted at Naturalization Court, and were given flags and manuals by the DAR committee.

It was also announced that the name of Lt. Robert Edwin Keefe, buried in Arlington National Cemetery, had been placed on the Honor Roll at Valley Forge.

Following the business meeting was a musical program given by Mrs. Florence Cubberly, violinist, and John McCullough, tenor soloist.

Selections were: At Dawning, Cadman, Twilight, White, by Mrs. Cubberly; Nazareth, by Gounod, and Joseph Tender, Joseph Mine, by Dickinson, by Mr. McCullough; and Panis Angelicus, by Mr. McCullough with violin obligatto by Mrs. Cubberly.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Mrs. Adelbert H. Chambers and Mrs. R. Frederick Chidsey.

Music Group Hears Of Faust Legends, Opera Selections

The musical and literary works inspired by the Faust legends were discussed by Mrs. Boyd Williams at a meeting of the Music Appreciation Group, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Pixley, 75 Roosevelt avenue.

The legends are based on the life of a Dr. Faust who lived in Poland. Goethe's poem, Faust, was the source of inspiration for many musical compositions. A French translation in 1827 of Goethe poem attracted the attention of the composer Berlioz. His dramatic symphony, Damnation of Faust, had its premiere at the Paris Opera Comique in 1846.

The opera Faust produced by Charles Gounod in 1859 based on the first part of Goeth's poem is still one of the most popular operas sung today. The libretto of the It alian opera "Mefistophele" by Arrigo Boito was also inspired by Goethe's Faust.

Several symphonic compositions including Faust Symphony by Liszt and the Faust Overture by Wagner were discussed by Mrs. Williams.

Recordings from the opera Faust by Gounod and the Damnation of Faust by Berlioz were played.

Following the meeting tea was served by the hostess Mrs. Pixley assisted by Mrs. Charles Brandt. Mrs. Alfred Schmid presided at the tea table.

Catholic Youth Group Will Have Breakfast At Kirkland Hotel

The Rev. Edwin Kelsch, CSsR, will be the speaker.

Two Girl Scout adults will be presented with the Silver Cross during the breakfast. The recipients will be Mrs. Jeremy Bouchard of St. Joseph's, and Mrs. David Conway of St. Peter's. The presentation will be made by Miss Ursula Mannle, Archdiocesan adviser on Girl Scouting.

Tickets may be obtained from parish representatives and all persons interested in the work of the committee are cordially invited to attend the breakfast.

Italian Painter Of U. S. Capitol Subject of Paper

Constantino Brumidi, called the Michaelangelo of the US Capitol, was the subject of the paper at Atharhacton Club held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 1, at the home of Mrs. Hamilton Boyd.

An Italian refugee, the painter was responsible for the paintings on the ceilings, the friezes throughout the building, and a striking portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Primarily known for his fresco work, the painter was so proud of his newly-acquired citizenship that he signed one of his paintings, A Citizen of the United States.

Following the reading of the paper by Mrs. Boyd, tea was served, wih Mrs. Charles Terwilliger pouring.

The next meeting of the club will be Wednesday, Dec. 15, with Mrs. Newton Fessenden.

Junior League Will Give Donation of $1,500 To Hospitals, Community Chest, Loan Closet

The Junior League of Kingston voted at the December meeting held Monday evening a donation of $1500. The recipients are: Kingston Hospital, $400, for present Development Fund Drive; Benedictine Hospital, $400, for Nurses' Home Fund; Community Chest, $300; and Junior League Loan Closet, $400, to purchase hospital beds, wheelchairs and other like articles which are loaned free of charge to the community.

Dr. Herbert Johnson of this city was guest speaker at the meeting, on the topic of the Reading Clinic to be established in this city, under the direction of George Bond of New Paltz Teachers College, reading expert, who will act as consultant.

Dr. Johnson said that the overall average of children reading below grade level is 15 per cent, with three or four times as many boys as girls found to have reading difficulties.

The guest speaker pointed out that according to studies made by him, the New York Herald Tribune and the New York Times are geared to a sixth grade reading level.

He stated that a child with reading difficulties often becomes backward, and is hindered in other subjects. The result is frustration, faulty behavior and emotional complexes in the child.

Juvenile delinequency can be traced to this cause, the speaker asserted. Deficiencies in reading are often recognized by colleges. He noted that one west Pennsylvania college caused 20 per cent if its incoming students to take remedial reading.

Dr. Johnson concluded that the purposes of the Reading Clinic would be to find the child's difficulties through a series of tests, then to correct the difficulties.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Raymond R. Garraghan, president. Hostesses were Mrs. Arthur Davis, Mrs. James Abernethy, and Mrs. Robert O'Reilly. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Davis.

Italian Painter Of U. S. Capitol Subject of Paper

Constantino Brumidi, called the Michaelangelo of the US Capitol, was the subject of the paper at Atharhacton Club held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 1, at the home of Mrs. Hamilton Boyd.

An Italian refugee, the painter was responsible for the paintings on the ceilings, the friezes throughout the building, and a striking portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Primarily known for his fresco work, the painter was so proud of his newly-acquired citizenship that he signed one of his paintings, A Citizen of the United States.

Following the reading of the paper by Mrs. Boyd, tea was served, wih Mrs. Charles Terwilliger pouring.

The next meeting of the club will be Wednesday, Dec. 15, with Mrs. Newton Fessenden.

Junior League Will Give Donation of $1,500 To Hospitals, Community Chest, Loan Closet

The Junior League of Kingston voted at the December meeting held Monday evening a donation of $1500. The recipients are: Kingston Hospital, $400, for present Development Fund Drive; Benedictine Hospital, $400, for Nurses' Home Fund; Community Chest, $300; and Junior League Loan Closet, $400, to purchase hospital beds, wheelchairs and other like articles which are loaned free of charge to the community.

Dr. Herbert Johnson of this city was guest speaker at the meeting, on the topic of the Reading Clinic to be established in this city, under the direction of George Bond of New Paltz Teachers College, reading expert, who will act as consultant.

Dr. Johnson said that the overall average of children reading below grade level is 15 per cent, with three or four times as many boys as girls found to have reading difficulties.

The guest speaker pointed out that according to studies made by him, the New York Herald Tribune and the New York Times are geared to a sixth grade reading level.

He stated that a child with reading difficulties often becomes backward, and is hindered in other subjects. The result is frustration, faulty behavior and emotional complexes in the child.

Juvenile delinequency can be traced to this cause, the speaker asserted. Deficiencies in reading are often recognized by colleges. He noted that one west Pennsylvania college caused 20 per cent if its incoming students to take remedial reading.

Dr. Johnson concluded that the purposes of the Reading Clinic would be to find the child's difficulties through a series of tests, then to correct the difficulties.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Raymond R. Garraghan, president. Hostesses were Mrs. Arthur Davis, Mrs. James Abernethy, and Mrs. Robert O'Reilly. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Davis.

Rev. Dean Dykstra Is Speaker at DAR Christmas Meeting

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra told members of Wiltwyck Chapter, DAR, that we will keep the honor of a certain aim amid the perils of uncertain ways, and leave the rest to God. Quoting from Henry Van Dyke, the Rev. Mr. Dykstra spoke on the theme, Patriotism through Religion, at the meeting held Thursday, Dec. 2.

The Rev. Mr. Dykstra indicated the power of God by quoting verses from the Bible. He concluded with the thought, That which is right will succeed, and that which is wrong will fail.

Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, who presided at this Christmas meeting, introduced two new members, Miss Mary Terwilliger and Miss Grace Terwilliger. She also announced that contributions were to be made to the TB Seal Sale and to the Community Chest in honor of Mrs. William H. Pouch at Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Herman Schwenk reported that 44 applicants were accepted at Naturalization Court, and were given flags and manuals by the DAR committee.

It was also announced that the name of Lt. Robert Edwin Keefe, buried in Arlington National Cemetery, had been placed on the Honor Roll at Valley Forge.

Following the business meeting was a musical program given by Mrs. Florence Cubberly, violinist, and John McCullough, tenor soloist.

Selections were: At Dawning, Cadman, Twilight, White, by Mrs. Cubberly; Nazareth, by Gounod, and Joseph Tender, Joseph Mine, by Dickinson, by Mr. McCullough; and Panis Angelicus, by Mr. McCullough with violin obligatto by Mrs. Cubberly.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Mrs. Adelbert H. Chambers and Mrs. R. Frederick Chidsey.

Music Group Hears Of Faust Legends, Opera Selections

The musical and literary works inspired by the Faust legends were discussed by Mrs. Boyd Williams at a meeting of the Music Appreciation Group, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Pixley, 75 Roosevelt avenue.

The legends are based on the life of a Dr. Faust who lived in Poland. Goethe's poem, Faust, was the source of inspiration for many musical compositions. A French translation in 1827 of Goethe poem attracted the attention of the composer Berlioz. His dramatic symphony, Damnation of Faust, had its premiere at the Paris Opera Comique in 1846.

The opera Faust produced by Charles Gounod in 1859 based on the first part of Goeth's poem is still one of the most popular operas sung today. The libretto of the It alian opera "Mefistophele" by Arrigo Boito was also inspired by Goethe's Faust.

Several symphonic compositions including Faust Symphony by Liszt and the Faust Overture by Wagner were discussed by Mrs. Williams.

Recordings from the opera Faust by Gounod and the Damnation of Faust by Berlioz were played.

Building Burns On Nearby Farm

A cat was burned to death in a fire which destroyed a small one-story building on the Kessler farm on Linderman avenue extension immediately outside the city about 11 p. m. yesterday—but an adjoining structure housing an estimated 300 pigs was saved.

The building contained a "cooker" used to cook garbage for feeding hogs.

The adjoining brooder house containing the pigs was reported saved by a group of neighbors who formed a bucket brigade. The brooder house was badly scorched.

Approximately 400 gallons of fuel oil stored in the building were reported a total loss.

Mrs. William U. Kessler told The Freeman that the fire was caused by a short circuit at the main switch box located in one corner of the building housing the garbage cooker.

MRS. KESSLER SAID the cat had been left inside the cooker building for the night and had been trapped inside. She described it as an ordinary variety of no particular breed. She said it was warm and comfortable inside the cooker house, one reason why the animal was permitted to remain inside.

The brooder house was separated from the burning building by a narrow alley only 15 feet wide.

A number of other buildings, seven in all, including the home, were located close to the fire. None was damaged.

"We were scared," Mrs. Kessler said. "We thought everything was going."

She said the farm's two wells had been rendered useless by failure of electricity due to the fire. Both wells are operated by an electric pump.

A CALL WAS RECEIVED by Central Fire Station at 11:10 and Deputy Chief George Matthews sped to the scene in the chief's car. He discovered that the nearest hydrant was 5,000 feet from the fire and notified Central Station it was too far for a stream but that a tank truck would be useful.

In the meantime Ulster Hose was dispatched under mutual aid. At 11:22 p. m. Chief Joseph L. Murphy dispatched Wicks Hose. Wicks Hose secured at 1:07 a. m. and Ulster Hose at 1:28 a. m. today.

At 2:20 a. m. today the fire department sent equipment to 24 Henry street where a faulty space heater had been reported.

At 9:10 a. m. Engine 3 from Wiltwyck Station was dispatched to the Crown street parking lot where a 1953 sedan owned by the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and operated by Patricia French was reported on fire. The fire department said it was caused by a short circuit. No damage was reported.

Snow Hits England

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—The season's first snowfall, reaching as far as Hampshire on the south coast, hit England today. London had a temperature reading of 37, but it was freezing in the Midlands and Scotland.

Rubber Cushions Soften Rail Rides

Ashtabula, Ohio, Dec. 7 (AP)—Someday you may not be able to hear the train along the track, clickety-clack, clickety-clack.

Nelson K. Moses, a former fireman and engineer, predicts trains of the future will ride on rubber-cushioned rails. He is so convinced, he quit the railroad and opened a plant that makes rubber rail cushions.

He expects to sell $150,000 worth this year. That's more than 20 times the gross business he did in 1951, when he opened shop, and he believes the business is still in its infancy.

THE CUSHIONS he makes now go between the plate and the tie and between the plate and the rail.

They not only reduce noise and vibration, he said, but also cut track maintenance costs. Moses said more than 50 railroads are already using rubber cushions at points of stress and have found they cut track maintenance costs by 85 per cent.

Garriga Separation

A decree of separation was entered in the county clerk's office Monday granting a decree in favor of Maria T. Garriga from Miguel Garriga on the grounds the defendant failed to support plaintiff and abandoned her. The decree was ordered by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth following a hearing at special term of Supreme Court on November 5. The wife is awarded $50 a week. Plaintiff, who resides in the town of Olive, was represented by Joseph Avis. Defendant is regional director for the American Federation of Labor for Puerto Rico and was well known in New York and Philadelphia labor circles prior to assuming his present position.

To Run Trains to Zoo

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Patrick B. McGinnis, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, announced yesterday that the railroad plans to run special trains to the Bronx Zoo. McGinnis made the statement during a speech at the 61st annual luncheon of the Bronx Board of Trade. He said the zoo trains would link Westchester county, Connecticut and Massachusetts with the Bronx Zoo. He said the excursion operation would begin after Christmas, but did not set a date.

Families Driven Out

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Twenty-five families were driven out into the early morning 16 degree cold today when fire swept through a six-story tenement in Brooklyn. Two persons were rescued by firemen—a 250-pound woman and the two-year-old grandson she was found protecting from the flames in a bedroom.

HONORED—Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud, of Scarsdale, N. Y., has been named to receive the award of the American Chemical Society for his discovery of oxytocin, a substance of great value to nursing mothers. With his associates, Dr. du Vigneaud, a world-famous biochemist of Cornell University Medical College in New York City, performed a real miracle of research. Out of the hundreds of thousands of possible combinations to make up the molecular structure of oxytocin, they hit upon exactly the right one.

Reports Theft of Shoes

Rachel Barringer of Olive Bridge reported to police headquarters at 1:15 p. m. yesterday that a shopping bag containing Christmas cards and a pair of patent leather shoes had been removed from her car while it was parked in front of Dedrick's Drug Store on Wall street.

Value of Watch Parts

Although most parts of a watch are made of steel, the steel used is worth more than its weight in gold—literally. This is so, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, because there are 1,200 separate operations involved in the making of a fine watch and because many of those operations call for considerable hand work.

She drove Mrs. Schied to a private physician for examination and treatment and then took her home. She reported that Mrs. Schied suffered bruises of the left leg.

Estate Appraised At $162,744 Net

New York, Dec. 6 (Special)—The estate of the late Charles M. van Kleeck of Woodstock and New York, former vice-president of the Fulton Trust Company here, was appraised by the State Transfer Tax Department today at $175,513 gross value, and $162,744 net, subject to tax.

His home on the Upper Byrdcliffe road, Woodstock, was included at $14,550.

The Woodstock home and the bulk of the remaining property go to a sister, Mary van Kleeck of 10 Mitchell Place, New York. Several other relatives receive minor bequests.

Mr. van Kleeck died in Kingston on May 18th, 1951, at the age of 80. He had retired in 1931 as vice-president of the bank, which was later merged into the New York Trust Company.

He was a descendant of an old Colonial family, and the grandson of Charles F. Mayer, a founder of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Tug Crew Is Sought

New Orleans, Dec. 7 (AP)—A coast guard cutter and two ships combed the choppy waters of the Gulf of Mexico at dawn today for a raft believed carrying survivors from a sunken tug. The coast guard said the three ships and a plane hunted for a raft spotted by a search plane last night. The SS Almeria Lykes joined the cutter Cartigan and the tanker Bradford Island shortly before dawn in hunting for survivors from the tug Bertha R of Tampa, Fla. The tug was last reported about 100 miles south of Panama City, Fla., en route from Texas to Tampa, Fla., with a barge.

Dodge flashes ahead in style!

New '55 Dodge Custom Royal V-8 4-door Sedan . . . flair-fashioned!

Presenting the dazzling new '55 DODGE
Flair-Fashioned for the Future

These last few days, crowds of people have come in to get their first look at the flair-fashioned new Dodge for 1955. They examined it and gave their verdict:

Dodge has done it!

Dodge flashes ahead with a car that is taut and eager in every line—lower, wider and far, far longer.

Dodge flashes ahead with the new outlook in car design—a swept-back New Horizon windshield that encircles you in a glass cockpit.

Dodge flashes ahead with clean, flowing lines that capture the flair of the future—from the low and racy hood to the flaring rear deck and twin-jet taillights.

If you have not yet seen what Dodge has done, you are missing the thrill of the year. It is a car of a hundred surprises, inside and out. Come see for yourself.

Take Command... Get the Thrill First Hand

New Horizon Windshield preserves the true line of beauty with its rakish swept-back slant—wraps around both top and bottom!

On Way to China

Singapore, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Singapore Standard reported today that Malaya's top Communist leader is now en route to Indochina to confer with Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, chief of the Vietminh forces in northern Viet Nam. The newspaper said the Red boss, Chin Peng, apparently is seeking advice on how to pep up the Red terror war in Malaya's jungles.

Reports Theft of Shoes

Rachel Barringer of Olive Bridge reported to police headquarters at 1:15 p. m. yesterday that a shopping bag containing Christmas cards and a pair of patent leather shoes had been removed from her car while it was parked in front of Dedrick's Drug Store on Wall street.

Value of Watch Parts

Although most parts of a watch are made of steel, the steel used is worth more than its weight in gold—literally. This is so, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, because there are 1,200 separate operations involved in the making of a fine watch and because many of those operations call for considerable hand work.

Airman Is Charged

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 7 (AP)—A young New York airman has been charged with murdering Richard G. Carter, 26, of Cambridge, Ohio, whose body was found in a hotel room closet. Homicide Inspector Pete Wiebenga filed a charge of first degree murder against Gerard Rosenthal, 22, of New York city yesterday. Rosenthal pleaded innocent at arraignment. Held for further questioning was Michael J. Tuzzo, 20, of Jersey City, N. J. No charge was filed. Both Tuzzo and Rosenthal are enlisted men stationed at the Greenville, Miss., Air Force Base.

Woman Struck by Car

Miss Angelina E. Di Peri, 314 Lucas avenue, reported to police headquarters yesterday that her car had struck Mrs. Helen Schied of Wrentham street at the intersection of Wall and John streets about 4:20 p. m. She drove Mrs. Schied to a private physician for examination and treatment and then took her home. She reported that Mrs. Schied suffered bruises of the left leg.

'55 DODGE

Flair-Fashioned for the Future

These last few days, crowds of people have come in to get their first look at the flair-fashioned new Dodge for 1955. They examined it and gave their verdict:

Dodge has done it!

Dodge flashes ahead with a car that is taut and eager in every line—lower, wider and far, far longer.

Dodge flashes ahead with the new outlook in car design—a swept-back New Horizon windshield that encircles you in a glass cockpit.

Dodge flashes ahead with clean, flowing lines that capture the flair of the future—from the low and racy hood to the flaring rear deck and twin-jet taillights.

If you have not yet seen what Dodge has done, you are missing the thrill of the year. It is a car of a hundred surprises, inside and out. Come see for yourself.

Building Burns On Nearby Farm

A cat was burned to death in a fire which destroyed a small one-story building on the Kessler farm on Linderman avenue extension immediately outside the city about 11 p. m. yesterday—but an adjoining structure housing an estimated 300 pigs was saved.

The building contained a "cooker" used to cook garbage for feeding hogs.

The adjoining brooder house containing the pigs was reported saved by a group of neighbors who formed a bucket brigade. The brooder house was badly scorched.

Approximately 400 gallons of fuel oil stored in the building were reported a total loss.

Mrs. William U. Kessler told The Freeman that the fire was caused by a short circuit at the main switch box located in one corner of the building housing the garbage cooker.

MRS. KESSLER SAID the cat had been left inside the cooker building for the night and had been trapped inside. She described it as an ordinary variety of no particular breed. She said it was warm and comfortable inside the cooker house, one reason why the animal was permitted to remain inside.

The brooder house was separated from the burning building by a narrow alley only 15 feet wide.

A number of other buildings, seven in all, including the home, were located close to the fire. None was damaged.

"We were scared," Mrs. Kessler said. "We thought everything was going."

She said the farm's two wells had been rendered useless by failure of electricity due to the fire. Both wells are operated by an electric pump.

A CALL WAS RECEIVED by Central Fire Station at 11:10 and Deputy Chief George Matthews sped to the scene in the chief's car. He discovered that the nearest hydrant was 5,000 feet from the fire and notified Central Station it was too far for a stream but that a tank truck would be useful.

In the meantime Ulster Hose was dispatched under mutual aid. At 11:22 p. m. Chief Joseph L. Murphy dispatched Wicks Hose. Wicks Hose secured at 1:07 a. m. and Ulster Hose at 1:28 a. m. today.

At 2:20 a. m. today the fire department sent equipment to 24 Henry street where a faulty space heater had been reported.

At 9:10 a. m. Engine 3 from Wiltwyck Station was dispatched to the Crown street parking lot where a 1953 sedan owned by the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and operated by Patricia French was reported on fire. The fire department said it was caused by a short circuit. No damage was reported.

Snow Hits England

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—The season's first snowfall, reaching as far as Hampshire on the south coast, hit England today. London had a temperature reading of 37, but it was freezing in the Midlands and Scotland.

Rubber Cushions Soften Rail Rides

Ashtabula, Ohio, Dec. 7 (AP)—Someday you may not be able to hear the train along the track, clickety-clack, clickety-clack.

Nelson K. Moses, a former fireman and engineer, predicts trains of the future will ride on rubber-cushioned rails. He is so convinced, he quit the railroad and opened a plant that makes rubber rail cushions.

He expects to sell $150,000 worth this year. That's more than 20 times the gross business he did in 1951, when he opened shop, and he believes the business is still in its infancy.

THE CUSHIONS he makes now go between the plate and the tie and between the plate and the rail.

They not only reduce noise and vibration, he said, but also cut track maintenance costs. Moses said more than 50 railroads are already using rubber cushions at points of stress and have found they cut track maintenance costs by 85 per cent.

Garriga Separation

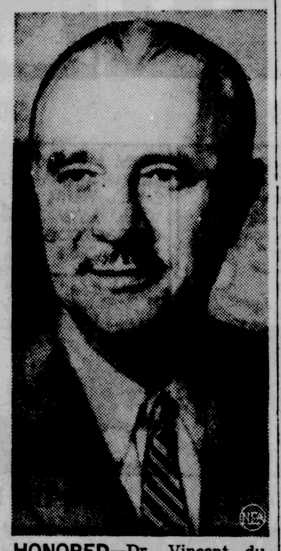
A decree of separation was entered in the county clerk's office Monday granting a decree in favor of Maria T. Garriga from Miguel Garriga on the grounds the defendant failed to support plaintiff and abandoned her. The decree was ordered by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth following a hearing at special term of Supreme Court on November 5. The wife is awarded $50 a week. Plaintiff, who resides in the town of Olive, was represented by Joseph Avis. Defendant is regional director for the American Federation of Labor for Puerto Rico and was well known in New York and Philadelphia labor circles prior to assuming his present position.

To Run Trains to Zoo

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Patrick B. McGinnis, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, announced yesterday that the railroad plans to run special trains to the Bronx Zoo. McGinnis made the statement during a speech at the 61st annual luncheon of the Bronx Board of Trade. He said the zoo trains would link Westchester county, Connecticut and Massachusetts with the Bronx Zoo. He said the excursion operation would begin after Christmas, but did not set a date.

Families Driven Out

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Twenty-five families were driven out into the early morning 16 degree cold today when fire swept through a six-story tenement in Brooklyn. Two persons were rescued by firemen—a 250-pound woman and the two-year-old grandson she was found protecting from the flames in a bedroom.



HONORED—Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud, of Scarsdale, N. Y., has been named to receive the award of the American Chemical Society for his discovery of oxytocin, a substance of great value to nursing mothers. With his associates, Dr. du Vigneaud, a world-famous biochemist of Cornell University Medical College in New York City, performed a real miracle of research. Out of the hundreds of thousands of possible combinations to make up the molecular structure of oxytocin, they hit upon exactly the right one.

Estate Appraised At $162,744 Net

New York, Dec. 6 (Special)—The estate of the late Charles M. van Kleeck of Woodstock and New York, former vice-president of the Fulton Trust Company here, was appraised by the State Transfer Tax Department today at $175,513 gross value, and $162,744 net, subject to tax.

His home on the Upper Byrdcliffe road, Woodstock, was included at $14,550.

The Woodstock home and the bulk of the remaining property go to a sister, Mary van Kleeck of 10 Mitchell Place, New York. Several other relatives receive minor bequests.

Mr. van Kleeck died in Kingston on May 18th, 1951, at the age of 80. He had retired in 1931 as vice-president of the bank, which was later merged into the New York Trust Company.

He was a descendant of an old Colonial family, and the grandson of Charles F. Mayer, a founder of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Tug Crew Is Sought

New Orleans, Dec. 7 (AP)—A coast guard cutter and two ships combed the choppy waters of the Gulf of Mexico at dawn today for a raft believed carrying survivors from a sunken tug. The coast guard said the three ships and a plane hunted for a raft spotted by a search plane last night. The SS Almeria Lykes joined the cutter Cartigan and the tanker Bradford Island shortly before dawn in hunting for survivors from the tug Bertha R of Tampa, Fla. The tug was last reported about 100 miles south of Panama City, Fla., en route from Texas to Tampa, Fla., with a barge.

Father Mulloy Goes To Yonkers Parish

Saugerties, Dec. 6—The Rev. Matthew F. Mulloy, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, has been assigned as assistant pastor of the Church of St. Eugene in Yonkers.

Father Mulloy, who has served at St. Mary's Church for a year and a half, left Saugerties Friday for his new assignment where he will serve under the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Dougherty.

In the short time he has been in Saugerties, Father Mulloy had taken an active interest in community affairs and youth activities. He was a charter member of the Saugerties Youth Council and served on the constitution and by-laws committee.

Father Mulloy served as assistant pastor under the late Rev. Edmond T. Harty and accepted the responsibility of directing the parish during the long illness of Father Harty.

Support Is Given

Saugerties, Dec. 6—The Girls' Community Club gave its endorsement to the centralization program during the regular meeting of the group held at the Zibella home on the Saugerties-Kingston road Wednesday. Plans also were formulated for the annual Christmas party which will be held at the Flamingo Restaurant Sunday, Dec. 19. At that time the annual project of the group will be conducted. This year the club will clothe nine little girls as part of the project. The group also voted to contribute to the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association through the purchase of a health bond and seals.

Proposals Are Made To Install Chimes

Saugerties, Dec. 6—Proposals were made at the congregational meeting of the Saugerties Reformed Church Thursday night for the purchase and installation of chimes in the belfry of the village church.

Also approved was a proposal for the rebuilding of the present organ of the church. The expenditure of the entire project would total approximately $10,000.

As the chimes will be played daily and will affect the routine of the village, endorsement of the innovation will be sought from the Village Board of Trustees.

According to a spokesman the chime system will operate from a series of tapes which will provide automatic playing of hymns. The chimes also may be played manually.

The Rev. Harold E. Pangburn, pastor, said that the chimes are not expected to be installed until some time in the spring.

During the meeting Silas Van Etten and James Christianna were elected as elders and John Morris and Percy Dederick were designated as deacons.

Town Clerk William Ferman announced that 859 big game licenses were sold this season. Compared with last year's sale this figure is an increase of 21 over the 1953 totals. This past season 827 regular big game licenses were sold, 17 for hunters using bow and arrow and 15 non-resident licenses. In 1953 the totals were 788 regular, 15 for bow and arrow and 35 non-resident. The decrease 20 in non-resident sales may have been caused by the sharp increase in non-resident license fees for 1954. According to Ferman, the new total of 859 sold is a new record high.

The Saugerties Council of Camp Fire Girls held its annual theatre party at the Orpheum Theatre Thursday afternoon. The party was attended by approximately 130 Blue Birds and their guests. The Saugerties Council of Camp Fire Girls held its annual theatre party at the Orpheum Theatre Thursday afternoon. The party was attended by approximately 130 Blue Birds and their guests. Following the show refreshments were served in the R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms in the municipal building. Those in charge of the project included Mrs. Douglas Swart, Mrs. Irving Dreishpoon, Mrs. Lester Storm and George Thornton, theatre manager.

High School Opens Basketball Season Wednesday at Catskill

Coach Kias Seeks Fifth Starter For Varsity Five

Kantrowitz, Baum Or Houghtaling Due

Kingston High's opening basketball game at Catskill High is only a little more than 24 hours away, but the No. 5 position on the varsity is still up for grabs, Coach G. Warren Kias said this morning.

Four positions are filled with holdover players from the 1953-54 squad that won 18 and lost 3 and missed two post-season titles by one point margins.

INVOLVED IN the three-way battle for the fifth starting post are Jack Houghtaling, a varsity reserve last year; Marty Kantrowitz, high scorer up from the Jayvees, and Donald Baum, who is out for the first time.

The big man, of course, is Skip Brodhead, an All-DUSO selection last year, and fifth in the DUSO scoring list with 303 points. He is Kingston's rebuttal to Mickey Burkoski of Newburgh, Mendy Ringel of Monticello and Monty Stickles and

Charlie Johnson of Poughkeepsie.

RAY LAWRENCE, who will hold down the pivot post, Tom Fleming and Bob Maines comprise three-fifths of the starting lineup. Houghtaling saw some action in varsity games last season.

Varsity members also include Jim Jackson, Charlie Johnson, John Woolsey, Neil Keyser, Robert Smith, Larry Johnson.

Wednesday's game will be the first for Kingston under the new version of the bonus foul rule. This year, a player is awarded a second free throw, if he makes the first on a 2-throw call. Last year, he got the second shot if he missed the first.

THE DUSO schedule makers have scheduled a major battle for Friday's opening set of games.

While Kingston draws a bye and remains idle until Dec. 14, Newburgh travels to Poughkeepsie where the pennant hope of either team will suffer an early season fracture.

In other games, Fallsburgh Central travels to Liberty; Ellenville is at Monticello and Middletown visits Port Jervis, where they are still celebrating the Thanksgiving Day football victory.

Coach Bill Burke reminds you of a guy who owns a match factory but can't get a light for a cigarette. Circumstances have contrived to keep the DUSO's coach-of-the-year award from him.

First Stan Hemingway had his run at Newburgh Academy. Then along came Sam Kalloch with last year's wonder squad. Now Roger Robinson of Port Jervis is cited for the spectacular Thanksgiving Day upset over Middletown High.

Burke's nine-year DUSO record completely overshadows his contemporaries. Year after year the Maroon either wins or is close. The legend is created that Burke has the material and should win. This season he started with two tested performers. Strangely, the man is penalized because he's too good.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

DUSO writers by a 6-4 vote picked Kingston High to reclaim its basketball laurels this season. Monticello, with All-DUSO Mendy Ringel, Ronnie Trachtenburg and Marty Schwartz, is tabbed the "sleeper." There were four different groups in Washington and New York trying to pressure Army into a Sugar Bowl acceptance —two weeks before the Navy game. . . . Ed O'Connor, Ex-St. Patrick's Star, Leads Manhattan Against Hartwick

When Manhattan College meets Hartwick College of Oneonta in a regularly scheduled intercollegiate basketball game here on Saturday, Dec. 18, the guy to watch will be the Jaspers' big, high-scoring center, Eddie O'Connor.

The 6-foot-6 center from Newburgh will be remembered by Kingston High School fans as a star performer for St. Patrick's Academy of the Hill City before he entered Manhattan.

O'CONNOR broke the Manhattan scoring record for one season with a 426-point harvest in 25 games. He is expected to have an even better season this time around and needs 391 points to shatter the all-time Manhattan scoring mark of 1,230 points by Bob Kelly in a four-year career as a Jasper.

Coach Ken Norton has two other top-notch operators in Bob Otten, 6-foot-4 senior from Glendale, Queens. Otten was used to spell O'Connor last year but figures as a starter the last time around. A rugged backboard operator, Otten is likewise adept at tipping in rebounds and has a good pivot shot.

JIMMY LAKE, a six-foot senior, is the playmaker for the Jaspers. Lake, who scored 226 points last year, not only is an expert at setting up plays but is also valuable for his sure hands around the backboard. His ability to leap high and snare rebounds has saved many games for the New Yorkers.

Hartwick College compiled a fine record last season and returns with an all-veteran array. After several successful seasons in the small-college class they are branching out in quest of bigger game as the Manhattan game attests.

Besides Manhattan, Hartwick takes on such rugged foes as Colgate, Wesleyan, Scranton, Union, Maryland State, LeMoyne College of Syracuse, Kings College, Upsala, Connecticut, Army, Quantico Marines and Griffiths Air Base.

Hartwick will have played five tough games before it comes to the municipal auditorium and will be ready for the Jaspers.

Following the Manhattan game, the Hartwick cagers compete in the Christmas Holiday tournament at Sampson Air Base.

The Recreation Department's Intermediate basketball league for boys 15 and 16 years old starts Wednesday night at the George Washington School gym.

Two games are scheduled, with 50 Club playing Immaculate Conception at 7:15 p. m. and Kingston Preps opposing Rapp's Juniors, last year's Midget League champions, at 8:15 p. m.

TEN TEAMS will compete in the Intermediate League this season, with games scheduled Monday and Wednesday evenings.

The Recreation Department's girls basketball league has 11 teams playing on Tuesday and Thursday at the MJM gym. No admission is charged for games.

Attendance Up 9.7 Per Cent in Major Leagues

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Milwaukee and Baltimore, newest additions to major league baseball, helped the National and American Leagues to show attendance gains during 1954, officials said today.

Attendance for both leagues hit 15,953,881 last season, a gain of 9.7 per cent compared with 1953. The National League reported 8,013,517, up 8 per cent, and the American League 7,992,364, up 14 per cent.

The Milwaukee Braves had 2,131,386 for a National League record. The New York Yankees, who dropped 62,640 from 1953, led the American League with 1,475,171.

Baltimore made the big difference in the American, with a turnout of 1,060,910. Only 297,238 saw the team as the Browns in St. Louis in 1953.

Walt Dropo To Chisox

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Frank Lane, the trade-conscious Chicago White Sox general manager went after the Kansas City Athletics today in an effort to add to two deals he completed yesterday that brought three players from the Baltimore Orioles and three from the Detroit Tigers.

Without actually naming the Athletics he hoped to get, Lane left no doubt he's after third baseman Jim Finigan and pitcher Arnie Portocarrero, the two most desirable trading commodities in Manager Lou Boudreau's assortment of cellar-dwellers.

LANE FIGURED in the only two deals swung yesterday as the major league convention got under way with the National and American Leagues meeting in the same hotel but in separate rooms. The two leagues were scheduled to close out the two-day convention with a joint meeting.

The White Sox dealt off seven players to get six. First they sent pitchers Don Johnson (8-7) and Don Ferrarese (18-15 at Oakland), catcher Matt Batts (.235) and infielder Fred Marsh (.306) to Baltimore for catcher Clint Courtney (.270), pitcher Bob Chakales (5-7) and infielder Jim Brideweser (.226).

In the second transaction, Chicago acquired first baseman Walt Dropo (.281), outfielder Bob Nieman (.263) and southpaw Ted Gray (3-5) from the Tigers for first baseman Ferris Fain (.302), utility infielder Jack Phillips (.307 at Hollywood) and righthanded pitcher Leo Christante (24-7 at Atlanta).

No cash was involved in either deal.

LaSalle and the University of Kentucky rated 1-2 today as the top college basketball teams in the country in a pre-season Associated Press poll.

The returns were hardly announced, however, before Indiana, the defending Big 10 champion ranked No. 6, was knocked off last night by Missouri 64-61.

LaSalle captured the NCAA tournament last spring, while Kentucky was ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll after that tourney was completed. Kentucky was undefeated in the 1953-54 season, and stayed out of the NCAA tourney because three of its stars were ineligible.

The Real Leaders

Jones Dairy No 2 Leads KWBA's Class B Group

Jones Dairy's No. 2 squad rolled the highest gross series in the KWBA's annual tournament last weekend and is leading Class B, Secretary Helen Murphy of the KWBA said today.

In Monday's report, the Cherny's squad was listed as the Class B leaders.

As the teams prepare for the second and final weekend of the tournament, Jones Dairy leads both the A and B tournaments.

THE NO. 2 SQUAD toppled a 2144 net and had 318-pin handicap pull. Shirley Buckman set the pace with 467 and Fritzi Davis shot 454.

Elizabeth Bruck compiled a hefty 550 series to pace Sealtest to third place in the Class A division of the KWBA tournament with 2414.

Miss Bruck fired solos of 179, 211 and 160. Tess Moss of the fourth place Rowe's Shoe Store toppled 529, with 212-158-159.

Phyl Gehringer furnished 501 for J. Ellis Briggs. Nellie Alverson's 485 and Rita La Rocca's 481 sparked Jones Dairy No. 1 into first place.

CYO to Sponsor Cage Clinic

Ulster county CYO will sponsor a basketball clinic tonight at 7:30 at the George Washington school gym. William T. Mahoney, CYO boys athletic chairman, has signed Coach Al Gruner of the KHS physical education staff to conduct the clinic and explain the new rules.

The CYO Junior league for boys up to the age of 16 will start Tuesday, Dec. 21, at the GWS gym. The Metropolitan league for boys up to 18 gets under way Wednesday, Dec. 15, at the municipal auditorium.

ABC Entry Deadline Is Tonight Midnight

Team captains holding reservations for the 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament at Fort Wayne, Ind., must submit their entry blanks, together with complete bowling and prize fees by midnight tonight, or they will lose their reservations.

Reservations for the tournament passed the 5100 mark on Dec. 2, according to Joe Smolen, manager of entries. The 71-day tournament, to be held March 26, through June 4 at the Fort Wayne Memorial Coliseum, is scaled to 6040 teams.

Weak Bench Hurts Duquesne's Bid for National Cage Title

Indiana Upset By Missouri

BY ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

If Duquesne hopes to win the National basketball title this year, the club is going to have to live up to its nickname, the Iron Dukes. Coach Dudley Moore has a powerful first five at his command, but beyond the regulars, he has trouble enough to cause many a gray hair.

The Dukes, rated No. 3 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, opened their campaign last night with an easy 75-52 conquest of Carnegie Tech. Moore kept his star forward, Dick Ricketts, in for all but four minutes of the game and he scored 34 points. His younger brother Dave, making his first start as a sophomore, had six points.

The defending Big 10 champion, Indiana, had a rough night, and bowed to Missouri 64-61. It appears that the key to beating the Hoosiers is to get rid of All-America Don Schlundt.

SCHLUNDT had 25 points to lead both teams, but he was benched more than five minutes with four personal fouls.

Iowa, their heir-apparent to the Big 10 throne, and rated No. 4 in the poll, won its second straight with an 84-61 victory over Nebraska.

Dr. Phog Allen of Kansas sent four sophomores and a junior into action in the opener and they emerged with an 83-58 conquest of Louisiana State.

Tennessee Tech edged Eastern Kentucky 85-80 in five overtimes. This is a rarity but has happened several times before.

VANDERBILT reached a milestone in its backetball fortunes when it topped the 100-point mark for the first time in history in the process of downing Washington and Lee 104-88. The Commodores' previous mark was 97 set in 1953 against Georgia.

Wisconsin breezed to an 80-68 victory over Western Michigan whie the University of Detroit won its third straight, beating Bowling Green of Ohio 91-60. Loyola of Chicago whipped North Dakota State 90-75, Washington University of St. Louis turned back Mississippi State 66-44, Marquette crushed Creighton 96-68, Tulsa trounced Baylor 60-48, and Arizona edged Kansas State, 86-81, and Colorado halted Brigham Young 65-46 in other major games.

Onteora Opens UCAL at Home

Both teams will be seeking their first league victory of the season when Onteora Central plays Highland High in its Ulster County Athletic League home opener this evening at 6:30 at Boiceville. Onteora dropped its opener to Highland, 41-32, while Highland was drubbed by Saugerties High, 60-46.

O'CONNOR broke the Manhattan scoring record for one season with a 426-point harvest in 25 games. He is expected to have an even better season this time around and needs 391 points to shatter the all-time Manhattan scoring mark of 1,230 points by Bob Kelly in a four-year career as a Jasper.

Coach Ken Norton has two other top-notch operators in Bob Otten, 6-foot-4 senior from Glendale, Queens. Otten was used to spell O'Connor last year but figures as a starter the last time around. A rugged backboard operator, Otten is likewise adept at tipping in rebounds and has a good pivot shot.

JIMMY LAKE, a six-foot senior, is the playmaker for the Jaspers. Lake, who scored 226 points last year, not only is an expert at setting up plays but is also valuable for his sure hands around the backboard. His ability to leap high and snare rebounds has saved many games for the New Yorkers.

Hartwick College compiled a fine record last season and returns with an all-veteran array. After several successful seasons in the small-college class they are branching out in quest of bigger game as the Manhattan game attests.

Besides Manhattan, Hartwick takes on such rugged foes as Colgate, Wesleyan, Scranton, Union, Maryland State, LeMoyne College of Syracuse, Kings College, Upsala, Connecticut, Army, Quantico Marines and Griffiths Air Base.

Hartwick will have played five tough games before it comes to the municipal auditorium and will be ready for the Jaspers.

Following the Manhattan game, the Hartwick cagers compete in the Christmas Holiday tournament at Sampson Air Base.

Attendance Up 9.7 Per Cent in Major Leagues

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Milwaukee and Baltimore, newest additions to major league baseball, helped the National and American Leagues to show attendance gains during 1954, officials said today.

Attendance for both leagues hit 15,953,881 last season, a gain of 9.7 per cent compared with 1953. The National League reported 8,013,517, up 8 per cent, and the American League 7,992,364, up 14 per cent.

The Milwaukee Braves had 2,131,386 for a National League record. The New York Yankees, who dropped 62,640 from 1953, led the American League with 1,475,171.

Baltimore made the big difference in the American, with a turnout of 1,060,910. Only 297,238 saw the team as the Browns in St. Louis in 1953.

LaSalle and the University of Kentucky rated 1-2 today as the top college basketball teams in the country in a pre-season Associated Press poll.

The returns were hardly announced, however, before Indiana, the defending Big 10 champion ranked No. 6, was knocked off last night by Missouri 64-61.

LaSalle captured the NCAA tournament last spring, while Kentucky was ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll after that tourney was completed. Kentucky was undefeated in the 1953-54 season, and stayed out of the NCAA tourney because three of its stars were ineligible.

Walt Dropo To Chisox

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Frank Lane, the trade-conscious Chicago White Sox general manager went after the Kansas City Athletics today in an effort to add to two deals he completed yesterday that brought three players from the Baltimore Orioles and three from the Detroit Tigers.

Without actually naming the Athletics he hoped to get, Lane left no doubt he's after third baseman Jim Finigan and pitcher Arnie Portocarrero, the two most desirable trading commodities in Manager Lou Boudreau's assortment of cellar-dwellers.

LANE FIGURED in the only two deals swung yesterday as the major league convention got under way with the National and American Leagues meeting in the same hotel but in separate rooms. The two leagues were scheduled to close out the two-day convention with a joint meeting.

The White Sox dealt off seven players to get six. First they sent pitchers Don Johnson (8-7) and Don Ferrarese (18-15 at Oakland), catcher Matt Batts (.235) and infielder Fred Marsh (.306) to Baltimore for catcher Clint Courtney (.270), pitcher Bob Chakales (5-7) and infielder Jim Brideweser (.226).

In the second transaction, Chicago acquired first baseman Walt Dropo (.281), outfielder Bob Nieman (.263) and southpaw Ted Gray (3-5) from the Tigers for first baseman Ferris Fain (.302), utility infielder Jack Phillips (.307 at Hollywood) and righthanded pitcher Leo Christante (24-7 at Atlanta).

No cash was involved in either deal.

Weak Bench Hurts Duquesne's Bid for National Cage Title

Indiana Upset By Missouri

BY ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

If Duquesne hopes to win the National basketball title this year, the club is going to have to live up to its nickname, the Iron Dukes. Coach Dudley Moore has a powerful first five at his command, but beyond the regulars, he has trouble enough to cause many a gray hair.

The Dukes, rated No. 3 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, opened their campaign last night with an easy 75-52 conquest of Carnegie Tech. Moore kept his star forward, Dick Ricketts, in for all but four minutes of the game and he scored 34 points. His younger brother Dave, making his first start as a sophomore, had six points.

The defending Big 10 champion, Indiana, had a rough night, and bowed to Missouri 64-61. It appears that the key to beating the Hoosiers is to get rid of All-America Don Schlundt.

SCHLUNDT had 25 points to lead both teams, but he was benched more than five minutes with four personal fouls.

Iowa, their heir-apparent to the Big 10 throne, and rated No. 4 in the poll, won its second straight with an 84-61 victory over Nebraska.

Dr. Phog Allen of Kansas sent four sophomores and a junior into action in the opener and they emerged with an 83-58 conquest of Louisiana State.

Tennessee Tech edged Eastern Kentucky 85-80 in five overtimes. This is a rarity but has happened several times before.

VANDERBILT reached a milestone in its backetball fortunes when it topped the 100-point mark for the first time in history in the process of downing Washington and Lee 104-88. The Commodores' previous mark was 97 set in 1953 against Georgia.

Wisconsin breezed to an 80-68 victory over Western Michigan whie the University of Detroit won its third straight, beating Bowling Green of Ohio 91-60. Loyola of Chicago whipped North Dakota State 90-75, Washington University of St. Louis turned back Mississippi State 66-44, Marquette crushed Creighton 96-68, Tulsa trounced Baylor 60-48, and Arizona edged Kansas State, 86-81, and Colorado halted Brigham Young 65-46 in other major games.

Jones Dairy No 2 Leads KWBA's Class B Group

Jones Dairy's No. 2 squad rolled the highest gross series in the KWBA's annual tournament last weekend and is leading Class B, Secretary Helen Murphy of the KWBA said today.

In Monday's report, the Cherny's squad was listed as the Class B leaders.

As the teams prepare for the second and final weekend of the tournament, Jones Dairy leads both the A and B tournaments.

THE NO. 2 SQUAD toppled a 2144 net and had 318-pin handicap pull. Shirley Buckman set the pace with 467 and Fritzi Davis shot 454.

Elizabeth Bruck compiled a hefty 550 series to pace Sealtest to third place in the Class A division of the KWBA tournament with 2414.

Miss Bruck fired solos of 179, 211 and 160. Tess Moss of the fourth place Rowe's Shoe Store toppled 529, with 212-158-159.

Phyl Gehringer furnished 501 for J. Ellis Briggs. Nellie Alverson's 485 and Rita La Rocca's 481 sparked Jones Dairy No. 1 into first place.

CYO to Sponsor Cage Clinic

Ulster county CYO will sponsor a basketball clinic tonight at 7:30 at the George Washington school gym. William T. Mahoney, CYO boys athletic chairman, has signed Coach Al Gruner of the KHS physical education staff to conduct the clinic and explain the new rules.

The CYO Junior league for boys up to the age of 16 will start Tuesday, Dec. 21, at the GWS gym. The Metropolitan league for boys up to 18 gets under way Wednesday, Dec. 15, at the municipal auditorium.

ABC Entry Deadline Is Tonight Midnight

Team captains holding reservations for the 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament at Fort Wayne, Ind., must submit their entry blanks, together with complete bowling and prize fees by midnight tonight, or they will lose their reservations.

Reservations for the tournament passed the 5100 mark on Dec. 2, according to Joe Smolen, manager of entries. The 71-day tournament, to be held March 26, through June 4 at the Fort Wayne Memorial Coliseum, is scaled to 6040 teams.

High School Opens Basketball Season Wednesday at Catskill

Kantrowitz, Baum Or Houghtaling Due

Kingston High's opening basketball game at Catskill High is only a little more than 24 hours away, but the No. 5 position on the varsity is still up for grabs, Coach G. Warren Kias said this morning.

Four positions are filled with holdover players from the 1953-54 squad that won 18 and lost 3 and missed two post-season titles by one point margins.

INVOLVED IN the three-way battle for the fifth starting post are Jack Houghtaling, a varsity reserve last year; Marty Kantrowitz, high scorer up from the Jayvees, and Donald Baum, who is out for the first time.

The big man, of course, is Skip Brodhead, an All-DUSO selection last year, and fifth in the DUSO scoring list with 303 points. He is Kingston's rebuttal to Mickey Burkoski of Newburgh, Mendy Ringel of Monticello and Monty Stickles and

SKIP BRODHEAD

Charlie Johnson of Poughkeepsie.

RAY LAWRENCE, who will hold down the pivot post, Tom Fleming and Bob Maines comprise three-fifths of the starting lineup. Houghtaling saw some action in varsity games last season.

Varsity members also include Jim Jackson, Charlie Johnson, John Woolsey, Neil Keyser, Robert Smith, Larry Johnson.

Wednesday's game will be the first for Kingston under the new version of the bonus foul rule. This year, a player is awarded a second free throw, if he makes the first on a 2-throw call. Last year, he got the second shot if he missed the first.

THE DUSO schedule makers have scheduled a major battle for Friday's opening set of games.

While Kingston draws a bye and remains idle until Dec. 14, Newburgh travels to Poughkeepsie where the pennant hope of either team will suffer an early season fracture.

In other games, Fallsburgh Central travels to Liberty; Ellenville is at Monticello and Middletown visits Port Jervis, where they are still celebrating the Thanksgiving Day football victory.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Coach Bill Burke reminds you of a guy who owns a match factory but can't get a light for a cigarette. Circumstances have contrived to keep the DUSO's coach-of-the-year award from him.

First Stan Hemingway had his run at Newburgh Academy. Then along came Sam Kalloch with last year's wonder squad. Now Roger Robinson of Port Jervis is cited for the spectacular Thanksgiving Day upset over Middletown High.

Burke's nine-year DUSO record completely overshadows his contemporaries. Year after year the Maroon either wins or is close. The legend is created that Burke has the material and should win. This season he started with two tested performers. Strangely, the man is penalized because he's too good.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

DUSO writers by a 6-4 vote picked Kingston High to reclaim its basketball laurels this season. Monticello, with All-DUSO Mendy Ringel, Ronnie Trachtenburg and Marty Schwartz, is tabbed the "sleeper." There were four different groups in Washington and New York trying to pressure Army into a Sugar Bowl acceptance —two weeks before the Navy game. . . . George Steutzle has signed Bob Laskowitz, all-time Fallsburg Central immortal, for the Pine Plains Bombardiers. . . . Cortland State Teachers has three former area high school basketball stars on the 1954-55 varsity roster: Leo Ewell, Poughkeepsie; Robert Maher, Newburgh; and George McCabe of New Paltz. . . . Dick Bezemer and Bill Haber, last year's KHS stars, have made the Rollins College (Winter Park, Fla.) varsity roster and Bezemer has a good chance to crash the starting lineup.

• Chichelsky's Tenpin Topics:

Attention team captains: Now is the time to contact your sponsor about getting your team into the annual KBA tournament. . . . Good to see Angie Fondino back from the army in the Super Major. . . . We omitted Joe Bosco from the list of whiz kids who were in service. . . . Bosco, still a sparkplug kegler, is in the Sportsmen's Major. . . . Eleanor Singer has the sharpest breaking ball among the females. . . . Big Joe Mahar is one of the friendliest bowlers—on and off the alleys. There should be more good fellowship like this on some teams. . . . Mannie's Barber Shop and the Kingston Police have a challenge match coming up soon. . . . Among the improved bowlers of the season: Jack Sheinvold, Howie Brooks, Orlando Felipe, Sam and Frank Turck. . . . Len Freer (254) and John 'Daisy' Schatzel (624) are individual leaders in the Sportsmen's Major. . . . A familiar face missing from the bowling scene—Angie Ferraro. Jim Pruden is still serious about his "retirement" but is as adept as ever in the kibitzing department. . . . Sue Heins, with 289, holds the all-time local record for a woman. Bev Port had a 288.

• Of Men and Mice:

Joe Roberge, assistant to Larry Johnson at New Paltz Central, has been appointed statistician by the Ulster Athletic League. Roberge will be in charge of league standings and missing boxscores. This is a smart move by the UCAL and will result in a lot of good publicity that otherwise might be muffed. . . . Johnny Antonelli of the Giants has joined the staff of the sponsors of the Wehle fishing contest. Since that recent item, we checked with several veteran hunters and they tell us 200-pound deer in these parts are as scarce as the honest ballot in Russia. . . . A now-it-can-be-told: When Fred Haney took over the Pirates in '53, he confided to Murray Olderman that he had only two major leaguers on his entire roster—and neither was Ralph Kiner. . . . "Why," gasped Fred, "he can't play ball at all."

Ed O'Connor, Ex-St. Patrick's Star, Leads Manhattan Against Hartwick

When Manhattan College meets Hartwick College of Oneonta in a regularly scheduled intercollegiate basketball game here on Saturday, Dec. 18, the guy to watch will be the Jaspers' big, high-scoring center, Eddie O'Connor.

The 6-foot-6 center from Newburgh will be remembered by Kingston High School fans as a star performer for St. Patrick's Academy of the Hill City before he entered Manhattan.

O'CONNOR broke the Manhattan scoring record for one season with a 426-point harvest in 25 games. He is expected to have an even better season this time around and needs 391 points to shatter the all-time Manhattan scoring mark of 1,230 points by Bob Kelly in a four-year career as a Jasper.

First Rice Award Is Taken by UCLA

New York (NEA) — Coach Red Sanders was notified that UCLA had been voted the first Grantland Rice Award.

The trophy is emblematic of the national collegiate football championship, and the Ulcans were given the call by a five-man committee appointed by the Football Writers' Association of America.

The trophy will not be ready until mid-February.

Explorers No. 1 Five, Cats 2nd

(By The Associated Press)

LaSalle and the University of Kentucky rated 1-2 today as the top college basketball teams in the country in a pre-season Associated Press poll.

The returns were hardly announced, however, before Indiana, the defending Big 10 champion ranked No. 6, was knocked off last night by Missouri 64-61.

LaSalle captured the NCAA tournament last spring, while Kentucky was ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll after that tourney was completed. Kentucky was undefeated in the 1953-54 season, and stayed out of the NCAA tourney because three of its stars were ineligible.

The leading teams with first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	La Salle (34)	549
2.	Kentucky (13)	343
3.	Duquesne (1)	288
4.	Iowa (3)	255
5.	Holy Cross (3)	210
6.	Indiana	208

The Real Leaders

Jones Dairy No 2 Leads KWBA's Class B Group

Jones Dairy's No. 2 squad rolled the highest gross series in the KWBA's annual tournament last weekend and is leading Class B, Secretary Helen Murphy of the KWBA said today.

In Monday's report, the Cherny's squad was listed as the Class B leaders.

As the teams prepare for the second and final weekend of the tournament, Jones Dairy leads both the A and B tournaments.

THE NO. 2 SQUAD toppled a 2144 net and had 318-pin handicap pull. Shirley Buckman set the pace with 467 and Fritzi Davis shot 454.

Elizabeth Bruck compiled a hefty 550 series to pace Sealtest to third place in the Class A division of the KWBA tournament with 2414.

Miss Bruck fired solos of 179, 211 and 160. Tess Moss of the fourth place Rowe's Shoe Store toppled 529, with 212-158-159.

Phyl Gehringer furnished 501 for J. Ellis Briggs. Nellie Alverson's 485 and Rita La Rocca's 481 sparked Jones Dairy No. 1 into first place.

CYO to Sponsor Cage Clinic

Ulster county CYO will sponsor a basketball clinic tonight at 7:30 at the George Washington school gym. William T. Mahoney, CYO boys athletic chairman, has signed Coach Al Gruner of the KHS physical education staff to conduct the clinic and explain the new rules.

The CYO Junior league for boys up to the age of 16 will start Tuesday, Dec. 21, at the GWS gym. The Metropolitan league for boys up to 18 gets under way Wednesday, Dec. 15, at the municipal auditorium.

ABC Entry Deadline Is Tonight Midnight

Team captains holding reservations for the 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament at Fort Wayne, Ind., must submit their entry blanks, together with complete bowling and prize fees by midnight tonight, or they will lose their reservations.

Reservations for the tournament passed the 5100 mark on Dec. 2, according to Joe Smolen, manager of entries. The 71-day tournament, to be held March 26, through June 4 at the Fort Wayne Memorial Coliseum, is scaled to 6040 teams.

Dogged Friendship

Portsmouth, Va. (AP)—Patrolman William M. Campbell is willing to believe that a dog is a man's best friend, even though the man be undeserving. Campbell left his squad car to give chase to a man accused of disorderly conduct. He was gaining rapidly when the man turned into a driveway. Campbell followed and the dog jumped him. He was released from the hospital after being treated for three bites. The pursued man escaped.

Bill McKenna, captain of Brandeis University's football team, gained 40 pounds and grew six inches during his four college years.

Butte, Mont.—Kenney Davis, 126¾, Los Angeles, stopped Dave Rollins, 126½, Detroit, 8.

DROPPING FOR A DRINK—While photographing ceremonies at the opening of the Ohio Turnpike, the pilot of this helicopter noticed his plane was running out of gas near New Castle, Pa. So he merely dropped the craft to the ground and passengers pushed it to a gas station for refueling. It was one of the station's last customers, for when the turnpike opened the station was closed.

Sport Results

ITALO Scortichini, 154½, Italy, won his third straight fight last night, pounding out a unanimous 10-round decision over Chico Varona, 153, at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Scortichini was on top of his opponent all the way and won by a 24-6 margin on the officials' cards.

BOBBY BELL, 127, Youngstown, Ohio gained an upset split decision over Carmela Costa, 129, Brooklyn last night at Eastern Parkway.

Costa was given the verdict by Judge Nick Gamboli, 5-4-1. Judge Bert Grant scored the rounds 5-5 but gave Bell a 6-5 edge in points. Referee Jack Watson voted it 8-1-1 for Bell.

BERNIE (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of the Montreal Canadiens continues to lead the National Hockey League in scoring with 19 goals and 13 assists for a total of 32 points.

IT'S A POSSIBILITY—Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, missile expert, told the Chicago chapter of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that in 10 or 15 years rocket-propelled airliners traveling 13,000 mph are a possibility. This is an artist's conception of what such a rocket airliner might look like. Dornberger is a former general in the German army.

Bishop Wants Music

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—The Most Rev. John J. Wright of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Worcester believes introduction of music such as that composed by Victor Herbert to the younger generation would nullify the danger from suggestive music with themes "of seduction and passion." Bishop Wright says such music is heard daily on radio and television and constitues a danger to the younger generation. He recently urged the Guild of Our Lady of Providence to strive for the attendance of family groups at its musical programs.

During the 1943-44 season, Dominic Scruci of Philadelphia bowled a 618 series for five consecutive weeks in the same league.

Dogged Friendship

Portsmouth, Va. (AP)—Patrolman William M. Campbell is willing to believe that a dog is a man's best friend, even though the man be undeserving. Campbell left his squad car to give chase to a man accused of disorderly conduct. He was gaining rapidly when the man turned into a driveway. Campbell followed and the dog jumped him. He was released from the hospital after being treated for three bites. The pursued man escaped.

Bill McKenna, captain of Brandeis University's football team, gained 40 pounds and grew six inches during his four college years.

Butte, Mont.—Kenney Davis, 126¾, Los Angeles, stopped Dave Rollins, 126½, Detroit, 8.

DROPPING FOR A DRINK—While photographing ceremonies at the opening of the Ohio Turnpike, the pilot of this helicopter noticed his plane was running out of gas near New Castle, Pa. So he merely dropped the craft to the ground and passengers pushed it to a gas station for refueling. It was one of the station's last customers, for when the turnpike opened the station was closed.

Sport Results

ITALO Scortichini, 154½, Italy, won his third straight fight last night, pounding out a unanimous 10-round decision over Chico Varona, 153, at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Scortichini was on top of his opponent all the way and won by a 24-6 margin on the officials' cards.

BOBBY BELL, 127, Youngstown, Ohio gained an upset split decision over Carmela Costa, 129, Brooklyn last night at Eastern Parkway.

Costa was given the verdict by Judge Nick Gamboli, 5-4-1. Judge Bert Grant scored the rounds 5-5 but gave Bell a 6-5 edge in points. Referee Jack Watson voted it 8-1-1 for Bell.

BERNIE (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of the Montreal Canadiens continues to lead the National Hockey League in scoring with 19 goals and 13 assists for a total of 32 points.

IT'S A POSSIBILITY—Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, missile expert, told the Chicago chapter of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that in 10 or 15 years rocket-propelled airliners traveling 13,000 mph are a possibility. This is an artist's conception of what such a rocket airliner might look like. Dornberger is a former general in the German army.

Bishop Wants Music

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—The Most Rev. John J. Wright of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Worcester believes introduction of music such as that composed by Victor Herbert to the younger generation would nullify the danger from suggestive music with themes "of seduction and passion." Bishop Wright says such music is heard daily on radio and television and constitues a danger to the younger generation. He recently urged the Guild of Our Lady of Providence to strive for the attendance of family groups at its musical programs.

During the 1943-44 season, Dominic Scruci of Philadelphia bowled a 618 series for five consecutive weeks in the same league.

BOWLING SCORES

Bill Johnson Slams 639

Big Bill Johnson, anchored Baker & Schatzel Painters, with a rousing 639 blast last night to take individual male honors in the city. The big fellow wrapped games of 232 and 228 around a 179 to gain the honor.

Frank Grimaldi of the same circuit shot a 254 single and 632 series.

Bespectacled Bill Murray anchored D-D's Drive-In with a 633 cluster last night to take 2nd honors in the city. He toppled lines of 202-220-211.

In the same league, Jack Blinder, who might be the Bowler of the Year, cracked 626 (223-212-191) and Ken Powell slammed 257 for the Joe Epstein squad.

Ed Trombley fired 216 and Tony La Rocca 586 in the Independent League.

Rose Schatzel maintained her female supremacy with a 561 trio in the Woman's Major. Marie Kelekian posted 203-521 in the Matinee and Marie Bechtold and Arlene Raible shared honors with 507 in the Women's Junior Major.

Jean Vines took it all with 169-154 in the BYA League.

KEN POWELL'S 257 helped him to the No. 3 series behind Murray and Blinder in the City Minor.

IT'S A POSSIBILITY—Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, missile expert, told the Chicago chapter of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that in 10 or 15 years rocket-propelled airliners traveling 13,000 mph are a possibility. This is an artist's conception of what such a rocket airliner might look like. Dornberger is a former general in the German army.

H. Van Wagenen Tops 'B' Scorers With 155 Points

Huyler Van Wagenen led the Autumn "B" League cagers with 155 points in nine games. But Don Smith of Newkirk Aces compiled the best average with 18.1 on 145 points in eight outings.

Bob Faurote of J&E Milk Bar averaged 15.4 with 129 points in eight games.

Back's Cedaraps won nine straight without a loss to sweep to their second straight Autumn title. Rapp's Express finished with a 7-2 record.

The statistics:

Bishop Wants Music

Worcester, Mass. (AP) — The Most Rev. John J. Wright of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Worcester believes introduction of music such as that composed by Victor Herbert to the younger generation would nullify the danger from suggestive music with themes "of seduction and passion." Bishop Wright says such music is heard daily on radio and television and constitues a danger to the younger generation. He recently urged the Guild of Our Lady of Providence to strive for the attendance of family groups at its musical programs.

During the 1943-44 season, Dominic Scruci of Philadelphia bowled a 618 series for five consecutive weeks in the same league.

Now is the time to buy your '55 FORD!

There will never be a better time than right now to buy your '55 Ford! You'll have the distinction of being among the first in your neighborhood with the newest of the new cars: You'll enjoy winter-long satisfaction . . . the year-around pleasure of driving the last word in automobiles. So don't put it off! Come in and see the '55 Ford's distinctive new Thunderbird styling . . . enjoy an exciting Test Drive . . . now!

New Trigger-Torque Performance in 3 mighty Engines

Whichever of Ford's three mighty engines you choose, you'll have Trigger-Torque Power at your command. You'll get extra-fast starts when you want them—you'll have greater safety from split-second passing-response—you'll enjoy all-around top performance.

For 1955, the Y-block V-8 is 162-h.p. strong with a compression ratio of 7.6 to 1, and 272 cu. in. displacement. The still mightier 182-h.p. Y-block Special V-8 has an extra-high compression ratio of 8.5 to 1, a four-barrel carburetor, and dual exhausts. This great engine is offered with the new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic Drive in Fairlane and Station Wagon models. For those who prefer Sixes, the new 120-h.p. I-block Six is the most modern in the industry.

WITH TRADITIONAL FORD ECONOMY

Case No. 25474

NOTICE OF SALE

IN PURSUANCE and by virtue of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale duly granted in the above entitled action on the 22nd day of October, 1954, and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 22nd day of October, 1954, I, RICHARD OVERBAGH, the undersigned, Referee, in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 8th day of December, 1954, at 12 o'clock Noon, (Eastern Standard Time) of that day, as one parcel and property, the premises described in said Judgment, as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the Town of Marbletown aforesaid, southerly of and adjoining what was formerly the Ashokan Road and at the corner of lands now owned by Margaret Lasher, beginning at the intersection of the formerly said Ashokan Road with the old public highway leading from Kingston to Rochester, now the corner of said Lasher, and runs from thence northwesterly following the line of said formerly Ashokan Road, now Lasher, to Esopus Creek where formerly a bridge crossed the same, thence up and along said Creek to the bounds of a lot belonging to Charles Schepp, formerly the heirs of Cornelius DeWitt, deceased, thence along said bounds to the aforesaid highway and thence along said highway to the place of beginning, containing three acres more or less.

The above lot is bounded generally west by Esopus Creek, South by line of lands of formerly Deyo Burr, now Charles Schepp East by the public highway and North by lands of said Lasher, being the first lot described in a Deed from John E. Hardenbergh, Referee, to Jesse DuBois, dated March 18, 1905, recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office, Book 386, page 570, March 23, 1905.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the resolution published herewith has been adopted by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, on the 2nd day of December, 1954, and the validity of the obligation authorized by such resolution may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Dated: West Hurley, New York, December 2, 1954.
JAMES T. McCARTY
School District Clerk

BOND RESOLUTION
DATED DECEMBER 2, 1954

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $155,000 SERIAL BONDS OF UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 5 OF THE TOWN OF HURLEY, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO AND THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE EXISTING SCHOOL BUILDING IN SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, at a special district meeting held September 3, 1954, a majority of the qualified voters of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, approved a proposition authorizing the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, at a total estimated cost of $155,000, and also authorized the levy of a tax to be collected in installments in such amount for such purpose; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds for the aforesaid purpose; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of paying the cost of the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, including incidental expenses in connection therewith, as authorized at the aforesaid special district meeting, there are hereby authorized to be issued $155,000 SCHOOL (SERIAL) BONDS, 1954, of said School District, to be dated December 1, 1954, of the denomination of $1,000 each, numbered from 1 to 155, both inclusive, maturing in numerical order in the amount of $15,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1955 to 1963, both inclusive, and $20,000 on December 1, 1964, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually June 1 and December 1. Such bonds shall be in bearer coupon form with the privilege of conversion into bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at State of New York National Bank, in Kingston, New York, which by contract is the paying agent of the issuer. Such bonds shall be signed in the name of said School District by the President of its Board of Education and by its School District Treasurer, sealed with its corporate seal, attested by its School District Clerk, and the interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of said President.

Section 2. All other matters except as provided herein relating to such bonds, shall be determined by the President of the Board of Education. Such bonds shall contain substantially the recital of validity clause provided for in Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and shall otherwise be in such form and contain such recitals, in addition to those required by Section 51.00 of the Local Finance Law, as the President of the Board of Education shall determine.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid object or purpose is, pursuant to subdivision 12 (a) (1) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, twenty years, computed from December 1, 1954, there being no bond anticipation notes issued or to be issued prior to such date.

Section 4. The faith and credit of said Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said School District a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 5. The powers and duties of advertising such bonds for sale, conducting the sale and awarding the bonds are hereby delegated to the School District Clerk, who shall advertise such bonds for sale, conduct the sale and award the bonds in such manner as he shall deem best for the interests of said School District, provided, however, that in the exercise of these delegated powers, he shall comply fully with the provisions of the Local Finance Law and any order or rule of the State Comptroller applicable to the sale of municipal bonds. The receipt of the Treasurer of said School District shall be a full acquittance to the purchaser of said bonds, who shall not be obliged to see to the application of the purchase money.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 7. This resolution, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in The Kingston Daily Freeman, together with a Clerk's certificate in substantial conformity with Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Shandaken . . .

Synod of the Reformed Church of America, having been re-elected to that office last spring at the session of General Synod held at Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

Presently serving as members of Consistory of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper as elders are Reginald Every, Ernest Gardner, Bert Winne, Sr., Charles Gustafson and serving as deacons are Orville Every, Bert Winne, Jr., Grover Hedges, Reginald Every, Jr., and George Byron.

Many of those now serving as officials of the church are direct descendants of the founders of the church.

While, according to a search among church records and also in the county clerk's office, it appears the original church structure was not located on its present site at Mt. Tremper it appears as though there was a congregation which worshipped in a church west of Mt. Tremper, which was then known as The Corner. Rev. Todd in an exhaustive search of records and from conversation of older residents of the village, told a Freeman reporter that it is a well established fact that the first church was located near the former Goldman estate on the Onteora Trail further to the west and that the church moved to its present location before the present corporate church was formed in 1854.

Relative to the forming of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper the following is transcript of a portion of the church record:

"At a meeting of a majority of the Committee chosen by the Classis of Ulster held at the Reformed Dutch Church in the town Shandaken on the third day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty four,

"present the Rev. Dr. John Gosman, Rev. Mr. Fort, convened for the purpose of organizing a Church upon due application and after the usual exercises proceeded to organize the same by the name of the Shandaken Dutch Reformed Church. The following is a list of the members who presented their certificates from the Reformed Dutch Church of Shokan and who were organized into the Church bearing the above title,

Christian Winne and wife, Annie Longyear, Christian Happy and wife, Eva Shaffer, William C. Longyear and his wife, Elizabeth Jansen, Cornelia C. G. Doll wife of Milo Barber Dis, James Delamater and his wife, Elizabeth Longyear, Henry T. Winne and his wife, Elizabeth Davis, Davis Winne, Angeline Longyear, Benj. D. Longyear and his wife, Margaret Short, Abm. J. Longyear and his wife, Martha Short, Isaac Longyear, Mariah Longyear wife of Cor. Short, Catharine Gridley wife of Edwin Conley, Abm. D. Ladew and his wife, Leah Davis, Sarah Bush wife of Henry Winne, Deborah Scutt wife to Daniel Randall (deceased), Isabella Simpson wife of Geo. F. Cross, Alexander Evens, Solomon Hudler and his wife, Anna Maria Bonestal, (1856) Milo Barber and his wife on confession of faith, (Jan. 5) Jemina Sagendorf on confession of faith, (1863) Cornelia S. Ladew wife of Dr. J. R. Froher on confession of faith.

"Of the male members the following were chosen and ordained members of the Consistory,

"Elders, Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm S. Ladew, Christian Happy. Deacons, Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm J. Longyear, Davis Winne."

1854 Consistory met at the home of A. D. Ladew, members present Elders Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm. D. Ladew, Christian Happy, Deacons Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm. J. Longyear, Davis Winne, when it was resolved 1st that we make a call upon the Rev. John W. Hammond, and that we pay one hundred and fifty dollars of a joint call with Shokan of three hundred dollars. Opened and closed with prayer by John W. Hammond."

The present church is located in the village of Mt. Tremper directly on the Onteora Trail.

Hungry? Don't Go Red

London, Dec. 7 (AP) — A man who ought to know says the chow is really lousy in the Russian army.

Lt. Mikhail Tulin, 27-year-old former Russian intelligence officer who fled to the West from East Germany, told a news conference last night:

"Soviet soldiers and officers frequently go hungry. Privates never get white bread. Their chief diet is potatoes, cabbage and porridge."

The bearded young Russian said he "had to educate my soldiers in hatred toward the capitalist countries and in love of the Communist party."

Recreation Center Burns; Is $75,000 Loss in Rhinebeck

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Rhinebeck Recreation Center building on Route 9 north of that village Monday afternoon.

State police of the Rhinebeck station said loss has been estimated tentatively at $75,000.

The building, described as a total loss, consisted of a concrete block one-story structure with a Quonset hut attached in the rear, containing bowling alleys. It is located across from the Dutchess County Fair grounds.

Ralph Traver was listed as owner of the building, according to the state police report.

The fire broke out about 2:20 p. m. Monday. No personal injuries were reported.

Central Says

Utility Commission, and the New York Public Service Commission will be asked shortly for permission to abandon the 22-train daily service on the West Shore, the Central said.

THE LINE CARRIES some 4,000 persons daily between Weehawken, N. J., to terminal points in Dumont, N. J., 13 miles away; Haverstraw, N. Y., 33 miles or Albany, 160 miles, and then on to Buffalo, N. Y.

Perlman said the Central decided to drop the commuter service on the line, as well as the ferry from Weehawken to New York city after it determined there was no hope of eliminating losses from the operations.

He said the line and ferry cost more than two million dollars a year and asserted it is not fair or business-like to take that much away from the shareholders.

THE PRESIDENT cited the present alternate transportation routes—by bus and private auto across tunnel and bridge facilities— which commuters can use. In addition, he pointed out that a third tube of the Lincoln Tunnel and a New York Thruway bridge across from Rockland county are under construction for additional trans-Hudson commuting.

Commuter groups in populous Bergen county, N. J., already have announced plans to fight the abandonment of commuter service on the West Shore line.

Grand Union Sales

The Grand Union Company sales for the four week period ended November 27, 1954 were $17,168,666. This compares with $16,017,977 in the comparable period in 1953, an increase of 7.2 per cent. Sales for the 39 weeks ended Nov. 27, 1954 were $162,929,561 compared with $150,394,373 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of 8.3 per cent.

To Have Conference

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

States Ponder

quate to deter any would-be violators, if properly enforced.

BEARDSLEY SAID the chief effect of the court decision probably will be to bring somewhat stricter enforcement by states of their penalties.

He said he did not expect many states to go before the ICC and seek to suspend or revoke truckers' permits. Such action, he added, probably would be successful only in cases of extreme violations and it would be hard to find and prove that truckers "deliberately flouted the law."

In the Illinois case, involving the Hayes Freight Lines of Springfield, Beardsley said 157 violations were charged out of 60,000 trips. But only two of these violations involved gross weight, while all the others concerned only weight per axle. He said shifting cargoes frequently can cause a violation of actual weight limits although the trucker does not profit at all because he is well within the total limit for a single vehicle.

There are between 2,000,000 and 7,000,000 lepers in the world, according to the world Health Organization.

stall a television set in the Pope's bedchamber so he can watch tomorrow's rite ending the observance of the Marian year.

The Pontiff inaugurated the year dedicated to the Virgin Mary last Dec. 8 and had planned "if God wishes it" to take part in the closing ceremonies at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major, to his deep disappointment, his illness prevented his participation.

But at about 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, after Eugene Cardinal Tisserant gives a benediction in the Pontiff's name to worshippers in the basilica, Pius will recite an Ave Maria and his blessing "to the city and the world" over Vatican radio. A microphone is being installed in his room for the occasion.

It will be the Pope's second brief broadcast in four days. With a microphone suspended over his bed, he spoke a blessing Sunday to the people of Rome. The occasion was a veneration ceremony for Placido Riccardo, an Italian Benedictine monk who had been beatified earlier in the day.

NOTICE OF SALE

IN PURSUANCE and by virtue of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale duly granted in the above entitled action on the 22nd day of October, 1954, and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 22nd day of October, 1954, I, RICHARD OVERBAGH, the undersigned, Referee, in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 8th day of December, 1954, at 12 o'clock Noon, (Eastern Standard Time) of that day, as one parcel and property, the premises described in said Judgment, as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the Town of Marbletown aforesaid, southerly of and adjoining what was formerly the Ashokan Road and at the corner of lands now owned by Margaret Lasher, beginning at the intersection of the formerly said Ashokan Road with the old public highway leading from Kingston to Rochester, now the corner of said Lasher, and runs from thence northwesterly following the line of said formerly Ashokan Road, now Lasher, to Esopus Creek where formerly a bridge crossed the same, thence up and along said Creek to the bounds of a lot belonging to Charles Schepp, formerly the heirs of Cornelius DeWitt, deceased, thence along said bounds to the aforesaid highway and thence along said highway to the place of beginning, containing three acres more or less.

The above lot is bounded generally west by Esopus Creek, South by line of lands of formerly Deyo Burr, now Charles Schepp East by the public highway and North by lands of said Lasher, being the first lot described in a Deed from John E. Hardenbergh, Referee, to Jesse DuBois, dated March 18, 1905, recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office, Book 386, page 570, March 23, 1905.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the resolution published herewith has been adopted by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, on the 2nd day of December, 1954, and the validity of the obligation authorized by such resolution may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or if the provisions of law which should have been compiled with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Dated: West Hurley, New York, December 2, 1954.

JAMES T. McCARTY
School District Clerk

BOND RESOLUTION

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $155,000 SERIAL BONDS OF UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 5 OF THE TOWN OF HURLEY, ULSTER COUNTY NEW YORK, FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO AND THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE EXISTING SCHOOL BUILDING IN SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, at a special district meeting held September 3, 1954, a majority of the qualified voters of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, approved a proposition authorizing the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, at a total estimated cost of $155,000, and also authorized the levy of a tax to be collected in installments in such amount for such purpose; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds for the aforesaid purpose; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of paying the cost of the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, including incidental expenses in connection therewith, as authorized at the aforesaid special district meeting, there are hereby authorized to be issued $155,000 SCHOOL (SERIAL) BONDS, 1954, of said School District, to be dated December 1, 1954, of the denomination of $1,000 each, numbered from 1 to 155, both inclusive, maturing in numerical order in the amount of $15,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1955 to 1963, both inclusive, and $20,000 on December 1, 1964, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually June 1 and December 1. Such bonds shall be in bearer coupon form with the privilege of conversion into bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at State of New York National Bank, in Kingston, New York, which by contract is the paying agent of the issuer. Such bonds shall be signed in the name of said School District by the President of its Board of Education and by its School District Treasurer, sealed with its corporate seal, attested by its School District Clerk, and the interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of said President.

Section 2. All other matters except as provided herein relating to such bonds, shall be determined by the President of the Board of Education. Such bonds shall contain substantially the recital of validity clause provided for in Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and shall otherwise be in such form and contain such recitals, in addition to those required by Section 51.00 of the Local Finance Law, as the President of the Board of Education shall determine.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid object or purpose is, pursuant to subdivision 12 (a) (1) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, twenty years, computed from December 1, 1954, there being no bond anticipation notes issued or to be issued prior to such date.

Section 4. The faith and credit of said Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said School District a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 5. The powers and duties of advertising such bonds for sale, conducting the sale and awarding the bonds are hereby delegated to the School District Clerk, who shall advertise such bonds for sale, conduct the sale and award the bonds in such manner as he shall deem best for the interests of said School District, provided, however, that in the exercise of these delegated powers, he shall comply fully with the provisions of the Local Finance Law and any order or rule of the State Comptroller applicable to the sale of municipal bonds. The receipt of the Treasurer of said School District shall be a full acquittance to the purchaser of said bonds, who shall not be obliged to see to the application of the purchase money.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 7. This resolution, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in The Kingston Daily Freeman, together with a Clerk's certificate in substantial conformity with Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Shandaken . . .

Synod of the Reformed Church of America, having been re-elected to that office last spring at the session of General Synod held at Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

Presently serving as members of Consistory of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper as elders are Reginald Every, Ernest Gardner, Bert Winne, Sr., Charles Gustafsón and serving as deacons are Orville Every, Bert Winne, Jr., Grover Hedges, Reginald Every, Jr., and George Byron.

Many of those now serving as officials of the church are direct descendants of the founders of the church.

While, according to a search among church records and also in the county clerk's office, it appears the original church structure was not located on its present site at Mt. Tremper it appears as though there was a congregation which worshipped in a church west of Mt. Tremper, which was then known as The Corner. Rev. Todd in an exhaustive search of records and from conversation of older residents of the village, told a Freeman reporter that it is a well established fact that the first church was located near the former Goldman estate on the Onteora Trail further to the west and that the church moved to its present location before the present corporate church was formed in 1854.

Relative to the forming of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper the following is transcript of a portion of the church record:

"At a meeting of a majority of the Committee chosen by the Classis of Ulster held at the Reformed Dutch Church in the town Shandaken on the third day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty four,

"present the Rev. Dr. John Gosman, Rev. Mr. Fort, convened for the purpose of organizing a Church upon due application and after the usual exercises proceeded to organize the same by the name of the Shandaken Dutch Reformed Church. The following is a list of the members who presented their certificates from the Reformed Dutch Church of Shokan and who were organized into the Church bearing the above title,

Christian Winne and wife, Annie Longyear, Christian Happy and wife, Eva Shaffer, William C. Longyear and his wife, Elizabeth Jansen, Cornelia C. G. Doll wife of Milo Barber Dis, James Delamater and his wife, Elizabeth Longyear, Henry T. Winne and his wife, Elizabeth Davis, Davis Winne, Angeline Longyear, Benj. D. Longyear and his wife, Margaret Short, Abm. J. Longyear and his wife, Martha Short, Isaac Longyear, Mariah Longyear wife of Cor. Short, Catharine Gridley wife of Edwin Conley, Abm. D. Ladew and his wife, Leah Davis, Sarah Bush wife of Henry Winne, Deborah Scutt wife to Daniel Randall (deceased), Isabella Simpson wife of Geo. F. Cross, Alexander Evens, Solomon Hudler and his wife, Anna Maria Bonestal, (1856) Milo Barber and his wife on confession of faith, (Jan. 5) Jemina Sagendorf on confession of faith, (1863) Cornelia S. Ladew wife of Dr. J. R. Froher on confession of faith.

"Of the male members the following were chosen and ordained members of the Consistory,

"Elders, Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm S. Ladew, Christian Happy. Deacons, Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm J. Longyear, Davis Winne."

1854 Consistory met at the home of A. D. Ladew, members present Elders Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm. D. Ladew, Christian Happy, Deacons Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm. J. Longyear, Davis Winne, when it was resolved 1st that we make a call upon the Rev. John W. Hammond, and that we pay one hundred and fifty dollars of a joint call with Shokan of three hundred dollars. Opened and closed with prayer by John W. Hammond."

The present church is located in the village of Mt. Tremper directly on the Onteora Trail.

Hungry? Don't Go Red

London, Dec. 7 (AP) — A man who ought to know says the chow is really lousy in the Russian army.

Lt. Mikhail Tulin, 27-year-old former Russian intelligence officer who fled to the West from East Germany, told a news conference last night:

"Soviet soldiers and officers frequently go hungry. Privates never get white bread. Their chief diet is potatoes, cabbage and porridge."

The bearded young Russian said he "had to educate my soldiers in hatred toward the capitalist countries and in love of the Communist party."

Recreation Center Burns; Is $75,000 Loss in Rhinebeck

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Rhinebeck Recreation Center building on Route 9 north of that village Monday afternoon.

State police of the Rhinebeck station said loss has been estimated tentatively at $75,000.

The building, described as a total loss, consisted of a concrete block one-story structure with a Quonset hut attached in the rear, containing bowling alleys. It is located across from the Dutchess County Fair grounds.

Ralph Traver was listed as owner of the building, according to the state police report.

The fire broke out about 2:20 p. m. Monday. No personal injuries were reported.

Central Says

Utility Commission, and the New York Public Service Commission will be asked shortly for permission to abandon the 22-train daily service on the West Shore, the Central said.

THE LINE CARRIES some 4,000 persons daily between Weehawken, N. J., to terminal points in Dumont, N. J., 13 miles away; Haverstraw, N. Y., 33 miles or Albany, 160 miles, and then on to Buffalo, N. Y.

Perlman said the Central decided to drop the commuter service on the line, as well as the ferry from Weehawken to New York city after it determined there was no hope of eliminating losses from the operations.

He said the line and ferry cost more than two million dollars a year and asserted it is not fair or business-like to take that much away from the shareholders.

THE PRESIDENT cited the present alternate transportation routes—by bus and private auto across tunnel and bridge facilities— which commuters can use. In addition, he pointed out that a third tube of the Lincoln Tunnel and a New York Thruway bridge across from Rockland county are under construction for additional trans-Hudson commuting.

Commuter groups in populous Bergen county, N. J., already have announced plans to fight the abandonment of commuter service on the West Shore line.

Grand Union Sales

The Grand Union Company sales for the four week period ended November 27, 1954 were $17,168,666. This compares with $16,017,977 in the comparable period in 1953, an increase of 7.2 per cent. Sales for the 39 weeks ended Nov. 27, 1954 were $162,929,561 compared with $150,394,373 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of 8.3 per cent.

To Have Conference

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

States Ponder

quate to deter any would-be violators, if properly enforced.

BEARDSLEY SAID the chief effect of the court decision probably will be to bring somewhat stricter enforcement by states of their penalties.

He said he did not expect many states to go before the ICC and seek to suspend or revoke truckers' permits. Such action, he added, probably would be successful only in cases of extreme violations and it would be hard to find and prove that truckers "deliberately flouted the law."

In the Illinois case, involving the Hayes Freight Lines of Springfield, Beardsley said 157 violations were charged out of 60,000 trips. But only two of these violations involved gross weight, while all the others concerned only weight per axle. He said shifting cargoes frequently can cause a violation of actual weight limits although the trucker does not profit at all because he is well within the total limit for a single vehicle.

There are between 2,000,000 and 7,000,000 lepers in the world, according to the world Health Organization.

Pope Takes . . .

stall a television set in the Pope's bedchamber so he can watch tomorrow's rite ending the observance of the Marian year.

The Pontiff inaugurated the year dedicated to the Virgin Mary last Dec. 8 and had planned "if God wishes it" to take part in the closing ceremonies at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major, to his deep disappointment, his illness prevented his participation.

But at about 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, after Eugene Cardinal Tisserant gives a benediction in the Pontiff's name to worshippers in the basilica, Pius will recite an Ave Maria and his blessing "to the city and the world" over Vatican radio. A microphone is being installed in his room for the occasion.

It will be the Pope's second brief broadcast in four days. With a microphone suspended over his bed, he spoke a blessing Sunday to the people of Rome. The occasion was a veneration ceremony for Placido Riccardo, an Italian Benedictine monk who had been beatified earlier in the day.

NOTICE OF SALE

IN PURSUANCE and by virtue of a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale duly granted in the above entitled action on the 22nd day of October, 1954, and entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 22nd day of October, 1954, I, RICHARD OVERBAGH, the undersigned, Referee, in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 8th day of December, 1954, at 12 o'clock Noon, (Eastern Standard Time) of that day, as one parcel and property, the premises described in said Judgment, as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the Town of Marbletown aforesaid, southerly of and adjoining what was formerly the Ashokan Road and at the corner of lands now owned by Margaret Lasher, beginning at the intersection of the formerly said Ashokan Road with the old public highway leading from Kingston to Rochester, now the corner of said Lasher, and runs from thence northwesterly following the line of said formerly Ashokan Road, now Lasher, to Esopus Creek where formerly a bridge crossed the same, thence up and along said Creek to the bounds of a lot belonging to Charles Schepp, formerly the heirs of Cornelius DeWitt, deceased, thence along said bounds to the aforesaid highway and thence along said highway to the place of beginning, containing three acres more or less.

The above lot is bounded generally west by Esopus Creek, South by line of lands of formerly Deyo Burr, now Charles Schepp East by the public highway and North by lands of said Lasher, being the first lot described in a Deed from John E. Hardenbergh, Referee, to Jesse DuBois, dated March 18, 1905, recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office, Book 386, page 570, March 23, 1905.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the resolution published herewith has been adopted by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, on the 2nd day of December, 1954, and the validity of the obligation authorized by such resolution may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Dated: West Hurley, New York, December 2, 1954.

JAMES T. McCARTY
School District Clerk

BOND RESOLUTION

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $155,000 SERIAL BONDS OF UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 5 OF THE TOWN OF HURLEY, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO AND THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE EXISTING SCHOOL BUILDING IN SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, at a special district meeting held September 3, 1954, a majority of the qualified voters of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, approved a proposition authorizing the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, at a total estimated cost of $155,000, and also authorized the levy of a tax to be collected in installments in such amount for such purpose; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds for the aforesaid purpose; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. For the purpose of paying the cost of the construction and equipment of an addition to and the reconstruction of the existing school building in said School District, including incidental expenses in connection therewith, as authorized at the aforesaid special district meeting, there are hereby authorized to be issued $155,000 SCHOOL (SERIAL) BONDS, 1954, of said School District, to be dated December 1, 1954, of the denomination of $1,000 each, numbered from 1 to 155, both inclusive, maturing in numerical order in the amount of $15,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1955 to 1963, both inclusive, and $20,000 on December 1, 1964, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually June 1 and December 1. Such bonds shall be in bearer coupon form with the privilege of conversion into bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at State of New York National Bank, in Kingston, New York, which by contract is the paying agent of the Issuer. Such bonds shall be signed in the name of said School District by the President of its Board of Education and by its School District Treasurer, sealed with its corporate seal, attested by its School District Clerk, and the interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of said President.

Section 2. All other matters except as provided herein relating to such bonds, shall be determined by the President of the Board of Education. Such bonds shall contain substantially the recital of validity clause provided for in Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and shall otherwise be in such form and contain such recitals, in addition to those required by Section 51.00 of the Local Finance Law, as the President of the Board of Education shall determine.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid object or purpose is, pursuant to subdivision 12 (a) (1) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, twenty years, computed from December 1, 1954, there being no bond anticipation notes issued or to be issued prior to such date.

Section 4. The faith and credit of said Union Free School District No. 5 of the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said School District a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 5. The powers and duties of advertising such bonds for sale, conducting the sale and awarding the bonds are hereby delegated to the School District Clerk, who shall advertise such bonds for sale, conduct the sale and award the bonds in such manner as he shall deem best for the interests of said School District, provided, however, that in the exercise of these delegated powers, he shall comply fully with the provisions of the Local Finance Law and any order or rule of the State Comptroller applicable to the sale of municipal bonds. The receipt of the Treasurer of said School District shall be a full acquittance to the purchaser of said bonds, who shall not be obliged to see to the application of the purchase money.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 7. This resolution, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in The Kingston Daily Freeman, together with a Clerk's certificate in substantial conformity with Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Shandaken . . .

Synod of the Reformed Church of America, having been re-elected to that office last spring at the session of General Synod held at Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

Presently serving as members of Consistory of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper as elders are Reginald Every, Ernest Gardner, Bert Winne, Sr., Charles Gustafsón and serving as deacons are Orville Every, Bert Winne, Jr., Grover Hedges, Reginald Every, Jr., and George Byron.

Many of those now serving as officials of the church are direct descendants of the founders of the church.

While, according to a search among church records and also in the county clerk's office, it appears the original church structure was not located on its present site at Mt. Tremper it appears as though there was a congregation which worshipped in a church west of Mt. Tremper, which was then known as The Corner. Rev. Todd in an exhaustive search of records and from conversation of older residents of the village, told a Freeman reporter that it is a well established fact that the first church was located near the former Goldman estate on the Onteora Trail further to the west and that the church moved to its present location before the present corporate church was formed in 1854.

Relative to the forming of the Shandaken Reformed Church at Mt. Tremper the following is transcript of a portion of the church record:

"At a meeting of a majority of the Committee chosen by the Classis of Ulster held at the Reformed Dutch Church in the town Shandaken on the third day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty four,

"present the Rev. Dr. John Gosman, Rev. Mr. Fort, convened for the purpose of organizing a Church upon due application and after the usual exercises proceeded to organize the same by the name of the Shandaken Dutch Reformed Church. The following is a list of the members who presented their certificates from the Reformed Dutch Church of Shokan and who were organized into the Church bearing the above title, Christian Winne and wife, Annie Longyear, Christian Happy and wife, Eva Shaffer, William C. Longyear and his wife, Elizabeth Jansen, Cornelia C. G. Doll wife of Milo Barber Dis, James Delamater and his wife, Elizabeth Longyear, Henry T. Winne and his wife, Elizabeth Davis, Davis Winne, Angeline Longyear, Benj. D. Longyear and his wife, Margaret Short, Abm. J. Longyear and his wife, Martha Short, Isaac Longyear, Mariah Longyear wife of Cor. Short, Catharine Gridley wife of Edwin Conley, Abm. D. Ladew and his wife, Leah Davis, Sarah Bush wife of Henry Winne, Deborah Scutt wife to Daniel Randall (deceased), Isabella Simpson wife of Geo. F. Cross, Alexander Evens, Solomon Hudler and his wife, Anna Maria Bonestal, (1856) Milo Barber and his wife on confession of faith, (Jan. 5) Jemina Sagendorf on confession of faith, (1863) Cornelia S. Ladew wife of Dr. J. R. Froher on confession of faith.

"Of the male members the following were chosen and ordained members of the Consistory,

"Elders, Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm S. Ladew, Christian Happy. Deacons, Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm J. Longyear, Davis Winne."

1854 Consistory met at the home of A. D. Ladew, members present Elders Christian Winne, Wm. C. Longyear, Abm. D. Ladew, Christian Happy, Deacons Benj. D. Longyear, James Delamater, Abm. J. Longyear, Davis Winne, when it was resolved 1st that we make a call upon the Rev. John W. Hammond, and that we pay one hundred and fifty dollars of a joint call with Shokan of three hundred dollars. Opened and closed with prayer by John W. Hammond."

The present church is located in the village of Mt. Tremper directly on the Onteora Trail.

Hungry? Don't Go Red

London, Dec. 7 (AP) — A man who ought to know says the chow is really lousy in the Russian army.

Lt. Mikhail Tulin, 27-year-old former Russian intelligence officer who fled to the West from East Germany, told a news conference last night:

"Soviet soldiers and officers frequently go hungry. Privates never get white bread. Their chief diet is potatoes, cabbage and porridge."

The bearded young Russian said he "had to educate my soldiers in hatred toward the capitalist countries and in love of the Communist party."

Recreation Center Burns; Is $75,000 Loss in Rhinebeck

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Rhinebeck Recreation Center building on Route 9 north of that village Monday afternoon.

State police of the Rhinebeck station said loss has been estimated tentatively at $75,000.

The building, described as a total loss, consisted of a concrete block one-story structure with a Quonset hut attached in the rear, containing bowling alleys. It is located across from the Dutchess County Fair grounds.

Ralph Traver was listed as owner of the building, according to the state police report.

The fire broke out about 2:20 p. m. Monday. No personal injuries were reported.

Central Says

Utility Commission, and the New York Public Service Commission will be asked shortly for permission to abandon the 22-train daily service on the West Shore, the Central said.

THE LINE CARRIES some 4,000 persons daily between Weehawken, N. J., to terminal points in Dumont, N. J., 13 miles away; Haverstraw, N. Y., 33 miles or Albany, 160 miles, and then on to Buffalo, N. Y.

Perlman said the Central decided to drop the commuter service on the line, as well as the ferry from Weehawken to New York city after it determined there was no hope of eliminating losses from the operations.

He said the line and ferry cost more than two million dollars a year and asserted it is not fair or business-like to take that much away from the shareholders.

THE PRESIDENT cited the present alternate transportation routes—by bus and private auto across tunnel and bridge facilities— which commuters can use. In addition, he pointed out that a third tube of the Lincoln Tunnel and a New York Thruway bridge across from Rockland county are under construction for additional trans-Hudson commuting.

Commuter groups in populous Bergen county, N. J., already have announced plans to fight the abandonment of commuter service on the West Shore line.

Grand Union Sales

The Grand Union Company sales for the four week period ended November 27, 1954 were $17,168,666. This compares with $16,017,977 in the comparable period in 1953, an increase of 7.2 per cent. Sales for the 39 weeks ended Nov. 27, 1954 were $162,929,561 compared with $150,394,373 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of 8.3 per cent.

To Have Conference

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

States Ponder

quate to deter any would-be violators, if properly enforced.

BEARDSLEY SAID the chief effect of the court decision probably will be to bring somewhat stricter enforcement by states of their penalties.

He said he did not expect many states to go before the ICC and seek to suspend or revoke truckers' permits. Such action, he added, probably would be successful only in cases of extreme violations and it would be hard to find and prove that truckers "deliberately flouted the law."

In the Illinois case, involving the Hayes Freight Lines of Springfield, Beardsley said 157 violations were charged out of 60,000 trips. But only two of these violations involved gross weight, while all the others concerned only weight per axle. He said shifting cargoes frequently can cause a violation of actual weight limits although the trucker does not profit at all because he is well within the total limit for a single vehicle.

There are between 2,000,000 and 7,000,000 lepers in the world, according to the world Health Organization.

Pope Takes . . .

stall a television set in the Pope's bedchamber so he can watch tomorrow's rite ending the observance of the Marian year.

The Pontiff inaugurated the year dedicated to the Virgin Mary last Dec. 8 and had planned "if God wishes it" to take part in the closing ceremonies at Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major, to his deep disappointment, his illness prevented his participation.

But at about 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, after Eugene Cardinal Tisserant gives a benediction in the Pontiff's name to worshippers in the basilica, Pius will recite an Ave Maria and his blessing "to the city and the world" over Vatican radio. A microphone is being installed in his room for the occasion.

It will be the Pope's second brief broadcast in four days. With a microphone suspended over his bed, he spoke a blessing Sunday to the people of Rome. The occasion was a veneration ceremony for Placido Riccardo, an Italian Benedictine monk who had been beatified earlier in the day.

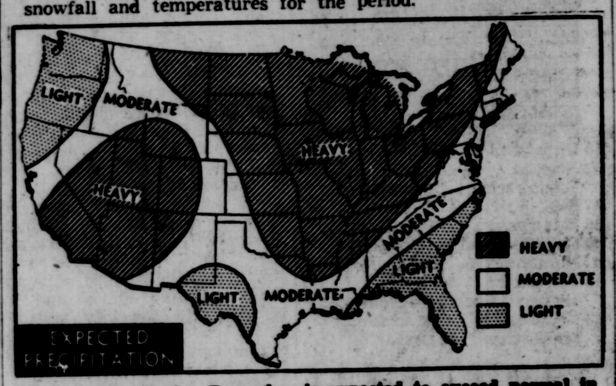
Wet Weather Is Outlook

The weather maps below give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast for December. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense but an ESTIMATE of the average rain or snowfall and temperatures for the period.



Precipitation during December is expected to exceed normal in most of the nation except for southwest, northwest and southeast.

Temperatures during December will be above normal in eastern half of U. S. with biggest departures in Great Lakes area.

Snow Upstate

change was seen for Wednesday.

The bureau reported these overnight lows:

Buffalo, 18; Massena, Glens Falls and Hempstead (Mitchell Air Force Base) 15; Watertown and Utica, 12; Elmira, 16; Rome, 13; Newburgh (Stewart AFB) 10; New York city and Rochester, 17; Syracuse, 15 and Albany, 14.

Would Divorce Pair

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—Most of the nation's major railroads have agreed to divorce the pay of 825,000 non-operating employes from monthly cost-of-living figures—thus canceling a scheduled one-cent hourly pay cut. Under the agreement, announced yesterday by a spokesman for 15 non-operating rail unions, a 13-cent advance in hourly wages since the cost-of-living escalator clause was set up in 1951 will become part of the basic wage scale. The escalator clause was discarded as of last Friday. Engineers and other operating unions had abandoned a similar clause earlier this year.

Keep Baby Upright

Los Angeles, Dec. 7 (AP)—Keep the baby upright, particularly after feeding him, if you want to minimize vomiting, a Cincinnati doctor who studied X-rays of more than 100 infantile stomachs advised today. Persistent vomiting, Dr. Frederic N. Silverman reported, may cause serious trouble, even death by starvation. It also may result in injury to the diaphragm for which some doctors advocate surgery, he added.

Reports Hit-Run Incident

Al Gruner of 185 Green street reported to police headquarters at 5:59 p. m. yesterday that his 1951 sedan had been struck and damaged on Wilbur avenue at O'Reilly street by what he believes to have been a light blue or gray passenger car. The driver failed to stop, Gruner said. He told police his car was damaged about the rear fender and bumper.

least two more days of cold were predicted for the east.

A rise of 10 to 15 degrees was reported in the eastern plains.

Outside the freezing zone temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s with a few 60s in the southwest.

SIX DEATHS were attributed to over-exertion in southern New England's first snow of the season. The victims, all men between 55 and 80, suffered heart attacks while walking in the snow, doing manual labor or shoveling snow.

The unseasonal cold and stormy weather in the eastern half of the country over the weekend caused at least 28 deaths in all, directly or indirectly. Thirteen persons died in three separate fires which were traced to defective heaters.

Precipitation early today was confined to the extreme northeastern and northwestern parts of the country. Light to moderate snow continued over northern New England with flurries in New York state. Light showers fell in western Washington, while light snow flurries were reported over the Missouri Valley.

Dies of Heart Attack

Madrid, Spain, Dec. 7 (AP)—Jose Maria Lopez Mezquita, famous Spanish painter, died yesterday from a heart attack. He was 71. A member of the Hispanic Society of New York, many of his paintings hang in the society's headquarters.

Fear Is Felt . . .

Ricco, 40, by crushing him against an elevated pillar, but instead tipped off police to the women's scheme for collecting more than $100,000 in insurance.

Silver declared in Bronx Magistrates Court that "the plot was so diabolical it soars beyond the imagination." He said he is afraid for the life of Ricco yet, and added:

"We know others had been approached to do the job. . . . I am fearful for the cab driver, fearful for a sister of one of the defendants."

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS had sought to obtain a bail reduction for Ricco's wife, Mrs. Patricia Ricco, 30, and Miss Media Rainey, 25, both of whom are being held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

The third defendant, Miss Rainey's sister, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, is free in $1,000 bail.

Magistrate Frederick L. Strong rejected the pleas for lesser bail.

Earlier, Ricco continued to insist that his wife was innocent of plotting his murder, but Silver said she was heard joking with one of the alleged conspirators about becoming a widow.

Silver quoted what he said was a tapped phone conversation between the wife and Miss Rainey.

Silver said Miss Rainey told Mrs. Ricco:

"You ought to treat him nice tonight. He'll not be with us after the weekend. You'll look good in black shortly."

Then both women laughed, Silver said.

The aleged plot was exposed by a taxi driver who reportedly was supposed to crush Ricco with his cab. Silver said he has evidence that Miss Rainey threatened the cabbie when she feared he was "trying to back out" of the alleged insurance and damage suit plot.

"There are ways of taking care of you," Silver quoted her as saying to the taxi driver.

After visiting his wife in the Women's House of Detention yesterday, Ricco came away saying, "She swore she's innocent and I know she is."

Ricco, 38, also said she told him she was "sorry that Media ever entered our lives."

Would Divorce Pair

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—Most of the nation's major railroads have agreed to divorce the pay of 825,000 non-operating employes from monthly cost-of-living figures—thus canceling a scheduled one-cent hourly pay cut. Under the agreement, announced yesterday by a spokesman for 15 non-operating rail unions, a 13-cent advance in hourly wages since the cost-of-living escalator clause was set up in 1951 will become part of the basic wage scale. The escalator clause was discarded as of last Friday. Engineers and other operating unions had abandoned a similar clause earlier this year.

Fear Is Felt . . .

Ricco, 40, by crushing him against an elevated pillar, but instead tipped off police to the women's scheme for collecting more than $100,000 in insurance.

Silver declared in Bronx Magistrates Court that "the plot was so diabolical it soars beyond the imagination." He said he is afraid for the life of Ricco yet, and added:

"We know others had been approached to do the job. . . . I am fearful for the cab driver, fearful for a sister of one of the defendants."

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS had sought to obtain a bail reduction for Ricco's wife, Mrs. Patricia Ricco, 30, and Miss Media Rainey, 25, both of whom are being held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

The third defendant, Miss Rainey's sister, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, is free in $1,000 bail.

Magistrate Frederick L. Strong rejected the pleas for lesser bail.

Earlier, Ricco continued to insist that his wife was innocent of plotting his murder, but Silver said she was heard joking with one of the alleged conspirators about becoming a widow.

Silver quoted what he said was a tapped phone conversation between the wife and Miss Rainey.

Silver said Miss Rainey told Mrs. Ricco:

"You ought to treat him nice tonight. He'll not be with us after the weekend. You'll look good in black shortly."

Then both women laughed, Silver said.

The aleged plot was exposed by a taxi driver who reportedly was supposed to crush Ricco with his cab. Silver said he has evidence that Miss Rainey threatened the cabbie when she feared he was "trying to back out" of the alleged insurance and damage suit plot.

"There are ways of taking care of you," Silver quoted her as saying to the taxi driver.

After visiting his wife in the Women's House of Detention yesterday, Ricco came away saying, "She swore she's innocent and I know she is."

Ricco, 38, also said she told him she was "sorry that Media ever entered our lives."
